ns including those our

American compose in the British Tr

hael Parkinson Days in nated at thousands of per

1 said: "I ran the bah, ned my wife in New Yo

pletely forgot about the

He apologized and still ld pay to repair the dates

woman abandoned & ? 6

er, 32, who teaches might to 10th graders in Cole:

h Carolina, was bonnia vietnamese woman and man who had been too Waffen SS and fled one e closing days of World

mt to French Indochate

ch Foreign Legion, least er's mother, who ded also er younger brother web-aid last fall. "My fate:

rother and me to 1 (te essman who planned by haldless Chinese come

But French authorities

ing for the children at essman, fearing area; hildren to a Chines se

on a sampan on the le

, she related. Authorite

ed the severely under

to a French orphane

Army adviser and last ed them and brought

AUTOS TAX PET

MERCEDES

500 SEL

500 SEC

500 SL

All core immediate and Ex Manual - Was Great come are word no Bas Our serves

OFFICIAL POLICIES MINISTER FOR FELLENCE

TAX FREE CAS

110 5060 110 506 182 2-671 31 17 184 2037

10 YEARS

We Deirest Cas to the list

Security of the security of th

DAWAJI TRAE INT! DELIVER

As were a long and most and said Still called about at me ten.

(25) Brosses

EUROPORT TAX

FREE CARS

TRANSCO

ROLLS ROYCE 昭都

RANGE and LANDERS

children and tuned 6

ZURICH, MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1985

ESTABLISHED 1887

Nimeiri Deposed J. S. mstory: in the confess. I and afterward. De Lores. bundreds of thousands of in legal fees; his wife the care, filed for divorce in ime a born-again China By Sudan Military After 16-Year Rule ton John left his bath no London's Savoy Head; rsday and flooded three

CAIRO - President Gasfar Nimeiri of Sudan was overthrown this weekend in a military coup. He had communique that they wanted to ruled the country for nearly 16 build roads and bridges in an at-years and had just completed a visit tempt to end the isolation of southto Washington in an effort to shore em Sudan, which has mineral aboard the Sudanese presidential jet on his way home when his defense minister, General Abdul Rahman Mohammed Hassan Swareddahab, relieved him and his woman ananone sie // ietnam has won the hang profession's highest he 1985 Nanonal fact of Year award. There is a ho leacher with aides of their posts early Saturday morning. General Nimeiri got off the plane in Cairo, where he remained in exile.

dered the arrests of former minis- that there were no signs of Libyan ters in the Nimeiri government and or Ethiopian involvement in the the dismantling of the internal coup.
State Security Police, according to Bu SUNA, the official Sudanese news

Sunday by the state-run Omdurman radio and monitored in Nairo- much trouble in recent years. bi, the coup leaders said they want-ed "a democratic Sudan." General Swareddahab had said in an earlier statement that he would hand over try in Africa and a vital strategic power to a civilian government after "an interim period" of about six eight other nations. General Ni-day said that life was quickly re-turning to normal following wild street celebrations in support of the new military regime. reported littered with crumpled al Nimeiri. But the airport re-

By Jonathan C. Randal

Washington Post Service PARIS - In announcing that it was "temporarily" seizing power from President Gaafar Nimeri, the Sudanese Army followed the classic African coup pattern. The military left obliged to promise a return to civiliza rule.

Whatever happens - and contemporary Third World history is strewn with examples of armed forces remaining in power after similar pledges — the immediate tions were still cut. The new rulers said in Sunday's up his faltering government.

Major General Nimeiri, a longtime ally of the United States, was wealth and where a rebellion has gained strength since General Nimeiri introduced Islamic law in wealth and where a rebellion has September 1983.

General Swareddahab banned General Nimeiri from returning to Sudan, where protests against in-creases in food prices had virtually paralyzed the capital for several

U.S. officials in Washington said nained in exile.

that General Swareddahab seemed to be "an establishment figure" and

But the officials said they were worried about the untested ability of the new leader to handle the In a communique broadcast economic and political problems unday by the state-run Omdur-that had caused General Nimeiri

The United States considered General Nimeiri a close and valuable ally. Sudan is the largest counmeiri was one of the few Arab lead-Reports from Khartoum on Sun- ers to support the Camp David accords and the Egyptian-Israeli peace reaty.

Even though the overthrow of General Nimeiri was seen as popu-The streets of Khartoum were lar in Sudan, it was far from certain, U.S. officials said, what Genand half burned portraits of Gener-eral Swareddahab's policies will be. "He has abolished the constitu-(Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Nimeiri long after it had become obvious that Washington alone was

~= NEWS ANALYSIS

supporting his increasingly unpopcame about with the realization by meiri's 16-year reign came from the isolated at last and could no longer dared them to get together while he

General Nimeiri's downfall

Pope John Paul II greeted crowds in Rome after his traditional Easter Sunday address.

Pope, at Easter, Invokes War's Sacrifice

By E.J. Dionne Jr.
New York Times Service

"They faced death as defenseless ictims, offered in holocaust, or defending with their arms the free way of life," the pope told a crowd of more than 200,000 in St. Peter's lence with violence or hatred with hatred," the pope said in his annual lation of human rights and an "ar-pose Islamic law on an actively hostile animist and Christian south and a scarcely more enthusiastic

Faced with rebellion in the south, widespread drought, an in-flux of refugees from Ethiopia and the consequences of his mismanaged economy, General Nimeiri adversaries too far. He almost flew off for an official visit to the Moslem north.

Civilian Elite Provided the Trigger for Sudan Coup

emerge with its credibility intact. the leaders of the Moslem Brother-Despite numerous warmings, the hood, the Islamic fundamentalist Reagan administration publicly and repeatedly embraced General pose Islamic law on an actively the doctors, lawyers, engineers and belped bring about his own down-other middle-class professionals fall by pushing his contempt for his

and others, also for the children of denounced the fact that millions

"For this reason, they were martyrs and heroes," the pope said.
"This was their resistance." John Paul recalled Nazism as "a mad imperialist ideology" and condemned the atrocities it bred, in- most joyous day.

cluding the slaughter of the Jewish But in a vivid Urbi et Orbi ad-

Easter message, "but to affirm a maments race which increases the right and a freedom for themselves threat of total destruction." He also those who were then the oppres-are "left to die because of want, sors."

> Peter's Square for Christianity's John Paul said the Easter Mass

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 4) defect of our relations,' he said. "It

Gorbachev Suspends Deployment of SS-20s

By Seth Mydans

MOSCOW - Mikhail S. Gorbachev announced Sunday that the Soviet Union was freezing deploy-ment of medium-range SS-20 mis-siles in Europe until November.

[The Reagan administration swiftly rejected Mr. Gorbachev's statement and called on Moscow to negotiate significant reductions at arms talks in Geneva, Reuters reported from Santa Barbara, Cali-

["At first blush, Mr. Gorba-chev's statement seems to revive previous Soviet offers designed to freeze in place a considerable Soviet advantage," the White House spokesman, Larry Speakes, said. Making his first major statement on foreign affairs since becoming

Communist Party general secretary last month, Mr. Gorbachev also confirmed that he had responded positively to an invitation to a summit meeting with President Ronald

His remarks were in answer to questions by the Communist Party daily Pravda. The interview was to be printed in the Monday edition of the newspaper.

The interview came as the speaker of the House of Representatives, Thomas P. O'Neill, a Democrat of Massachusetts, arrived in Moscow at the head of a congressional delegation that was expected to meet with Mr. Gorbachev later in the

Mr. Gorbachev said he did not believe that confrontation was the natural state of relations between Moscow and Washington. "Confrontation is not an inborn is rather an anomaly. There is no inevitability at all of its continuation. We regard the improvement of Soviet-American relations not only as an extremely necessary but also as as a possible matter."

Mikhail S. Gorbachev

The Soviet leader said he had corresponded with Mr. Reagan about the possibility of a summit meeting and that "I can say a positive attitude to such a meeting being held was expressed from both sides." Mr. Reagan said last week that he had received a positive reply to the suggestion that the two aders meet

"Its time and place will be the subject of subsequent arrangement," Mr. Gorbachev said.

White House officials have said that Mr. Reagan would prefer a meeting in the United States. The possibility has been raised that the two leaders could meet in September if Mr. Gorbachev attends the opening session in New York of the United Nations General Assembly. Mr. Gorbachev said his correspondence with the American presdent also dealt with ways of improving relations and making them more stable and constructive.

"I am convinced that a serious impulse should be given to Soviet-American relations at a high political level," he said.

He characterized ties between Moscow and Washington as tense and as giving some cause for alarm. But he said possibilities for improvement existed and "these possibilities should not be missed."

As an impulse to achieving a breakthrough in relations, Mr. Gorbachev voiced support for moratoriums on space and strategic arms and announced the Soviet freeze on deployment of intermediate-range missiles in Europe.

"We are for an honest dialogue. We are prepared to demonstrate our good will again," he said.

"And starting with this day, and I want to emphasize this, the Soviet Union is introducing a moratorium on the deployment of its intermediate-range missiles in Europe," he

He said the moratorium would hold until November. "The decision we will make after that depends on whether the United States follows our example: Will it stop or not the deployment of its intermediate-range missiles in Europe? Shultz on Soviet Ties

Earlier, Gary Lee of The Washington Post reported from Washing-Secretary of State George P.

Shultz has outlined a strategy for insulating U.S.-Soviet relations against what he called Soviet "out-His proposals, published Saturday in the journal Foreign Affairs, grew out of events surrounding the Soviet shooting down of a civilian South Korean airliner in September 1983, according to aides familiar with his thinking.

More fundamentally, the proposals reflect a shift in Reagan administration thinking toward a less confrontational approach toward Moscow, Underscoring this change, Mr. Shultz also said that he saw in the accession of Mr. Gorbachev, "a fresh opportunity" for the two superpowers to explore "more constructive possibilities. The U.S. response to the slaving of a U.S. Army major by a Soviet officer last month demonstrated a State Department policy of pursuing a strategy geared to overall U.S. goals and interests in the face of events that might otherwise nega-tively affect U.S.-Soviet ties, aides to Mr. Shultz said.

They said the shooting of Major Arthur D. Nicholson Jr., which occurred after the magazine article was written, was the kind of incident Mr. Shultz had in mind in developing the strategy.

After the killing on March 24, the administration agreed that questions surrounding it should be resolved in a meeting between the commander of U.S. forces in Europe and the commander of Soviet forces in East Germany.

ROME — Pope John Paul II, invoking the 40th anniversary of World War II, delivered an Easter message Sunday in praise of "the men and women in each country who offered their lives in sacrifice for the right cause, the cause of the dignity of the human person."

They fought not to answer vio-

dress - to the city of Rome and to the world - the pope also called attention to the failings of the postwar world. He castigated the continued vio-

elite a week to organize peaceful

Their goal was to provoke a re-

1964, when intellectuals engineered the downfall of the military government headed by Ibrahim Abboud.

this goal was probably unattain-able. "I know Nimeiri will probably be replaced by another military ings of 19th-century Europe.

. The pope's often somber message came on a sunny, festive day that brought worshipers, marchers against hunger and tourists to St.

After those violent initial dem
Amin." He was referring the foronstrations, it took the professional mer dictator in Uganda.

processions that at times seemed a onstration by mostly middle-class throwback to the nationalist upris- and middle-aged Sudanese in

A Khartoum University profes- army officer, had demanded the sor acknowledged last week that overthrow of General Nimeiri from one would be better, even Idi in crowd-control operations, and outdoors, dressed in gold robes and a gold-encrusted white miter. During the Mass, several thousand people, many of them carry-ing blue balloons bearing the mes-'sage "Apocalypse No," walked to Within 24 hours of the first dem-

Khartoum on Wednesday, the leader of the two-year insurrection

in the south announced that he was negotiating with the Sudanese armed forces. That rebellion, led by John Garang, a southern Christian and an American-educated former

This confirmed the professional

elite's hunch that the armed forces

initially would refuse to take part that they then could be won over to deposing General Nimeiri.

An Egyptian security policeman guarding the Sudanese Embassy in Cairo on Sunday. The presence in Egypt of Sudan's deposed president, Gaafar Nimeiri, creates political problems for Egypt, which is allied with Sudan. Page 2.

U.S. Is Attaining Trade Goals in Japan, Envoy Says communications trade negotiations U.S. ambassador to Tokyo for They are the major beneficiaries of By Stuart Auerbach with Tokyo. Washington Past Service

Nor does the U.S. government deck was the arrest last month of sacking his capital.

olar rule.

stimulus for ending General Ni- that the president was politically

Sudanese civilian elite and not rule by dividing the opposition.

WASHINGTON — Mike Mansfield, the U.S. ambassador to Tokyo, says that the United States has achieved 90 percent of its objectives in talks to open the Japanese telecommunications market to U.S. suppliers, and that the remaining 10 percent will be reached within three months.

Mr. Mansfield's assessment was the most positive administration evaluation yet of U.S. gains in tele-

Other administration trade officials, key congressmen and indus-try representatives remain skeptical over the actual effect of Japan's efforts, however. They contend that U.S. access to the Japanese market depends to a large extent on how fairly the new regulations are applied by the powerful Japanese bureaucracy, which traditionally favors domestic suppliers.

Japan's liberalizing moves in telecommunications with a warning that Tokyo has to continue allowing foreign companies greater access to its markets in all areas. fense." Mr. Mansfield said in an interview Friday.

Mr. Mansfield, who has been the markets in their own best interests.

eight years, tempered his praise for a free world trading system and will be hurt the worst if it breaks down," Mr. Mansfield said.

Mr. Mansfield, who met twice last week with President Ronald Reagan over the crisis in U.S.-Japa-The cry with Japan should be nese trade relations, expressed con-"access access access - like foot- cern in the interview over the inball fans veil 'defense defense de- creasingly emotional congressional attacks on what is seen on Capitol Hill as Japan's protectionist trade We want them to open their policies. He said he hoped that

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Just how far the army leaders are willing to go remains open to question, since they were supporters of General Nimeni only last week. At first glance, General Nimeiri's downfall is a blow to the Reagan administration. From the president on down, U.S. officials have recently praised the Sudanese leader in language that now seems as ironic as the Carter administration's endorsement of the shah on the eve of the Iranian revolution.

But if U.S. concern for both Iran then and Sudan now turned on geostrategic considerations, the Reagan administration stands a

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Heart Patient Moves Out Of Hospital

By Lawrence K. Altman New York Times Service
LOUISVILLE, Kentucky — William J. Schroeder has become the first person to live outside a hospital with an artificial heart.

The 53-year-old retired federal worker, admitted Nov. 11 to Humana Hospital Audubon, was released Saturday. It was his 133d day with an artificial beart, a period longer than any previous recipi-

Mr. Schroeder moved across the street to a specially equipped, 800square-foot (74-square-meter) apartment where he and his wife, Margaret, will live. Mr. Schroeder, who will continue his recuperation from the artificial heart experiment as an outpatient, remains severely impaired because of a stroke suf-

The move is an important measure of the success of the artificial heart experiment, since most prospective recipients of such a device might hesitate if they knew they had to live in a hospital the rest of their lives. It will also provide a better test of the quality of life with the device, which is made of plastic and metal.

Mrs. Schroeder said at a news conference before the move. "We're going home in a sense not our home, but we've lived in the air force for years, and home was wherever we were at."

One of Mr. Schroeder's sons, Mel, pushed him out of the hospital in a wheelchair to a $45,000 van and an exercise bicycle has been fitted with wheelchair lits and se- brought in. curing devices and adapted to accommodate compressed air tanks Mr. Schroeder will be attended by and the 323-pound (146-kilogram) private nurses, technicians and se-artificial heart. The remodeled apartment has wide doorways, three compressed pressed hope that his morale will be air outlets and alarm buttons to improved by the move, accompasummon medical help. The bath-nied by home cooking, a greater room has been modified to allow degree of privacy and indepen-

William J. Schroeder, with his son, right, and wife, left, moving into an apartment in Louisville, Kentucky.

In the two-bedroom apartment, machine that powers the air-driven curity agents. The staff will live in an apartment in the building.

Mr. Schroeder's family has ex-

Mr. Schroeder's doctors and his periods. per, Indiana the Humana artificial heart team, pound portable Heimes power supsaid his team and the family were ply only about two hours a day making plans for Mr. Schroeder to. until the Food and Drug Administravel in the van to go fishing. tration approves its use for longer family hope that with further recu-peration at the apartment, he will eventually return to his home, 90 make a permanent move to Jasper without approval from the Food per. Indiana ithe official guidelines for the ex-

Despite the move, Mr. Schroeder, periment require Mr. Schroeder to Mr. Schroeder to take showers dence from a hospital environment. remains in an extraordinarily risky: live within 45 minutes of the hospiwhile tethered to the power supply, Dr. William C. DeVries, head of experiment. He can use the 11-tal.

U.S. Reports Northeast's Population, Surprisingly, Now Not Down but Up

By William K. Stevens

New York Times Service the 1970s appear to have been re-recent data from two authoritative halt, the regional commissioner of government sources, as evidence that the Northeast has reached an equilibrium in population and may have turned the corner in its painful shift from an industrial to a postindustrial economy.

New England, some of the experts say, turned that corner earlier. What has made the difference in the Northeast as a whole since 1980, they say, is that the Middle Atlantic subregion, with New York at its heart, has somewhat unexpectedly followed suit.

The Middle Atlantic's resurgence, these authorities say, reflects in part New York City's transition from an economy with a strong emphasis on manufacturing to an economy based more solidly on the flow of information, on small business and retail trade and on the city's traditional position as an international center of finance and creative activity.

The Northeast still is losing population to the South and West, as it did in the late 1970s when hundreds of thousands of job-seekers fled the region's shrinking economy for greener pastures elsewhere. But now the migration from the Northeast to the South and West is markedly less than it was five years government considers the Northago, and the flow in the other direceast to be New England and the PHILADELPHIA - Despite tion is a bit more. At the same time, three Middle Atlantic states of earlier forecasts to the contrary, the birth rates have risen somewhat. As New York, New Jersey and Pennpopulation losses that plagued the Northeast of the United States in ulation is growing again and with it As reco that of the Northeast as a whole.

"The turnaround in the North-Some experts cautiously inter-pret this development, indicated in not uniform, said Samuel Ehrenlabor statistics for New York and New Jersey, who is a recognized authority on the subject. For example, he said, Rhode Island and Pennsylvania have been slower to rebound than their neighbors.

> Between 1970 and 1980, for the appreciable population growth, ris-ing only from 49.06 million to 49.14

As recently as August 1983, the U.S. Bureau of the Census predicted that the population of the east, which I think is a real one, is Northeast would shrink steadily the rest of this century, declining by 1.7 percent from 1980 to 1990 and by more than 4 percent from 1990 to 2000. But the Census Bureau's most recent estimates of what actually has happened, published in late December, show that the Middle Atlantic region reversed its decline first time in history, the Northeast and grew by 364,000 people, or 1 as a whole failed to register an percent, from April 1980 to July 1984, reaching a population of 37.15 million. The Northeast as a million; the Middle Atlantic lost whole also turned upward, its pop-426,000 people, dropping from ulation increasing by 592,000, or 37.21 million to 36.78 million. The 1.2 percent, to 49.73 million.

INSIDE

President José Napoleón Duarte's recent election victory could change the political power structure in El Salvador.

■ U.S. foreign aid is increasingly being used by members of Congress as leverage to influence foreign policy.

Henry Kissinger discusses the lessons of the Vietnam War. Page 5.

BUSINESS/FINANCE A new study raises questions about a plan to delay completion of the U.S. strategic oil reserve.

■ More companies are turning to their own "intrapreneurs." Page 7.

CLASSIFIEDS

PAGE 8

FOR MORE

Ready-toastisonai :jothes

By David B. Ottaway

WASHINGTON — The United States has submitted its own compromise plan for the withdrawal of Cuban troops from Angola in an effort to break the deadlock between South Africa and Angola over the troops' presence.

A senior administration official said it was the first time Washington had presented its own proposals to break the deadlock over the Cuban issue. He said the more activist U.S. diplomacy represented a "major new step" by the Reagan administration to get an agree-ment, and that it had been approved at the highest levels.

The official said the timetable was submitted to the two sides dur- 25,000 Cuban troops from Angola.

ing a visit to the region in mid-March by Chester A. Crocker, the range for the independence of the South African-administered territory of South-West Africa, or Na-

In the past, the United States has sought to work out agreement between the conflicting positions of the two governments rather than sent its own plan in the search for an overall regional peace settle-ment that would including the holding of United Nations-superpullout of South African troops

ed States have been demanding the assistant secretary of state for Afri-departure of the Cubans, and the can affairs, who has been heading issue has become the main hurdle the U.S. mediation effort to artic carrying out a United Nations plan approved in 1978 for Namibian independence.

The official also said the plan mibia, which lies between South Africa and Angola.

reflected a realization that the United States would have to become more directly involved in the negotiating process if any agreement were to be reached, because South Africa and Angola were still far apart on the timing and extent of a Cuban troop withdrawal.

South Africa wants all Cuban troops to withdraw almost immedivised elections in Namibia, the ately upon the start of the sevenmonth election procedure in Nathere, and the withdrawal of about mibia. Angola announced last

Both South Africa and the Unit-is States have been demanding the all, of the Cubans, as part of an departure.

Complicating the Cuban issue is the breakdown of a U.S.-arranged agreement in Lusaka, Zambia, in ebruary 1984 under which South African would withdraw all the troops it sent into Angola to curb incursions of Namibian nationalist guerrillas based there. The South African forces halted their withdrawal about 25 miles (40 kilometers) from the Namibian border.

U.S. officials refused to disclose details of the proposed U.S. compromise. But it was understood to support the South African objective of getting all Cuban troops out of Angola through a phased withdrawal. This would allow the An-November its agreement to the degolan government time to adjust to two sides going," he added.

State Department officials said that Washington had sought unsuccessfully for the past four months to extract "ideas" for a compromise from the South African and Angolan governments.

"After four months of trying to elicit ideas, we decided to come up with our own ideas," an official thesis paper" and represented an extrapolation from the declared Angolan and South African posirions on the Cubans and amounted to "an outline of what an agreement might look like."

"It represents where we see the

The officials said the U.S. plan took no position on another issue the Angolans consider delicate: the possible formation of a coalition government in Luanda that in-cludes the opposition National Union for the Total Independence of Angola, or UNITA. The group has been carrying on a guerrilla war against the central government since Angola's independence in

He said the U.S. plan was a "syn- Rebels Claim Success

UNITA said its guerrilla forces killed 156 government troops and a Cuban soldier in recent fighting, The Associated Press reported from Lisbon UNITA said eight of its forces were killed, 32 were wounded and one was missing in the fighting.

WORLD BRIEFS

UN Chief Visits Tehran to Discuss War TEHRAN (Reuters) - The United Nations secretary-general Javier

Pérez de Cuellar, arrived Sunday saying that he wanted only to discuss Iran's position on its war with Iraq, rather than to offer specific proposals on ending the conflict.

Mr. Pérez de Cuéllar, who plans to visit Baghdad later in the week said last week during a tour of Saudi Arabia. Oman. Bahram and Qatar that he would visit the capitals of the warring countries only if he could discuss the could discuss the could be the later conflict. all aspects of the four-and-a-half-year conflict.

But the diplomat apparently changed his mind and decided to visit Tehran and Baghdad anyway after meeting in Doha, Qatar, with envoys from Iran and Iraq. He had indicated earlier that Iran was blocking the visit by refusing to discuss all aspects of the war.

Christian Units Shell Center of Sidon

SIDON, Lebanon (Reuters) — Christian militiamen shelled the center of the southern Lebanese port of Sidon on Sunday, residents said, after heavy overnight fighting against Moslem forces in which four persons

The Christian Voice of Lebanon, a rightist radio station, said two Christian areas east of Sidon also came under rocket and artillery attack.

Meanwhile, sources said about 100 Christian leaders, including former presidents, politicians and militia chiefs, will meet Tuesday to discuss a political crisis involving Syria's role in Lebanon that has split the Christian community.

PONER'S CIRCLE

anumded by mernic abstrall team that we also holds a Villamore

From left are E.

Steve Pinone

AMERI

fonen's Colleges

Appland Survive

A street by the Way

prode to the same.

mitte were starting

नीतिकारकाः इतार्व क्षेत्रः व

معتدوة لثقة خداه والمتعدد

gi momen : college

hereer - women

Personal designation and שו משונים אנודות ב.

s remain and promit

esti shoois like V.

signature regain act.

a Total 110 folleges e

miler wemen have sur-

a 110000 Laderarada

हो अस्तरका भी दिलाओंट दर

dens Errobment at v

د المالتداند و Seeleges و م

ರಾಜಕ ದೇವಿತ್ತ ರಕ್ಕು ಕರ್ಕಾರಕ

There are whose new ?

rang to women, we obtain mention colleges had to अंग्रिका वर्तिकासायुक्तः 😘 🦠

2 Dorsey presiden

actor College to Tox

жана пилидентені, ф

den and communicate

intelph-Macon Wilson

Man Lynchivers, Virg

in computer sciences

femant O. Kenhaner, p a d Wellayler Course

de Massachusetts.

eparea ren imparting:

grad mission in class.

and and an have a co

Mahurgh Bernuse

Me. I Ranking

historein accustomer apalled 2 junity steet to all gaining used to 115 to 2 for all to 115 to 115

Shear place to lave armore

Bitthe metropolitizer, are

for The Pittsbi

GORDELLE MICHE OF

ad Patisburgh, I dumai

Maming that all would stated a

Seque voting Projection

a Mr. Lo) said. - We d staniapiocajus spices ate Crimes

Milinloggable

as house hearing in strong be no diffical

lattle Ove

James R. Dickertson

James Reagen

James Rea

se of the column of the social Security would be measure would all the president's and sould end or column passenger rail to share a source would be sourced to the source would be sourced to the source would be sourced to the sourced to the sourced to share a source would be sourced to share a s

4.Plans

& have comes — if elimed Stores.

wes manustration.

201.50

Libyan Exile Killed in West Germany

BONN (NYT) — Gebril Denali, an exiled opponent of Colonel Moamer Qadhafi, the Libyan leader, was shot and killed Saturday by a Libyan gunman on a crowded Bonn street.

A police spokesman identified the gunman only as Fatahi T., a 29-year-old Libyan national. The spokesman said the man was apprehended, with a pistol still in his hand, by an off-duty policeman soon after the shooting. A West German woman was seriously wounded in the stomach, and a male passer-by was grazed by a bullet, the spokesman said, adding that Mr. Denali, 30, had been shot in the head several times and had died of his wounds in a hospital.

The slaving of Mr. Denali, who was seeking political asylum in West Germany, was the latest in a series of killings involving political opponents of the Libyan leader, and the second one in Bonn.

U.S. Crime Rate Fell 4.5% Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government survey shows overall crime in the United States fell 4.5 percent last year, but there was no drop in the rate of such violent crimes as rape, robbery and assault, the Justice Department said Sunday.

The National Crime Survey, which measures crimes not reported to police as well as those reported, also showed that the rate of household burglaries and larcenies fell to the lowest level in the 12 years of the survey's existence.

The crime survey is based on interviews with a national sample of more than 125,000 people. Based on the preliminary figures for 1984, there were 35.3 million "victimizations" compared with 37 million a year earlier, the Bureau of Justice Statistics said

For the Record

Union Carbide Corp. will resume production of methyl isocyanate within two weeks at its West Virginia plant, the company said. It halted production after a leak of the chemical from a plant in India killed more than 2,000 people.

John Lawn, 49, will be nominated to head the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, replacing Francis M. Mullen Jr., President Ronald Reagan announced. Mr. Lawn is now acting director.

(UPI) Henry G. Cisneros, the mayor of San Antonio, Texas, defeated five challengers overwhelmingly to win a third term Saturday. (AP)

President-elect Tancredo Neves of Brazil is suffering from a lung inflammation, his doctors said after a sophisticated X-ray examination, but will not require additional surgery for intestinal problems. Mr. Neves 75, was described Sunday as being in good condition. (AP)

Thirty-seven persons died when a bus carrying about 45 people plunged into a reservoir in western Yugoslavia on Saturday, police said. Most of the passengers were building workers returning home to the town of Mostar from work in Sarajevo.

(Reuters)

Pope John Paul II will receive President Erich Honecker of East

Germany in a private audience April 24, the Vatican announced. (AP)

Thousands in West Germany Protest U.S. Nuclear Policy

MUTLANGEN, West Germany — Thousands of people demon-strated Sunday throughout West Germany against President Ronald Reagan's Space Defense Initiative and the deployment of U.S. nuclear weapons in the country. A spokesman for the peace movement said that at least 20,000 people took part in dozens of demonstrations and rallies Sunday in every state, many of them at U.S., West German and allied military

At the U.S. Pershing-2 missile base Mutlangen east of Stuttgart, more than 200 people staged a to-ken blockade of the main gate and 12 protesters got through a net of barbed wire and entered the facility. Police chased the demonstrators out but witnesses said that at least two were detained,

The protesters framed the main gate with a banner saying "Freedom through Pershings," a parody of the "Freedom through Work" signs mounted over the gates of Nazi concentration and extermination camps before and during World War IL

Elsewhere, police said that about 2,200 people demonstrated on the Baltic coast in Kiel, Lübeck and Flensburg, all of which have important West German and NATO na-

The traditional Easter peace demonstrations were organized by trade union, church, student and opposition political groups. On Saturday, Friedrich Zimmermann, the interior minister, charged that Communists had played an unprecedented role in organizing the protests.

In Molesworth, England, demonstrators gathered in rain and sleet outside a planned cruise missile base Sunday to protest deploy-ment of nuclear arms in Britain. The Campaign for Nuclear Dis-armament said it expected 20,000 people to attend two days of dem-

Five in Egypt Sentenced To Be Hanged for Rape

CAIRO - An Egyptian court has sentenced five men to hang for raping an 18-year-old woman, the Egyptian Middle East News Agency has reported. A sixth man was sentenced to seven years of hard

The rape, which took place in a '36 years of cinematographic activ- suburb of Cairo last January, and of all nations, big or small."

"Their intention was thus to eliminate the very root of war," he eliminate the very root of war," he eliminate the very root of war," he eliminate the very root of her time since then in end of all nations, big or small."

"Mr. Mansfield said Prime Journal
ter Yasuhiro Nakasone took great political risks to gain the trade concrease in the number of cases, the agency said Saturday.

onstrations at the Britain's air force base in Molesworth. Police arrested two persons who tried to climb over the perimeter fence, but the demonstration was peaceful, a police spokesman said. Eight persons were arrested Satur-day for blocking roads leading to

U.S. Attaining Trade Goals

(Continued from Page 1)

"sanity and reason will take over during the Easter recess. The U.S.-Japan relationship, he said, "is too important to be disrupted by a vave of emotionalism

The relationship is too valuable, too strong, too precious to let differences of the moment create a situation which we will be sorry for in the future," he said.

While an anti-Japanese feeling "exploded" in Congress, Mr. Mansfield said, "I'm not at all ce-tain it exploded in the country." Mr. Mansfield said he was "dis-

the major responsibility for the

our thing here," But Mr. Mansfield, 82, who had been a Democratic senator from Montana for 25 years, said that strong attacks on Japanese trade practices by legislators who have been noted for their free-trade attitudes, such as Senator John H. Chafee, a Republican of Rhode Island, helped speed the trade talks. He said that Mr. Chafee's intro-duction of a bill that would bar Japanese telecommunications products from the United States if American companies did not get equal access in Japan was "the straw that broke the camel's back during the Tokyo negonizations. "It probably had a large part to play in bringing the negotiations to a successful conclusion," Mr.

For Mubarak, Harboring of Nimeiri Could Damage Relations With Sudan

By David Lamb

Los Angeles Times Service CAIRO - For more than a year, Egypt has viewed the behavior of Gaafar Nimeiri as eccentric and his political longevity in Sudan as a liability, but the neighboring countries are linked by their mutual dependence on the River Nile and the closest alliance in the Arab world.

So when Major General Nimeiri's white Boeing 707 jetliner touched down in Cairo on Saturday, carrying the Sudanese president en route to Khartoum from Washington, President Hosni Mubarak of Egypt was at the airport to greet — and perhaps counsel — the man whose country's stability has always been crucial to Egypt's own

General Nimeiri talked quietly as he and Mr. Mubarak walked into the presidential airport lounge for two hours of private discus-sions. There Mr. Mubarak con-throw, largely because General Ni-firmed the news, broadcast from meiri had aligned himself with firmed the news, broadcast from Khartoum by way of Nairobi only minutes before, that the Sudanese armed forces had taken power and ended General Nimein's 16-year

According to highly placed Egyptian sources, General Nimeiri was determined to return to Khartoum anyway. He strode to his plane and for five minutes he and Mr. Muharak stood at the ramp, with Mr. Mubarak finally persuading him that it was too dangerous

Mr. Mubarak will need to establish good working relations with the new Sudanese regime, yet harboring the man it overthrew might be an obstacle. At the same time he does not want to turn his back on General Nimeiri, who has been a of only two Arab leaders not to cut the choice of responding to the de-vival.

(Continued from Page 1)

tion, abolished the country's single party, fired all the top officials, closed the borders and said the mil-out such things as critical economic

the aid for fiscal year 1984.

close relationship with the Sudan.

Civilian Elite

Spurred Coup

(Continued from Page 1)

better chance than President Carter power. Rather, it is one of the poor-est and most ill-managed of Third World countries. And it is totally dependent on U.S. grain shipments

a lot of people, but I don't think the new regime will hold it against us for keeping him," a senior Egyptian official said. "It is traditional for Arabs, particularly Sudanese, to take asylum here, and I think the new regime would rather have him in Cairo than running around some place else. In a way this can work to everyone's advantage." The Egyptian foreign minister, Esmat Abdel Meguid, announced Sunday that Mr. Mubarak has been in contact with the new Sudanese leader, General Abdul Rahman Mohammed Hassan Swareddahab. He affirmed that Egypt stands solidly beside the people of Sudan, and said that Egypt would continue contacts with the new leadership in Khartoum. Two radical Arab states. Syria those willing to make peace with Egypt and the United States, he

Egyptian intelligence sources did not find Libya's initial response significant nor do they believe that General Swareddahab has ties to Tripoli or any other foreign capital. They point out that Libya's ruler, Moamer Qadhafi, has constantly tried to undermine General Nimeiri and would have welcomed ny change in leadership. The Egyptian intelligence reading - which is usually accurate in Sudanese affairs - is that the coup was not really plotted or planned but rather was a spontaneous result of public discontent exerting political pressure on the army to show diplomatic ties when Egypt made peace with Israel in 1979.

"Of course Nimeiri has alienated mands in the name of the people, meiri or the name of the people, and they choose the latter.

General Swareddahab is well known to Cairo anthorities. He traveled here often as army commander in chief, the post he held before General Nimeiri placed him in charge of all of the armed forces as defense minister March 18. He is described as a low-profile soldier with no apparent political ambitions. "He has never been a star and no one gave him much notice," an Egyptian official said

Egypt's uneasiness with General Nimeiri, though never publicly spoken, was well known over the past year. As General Nimeiri's sitnation began unraveling in the face of internal economic and political woes, Mr. Mubarak went on record saying that he would help protect the Nimeiri regime militarily in case of foreign intervention — a reference to Libya — but would not interfere in internal unrest.

In his statement Sunday, Mr. Abdel Meguid reiterated Egypt's willingness to aid Sudan militarily, represented all that the hard-liners saying: "Egypt warns once again against any aggression against the Sudanese people or interference in its internal affairs or a violation of its sovereignty and rights, and asserts its determination to uphold its commitments to this dear nation.

Although never publicized, Egypt has a training center for army officers and an air force presence in the Sudan. The two countries are joined by a 25-year defense pact, signed in 1976, and an agreement for economic integration, signed in 1982. Mr. Mubarak has often spoken of Egypt and the Sudan being "one country secured by the same artery," the Nile, whose

ATHENS — The Greek Parlia-

Prime Minister Andreas Papandreon, whose Socialist government is facing a constitutional crisis, has asked President Christos Sartzetakis to call elections as soon as Par-

In Saturday's first round, 182 of the 300 deputies, two more than the required minimum of 180, voted for the changes, while 100 conser- Sartzetakis as invalid, wants genervatives voted against and 18 mem- al elections immediately.

pletes a formal exchange of letters with Mr. Papandreou. The conservative opposition, which regards the election of Mr.

elections on June 23. Turkish Cypriots started prepa-

on Mr. Papandreou's request for rations for general elections after the breakdown of talks, sponsored by the United Nations, between Cypriot President Spyros Ky-Turkish Cypriot leader, in January

But commentators say he is virianou and Rauf Denktash, the in New York.
The Greek-Cypriot and Turkish-Cypriot parts of Cyprus have been divided since Turkey invaded the Mediterranean island in 1974 and occupied the northern part. The Turkish Cypriots proclaimed inde-pendence in November 1983, but only Turkey has recognized the

The proposed would limit the day to hold a referendum on a president's powers to dissolve Parliament, appoint the prime minister 5. The Associated Press reported ment has given preliminary agreement to constitutional amendfrom Nicosia. The assembly approved the new constitution on March 13. It also ments trimming presidential powers, paving the way for early Mr. Sartzetakis, whose election by Parliament on March 29 approved a decision to hold general sparked the crisis, has stated officially that he "reserves judgment"

CHINESE-ITALIAN ACCORD — The Italian defense minister, Giovanni Spadolini

signed a military agreement Sunday in Beijing, as his Chinese counterpart. Zhang Aiping, far right, watched. Under the agreement, Italy will sell weapons technology to China, and may train Chinese troops in parachute jumping and mountain fighting.

Greek Parliament Votes to Approve

Limitations on Powers of President

ections that are expected to be held in June.

liament approves the amendments probably for June 9, once he comin two rounds of voting.

in the Soviet secret service, the fused to comment on the magn-

Soviet Said to Bug French Embassy

By Michael Dobbs Washington Past Service PARIS — Soviet intelligence services secretly bugged communica-tions equipment at the French Em-bassy in Moscow for more than five person without political inclinayears, according to official docu-ments obtained by Le Point, a French newsmagazine.

The revelations, published this week, are likely to add fuel to a controversy here over the scale of Soviet espionage operations.

A spate of officially inspired leaks of intelligence information carried by the French news media in the past week marks the second anniversary of the French govern-ment's expulsion of 47 Soviet of ucials in Paris for alleged spying. The Soviet Embassy here has protested the leaks to the French Ministry of External Relations. French journalists have been told by contacts in the French counterintelligence service that ing the most secret."

A spokesman for the French the press were supplied by a colonel Ministry of External Relations reand whereabouts are being kept secret, is said to have supplied names of KGB officers stationed abroad, Le Point said that the Soviet colonel's revelations had led to the expulsion of 148 Soviet officials worldwide in 1983, a sharp increase over the 34 expulsions in 1982, It published a message from the French Embassy in Moscow to the Foreign Ministry in Paris on Jan. 11, 1983, stating that electronic bugs had been found in all of the embassy's teleprinters. Thierry Wolton, Le Point's intelligence specialist, said that the bugging of the teleprinters, installed in the embassy between October 1976 and February 1977, meant that the KGB had access "to all the diplomatic messages received and sent by our embassy in Moscow, includ-

KGB. The colonel, whose name zine's allegations. Soviet intelligence documents published by Le Monde and the government-owned television hannel TF1 last week suggested that 65 percent of the Western technological secrets stolen by Soviet spies were of U.S. origin and 8 percent of French origin. A French translation of one of the documents, signed by Leonid

V. Smirnov, head of the Soviet Military Industrial Commission. claimed that the Soviet Union had succeeded in finding ways to jam the U.S. antitank guided missile system known as TOW, or "tubelaunched, optically tracked, wire-guided" missile. TOW was used by North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Western Europe. Mr. Smirnov, a Soviet deputy prime minister, was quoted as services" in carrying out their work abroad. But he criticized delays in "analyzing the documents."

the square to show their desire for an end to hunger and war.
The pope offered Easter wishes in 46 languages, including, for the first time, Cambodian. He also gave a Passover greeting in He-morning.

No group claimed responsibility for placing the bombs, but Basque or Catalan separatist guerrillas were suspected, police said. Meanware suspected sus "Spontaneously," he said, "our memory goes back to 40 years ago, when, in Europe and Asia and othperience," he went on. "Tens of of peoples and shatters the just so-millions of people massacred on cial order." the battle fronts, cities razed to the ground, slaughter in the air and on the sea, populations ruined by hun-ger and privations." In addition, the pope said, "other tens of millions of human be-sions," he concluded. end, the victorious allies issued the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other statements de-ist ideology, was coming to a . "Their intention was thus to "For more than five years, bu- said, "since war is born of the viola- much of her time since then in manity had lived a horrendous ex- tion of the rights of individuals and semi-seclusion on the Riviera.

"Forty years ago, the war end-ed," he said. "Has peace, as the result of a just social order, been truly affirmed? Peace, which is grounded in real respect — not only for the letter but for the spirit — for the rights of human beings? And for the rights of nations?"

Brigitte Bardot Awarded John Paul said that at the war's French Legion of Honor The Associated Press

PARIS — Brigitte Bardot, 50, was named a knight of the French Legion of Honor Sunday for her

Pope Invokes the Sacrifice of War

In his address, John Paul spoke cording to the Gospel, went to his tomb and found it empty on Easter "Before every tomb, humanity questions itself," he said. "It ques-continents, the Second World War, unleashed by a mad imperial- "and of all nations, big or small."

ings" were "decimated and destroyed in concentration camps."
"The Jewish people," he went on, were "condemned to extermi-At the end came "the terrifying revelation of the first atomic explosigned to reaffirm "the fundamen-tal rights of all men and women,

Yet the pope sketched a bleak landscape in describing the world that followed the war.

turbed at the way Japan is being made the scapegoat" for the U.S. merchandise trade delicit last year of $123.3 billion, nearly $37 billion of which resulted from trade with Japan. Mansfield urged Congress and the administration to work together to solve the country's own economic problems — the overval-ued dollar, high interest rates and rising budget deficits — that bear trade deficit. "The Japanese have to open their markets," he said. "We have to do

Mansfield said.

ed on backing General Nimeiri to The Sudanese elite, one of the most respected in the Third World, has convinced itself that the Reagan administration backed General Nimeiri largely because it did not have the courage to live with the uncertainties that necessarily must follow his removal.

For Life, Academic & Work Experience You may qualify for BACHELORS MASTER'S OR DOCTORATE PACIFIC WESTERN UNIVERSITY 1600 Years Bd (Op.23). Erden. CASTAS USA LUXEMBOURG - A fire that

We are obviously monitoring the situation closely. Our diplomatic relationship with the government itary is in charge everywhere," a U.S. official said. "But that does of the Sudan continues not tell you anything. Can he carry General Nimeiri, who came to power in a military coup in May reforms, reconciliation with the 1969, had cut short an overseas non-Moslem south, and win the tour to return to Sudan to try to backing of the city intellectuals and professionals? quell the growing unrest. He arrived in Cairo from Washington for talks with President Hosni Mu-Sudan has been the largest American foreign aid recipient in barak of Egypt shortly after the bloodless military coup took place. Africa after Egypt. It has been re-ceiving about $200 million yearly in military and economic aid. But The deposed president was met by

Mr. Mubarak and two senior Egypin recent months, because of the failure of Sudan to put certain ecotian officials. Egyptian officials said that General Nimeiri was later dissuaded by nomic changes into effect, the economic aid had been withheld. Durhis pilot and by Mr. Mubarak from ing General Nimeiri's visit to trying to return to Khartoum be-Washington, President Ronald Reagan released $67 million from cause his return would endanger The State Department said in a public comment: "We have had a The coup came as Sudan was sliding rapidly toward political, economic and military chaos. Since Wednesday, a general strike led by doctors, lawyers and other professionals had cut off all telex and telephone communications with A rebellion backed by Libyan arms in the Christian and animist meanwhile, has steadily gained mo- an trade mission in Paris.

Unlike Iran, Sudan is not an oil Guatemala Rights Aide, 2 Others Found Dead NEW YORK -The body of the secretary of the Support Group for Families of the Detained and Dis-appeared in Guatemala was found in her car at the bottom of a ravine south of Guatemala City, according to a spokesman for the group.

The bodies of her brother and young son were found with her. The official, Maria Rosario Godyo de Cuevas, was reported missing Thursday on her way to a meeting of the group. Her body was found Friday. On March 30, the roup's press liaison officer. Hector Orlando Gómez, was abducted as he left a meeting of the group, according to the group. His body was found the next day outside Guatemala City.

Church Fire Called Accident

destroyed a 17th-century spire of Luxembourg's Notre Dame Cathedral and damaged the roof of the nave on Friday was probably caused by a lighted blowtorch left behind by workmen, police said

Nimeiri Overthrown in Sudan Military Coup based on a convergence of endur-ing national interests. We expect the Egyptian news agency, said that that this relationship will continue. General Swareddahab is 51 and was born in Omdurman, across the Nile from Khartoum.

The agency said he was graduated as a second lieutenant from the month, but the changes cannot get month, but the changes cannot get final ratification until after the self-proclaimed Turkish Republic only Turkey has of Northern Cyprus decided Saturbreakaway state. Uganda and has had military training in Britain and Jordan, the agen-

The Egyptian agency said he was believed to be a devout Moslem, but not an extremist. The Sudanese ambassador to Nairobi, Ibrahim Taha Ayub, said of General Swareddahab: "I don't think he has any political ambi-

tions; he is very much an apolitical

French Prime Minister Arrives in South Korea SEOUL - Prime Minister Lanrent Fabius of France arrived here Sunday for a visit officials hope will strengthen bilateral relations, which had been soured by France's southern provinces of the country. decision to upgrade a North Kore-In meetings with Mr. Fabius, the first French prime minister to visit South Korea, South Korean officials will try to obtain assurances that France will not further im-prove relations with North Korea, government sources said. Before leaving Paris, Mr. Fabius was quoted as saying: "We hope to have relations with all Korean people but only on the conditions that are acceptable to the whole of the

Police Defuse Bombs

Korean people."

VALENCIA, Spain - Spanish police defused two bombs timed to of the followers of Jesus who, acgo off near large hotels in the eastera Mediterranean resorts of Alicante and Villajoyosa during the Easter holidays, police said Sun-while, a bomb wrecked the offices of a construction firm in the southwestern port of Huelva. A spokesman for the firm said the attack could be related to recent threats against construction companies by GRAPO, the Oct. I Anti-Fascist Revolutionary Group, a leftist fations secretary general that he wanted only to be than to offer specific proper Baghdad later in the week a countries only if he could be his mind and decided to a g in Doha, Qatar, with the rhat Iran was blocked.

RIEFS

Center of Sido in militiamen shelled the constraint of forces in which four page

ightist radio station, and ider rocket and arithery actistian leaders, includingly, will meet Tuesday to deal Lebanon; that has pin

West German exiled opponent of Cale shot and killed Sannty

an only as Fatahi 1, 13% he man was apprehensed to ceman soon after the sing vounded in the stomatic e spokesman said, adding several times and hade sking political asylumes. d one in Boan.

.5% Last Year survey shows overall one. but there was no drope, bery and assault the la asures crimes not report ed that the rate of hose t level in the 12 years de with a national sampled a imary figures for 1984 & ared with 37 million 22

netion of methyl more the company said like n a plant in ladia kikes

i the U.S. Drug Enforce ullen J., President ke ig director. intonio, Teras, defendi term Saturday.

zil is suffering from the distinguished A-ray example testinal proclems Mr 'e condition. ing about 45 peoplephy aturday police said le

Thing home to the us. nt Erich Honecker die e Vatican appointed #

t Germany ar Policy

Melesworth te arrested two persons 3 climb over the page but the demonstrates il, a police spokemus versions were unearlise blacking meas wing.

3. Attaining ade Goals

antinued from Page II and reason will take the the Easter recess Table elationship be sad by Il to be disrupted a emotionalism." relationship is to $ a strong, too premies. ces of the chance ac a which we will be son! nuse," he said ar anti-Japanes ies ied" in Congress id said. I'm not side

ploded in the own

lansield and he we's e scarregori (or to fi dise trade delici la 3 billion, nearly $3750. t resulted from trake dansfield urgel (asp administration to make soive the country - problems - the offe er, high interest ribes diget deficits—buse or responsibility for aparese have north he said We late the r. Mansfield $2 8bb P. Mansfield Small per Democratic Small per for as years at tacks on Japanes at tacks on Japanes at tacks on Japanes at the legislation white of fee their free field.

ch as Senator hash
Republican Vibration ed speed the robbs f a bill that would to our that were to the committee of the Latter and the committee of the c ess in light side Tokyo Bandikan 1254 hadi dagan The constant acid.

18 leid sand primited.

18 leid sand primited.

18 National file train.

18 National file train.

18 National State and a leid sand a leid sand

n to Discuss V

WINNER'S CIRCLE — President Ronald Reagan, surrounded by members of the Villanova University basketball team that won the national championship last week, holds a Villanova jacket at a White House ceremony. From left are Ed Pinckney, Harold Pressley, Mr. Reagan, Steve Pinone and the coach, Rollie Massimino.

AMERICAN TOPICS

Women's Colleges Adapt and Survive

A survey by the Women's College Coalition shows that, of 5,000 women's college alumnae of 1967-1977, 71 percent said they would go to the same institution if they were starting over, and 58 percent said they would encourage their daughters to at-tend a women's college.

There were 142 women's colleges in the early 1970s, when the service academies and most men's colleges started admitting women and prominent women's schools like Vassar and Skidmore began admitting-men. Today, 110 colleges exclusively for women have survived, with 110,000 undergraduates, or 2 percent of female college students. Euroliment at women's colleges is actually up 25 percent in the past decade.

"There are whole new fields opening to women, so obviousby women's colleges had to ex-pand their offerings," says Rho-da Dorsey, president of Goucher College in Towson, Maryland, which now has courses in management, public affairs and communications. Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg, Virginia offers computer sciences and business administration.

Nanneri O. Keohane, president of Wellesley College in Wellesley, Massachusetts, says, "We have a very important and validated mission in preparing women, and we have a pretty good sense of how to do it best."

Pittsburgh Bemused At No. 1 Ranking

Pittsburgh, accustomed to ng called a grimy steel town. is still getting used to its title as the best place to live among all 329 of the metropolitan areas in the United States. Although Pittsburgh has more office buildings than steel mills these days, Peter Leo, a columnist for The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, wrote, "On behalf of Pittsburgh, I demand a recount." Warning that all the publicity would attract even more of the young professionals who already have invaded the city, Mr. Leo said, "We don't have enough jogging shoes to go around."

'Hate Crimes' Held Unloggable

Justice Department officials said at a recent hearing of a. House Judiciary subcommittee that it would be too difficult to include "hate crimes" - those racially, ethnically or religious-ly motivated — in the Federal Bureau of Investigation's crime statistics and suggested that Congress collect newspaper clippings to obtain such infor-

The burglarizing of a syna-gogue, for example, could have been motivated by personal gain, officials said. Steven R. Schlesinger, director of the department's bureau of statistics, said, "In certain clear-cut cases, such as a cross burning on a lawn or the painting of a swasti-ka on a temple, the racial or religious overtones are quite clear. Most crimes, however, are not of this nature. John Conyers Jr., a Michigan Democrat, said, "These problems are bigger than going to a clipping service. That's a sim-plistic solution."

Notes About People

Senator Edward M. Kennedy, when asked again by reporters last week if he still wanted to be president, replied, "I've said that for years and years. I think that's probably the least well-kept secret of public life."

Jeane J. Kirkpatrick, the for-mer U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, has signed for a series of speaking engage-ments in the United States and abroad with Harry Walker Inc., a New York lecture bureau. Mr. Walker-said her fees will rank with those of "the most sought-after speakers of the world." That could mean as much as the $20,000 or more an appearance commanded by Henry A. Kissinger, the former secretary of state, who also is a Walker client, as are such former leaders as Gerald R. Ford, Edward

Heath and Helmut Schmidt. Although he has no intention of retiring soon, Jack Anderson, 62, the Pulitzer Prize winner who took over his Washington column in 1967 from the late Drew Pearson, who started it in 1931, has named two of his chief investigative reporters as his heirs apparent: Dale van Atta and Joseph Spear will share the byline on alternate

The president and vice president have official residences; now the State Department is looking for one for the secretary of state, who currently is George P. Shultz. As Clement Conger, curator of the White House, the State Department and Blair House said, "It's getting too expensive to put in all the security equipment needed

every time secretaries change." — Compiled by ARTHUR HIGBEE

Congress Using Foreign Aid as Leverage to Influence Policy

By Steven V. Roberts

New York Times Service WASHINGTON - The House Foreign Affairs Committee decided last week that an aid program for the Upper Huallaga Valley in Peru could go forward only after the Agency for International Development determined that cultivation of coca leaves, the raw material for cocaine, had been reduced in the valley. Aid to Paraguay, said the panel, would be halted until a "good faith effort" had been made to determine the whereabouts of Josef Mengele, a Nazi doctor reported to be hiding out in that country.

Jordan could not purchase sophisticated American weaponry under the bill until the president certified that Amman was "publicly committed to the recogni-tion of Israel" and ready to enter peace negotiations. These are only three of the dozens of clauses,

These are only three or the trucks of conditions and constraints contained in the 121-page, conditions and constraints contained by the commit-$14.5-billion foreign aid bill adopted by the com toe. They are another demonstration of the determination of Congress to influence foreign policy.

"We feel this is our one chance to express our views on a number of issues," said Representative Howard the major thrusts of foreign policy. Sometimes we L. Berman, Democrat of California, who is on the spend too much time and effort on micromanaging the Foreign Affairs Committee. "Some people would ac-anything. Otherwise it's all talk."

The growing tendency of Congress to encumber foreign aid bills with all sorts of restrictions and provisos has caused the legislation to stall in recent years. No authorization bill has become law since 1981, leaving the foreign aid program to be financed through catchall spending bills known as continuing resolutions under which Congress cannot specify where and how most aid is spent.

Senator Richard G. Lugar, Republican of Indiana and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he was encouraged by the "spirit of comity" that marked his committee's drafting sessions on the foreign aid bill last week.

He expressed "some optimism" that this year the bill would go through. But it still has problems.

"There is a danger that we get too detailed," warned Senator Daniel J. Evans, Republican of Washington. "As a fundamental policy we ought to be working on cuse us of micromanagement, but that stems from our frustration. This is the only vehicle on which we can do fact that more and more senators and representatives ments of Reagan administration foreign policy. want to have a say. "One hundred senators all have foreign policy interests now," noted Mr. Lugar, "and they feel they ought to play a role."

The foreign policy committees have also attracted lawmakers with strongly held views on particular issues. For example, a number of Jewish members sought places on the House panel in part because of a deep interest in Israel.

Since joining the committee this year Representa-tive Christopher H. Smith, Republican of New Jersey, has concentrated on pressing his anti-abortion views. With the Democrats controlling the House and the Republicans in charge of the Senate and the White House, the Democrats have tried to use the foreign aid bill to influence government actions.

"Democrats here don't feel that we have enough ability to quietly convince the administration of our concerns," said Mr. Berman. "So this becomes our

"What you're seeing," he said, "is a breakdown of consensus and a low degree of trust between the administration and congressional foreign policy-

This assessment seemed to be borne out in a number of provisions adopted by the House committee, including the following:

• An additional $1.5 billion in economic aid for Israel in the current fiscal year. In the process, the panel brushed aside an administration request for a

· A requirement that aid to El Salvador be contingent on a report by the president detailing that country's progress toward ending violations of human rights. The administration opposed any required report and the Senate committee did not include one.

· A clause making military aid to Guatemala contingent on the installation of a democratic

 An allocation, opposed by the administration, of In the view of Representative Howard E. Wolpe, $5 million in military aid to non-Communist guerrillas Democrat of Michigan and chairman of the House in Cambodia fighting the occupying forces of subcommittee on Africa, many lawmakers have been Vietnam.

Next Step for Duarte: How to Define the Rules

By James LeMoyne

New York Times Service SAN SALVADOR - Politicians and foreign diplomats here say President Jose Napoleón Duarte's electoral triumph over his rightist opponents is almost certain to give him the power he needs to alter the economic and political structure of El Salvador.

But if he is to govern effectively, these officials say, Mr. Duarte must use his office in a way that has not previously been open to him. "He has to define the rules of the game and what he really thinks of social reforms," a close confident of Mr. Duarte said in an interview. 'He has to reach out in a way that he has not done up to now. Advisers to the president, members of conservative parties and Western officials said in interviews last week that, because of the landslide victory Mr. Duarte's Christian Democratic Party won in national legislative and municipal elections March 31, the political fortunes of the leftist guerrillas fighting the government had phinged to the lowest point ever. The advisers say the rebels now confront a centrist president who has won two elections and who will govern with the authority of having his party in power. The vote also is likely to force a major realignment among Mr. Duarte's conservative and nltraconservative opponents. They face the prospect of having the Chris-tian Democrats established as the dominant political force in El Salvador for years to come.

That likelihood prompted a con-servative coalition, led by the Nationalist Republican Alliance party of Roberto d'Aubuisson, to demand that the election be pullified. But the effort collapsed when the army high command challenged the conservatives' assertion that the vote had been fraudulent.

That reinforced Mr. Duarte's position and is being interpreted as a turning point in El Salvador's struggle for political stability. But it also showed the determining influence the army still maintains over political affairs, which could limit Mr. Duarte's efforts to stop human rights violations and to negotiate with the guerrillas.

Perhaps most important factor in the army's decision, according to a former army officer, was the high command's realization that its former alliance with extreme rightists and landowners had helped set off a civil war that cannot be controlled through rigged elections and indiscriminate killing. An official vote count of the elections is not expected to be completed until this week. But unofficial returns considered reliable indicate that Mr. Duarte's party has won almost 54 percent of the vote and the majority it was seeking in the National Assembly. Conservative parties have dominated the assembly until now, obstructing the changes that Mr. Duarte promised when he took office 10 months ago. Now, said a political analyst with close ties to the right, the Nationalist Republican Alliance is faced with deciding whether it is a movement tied to Mr. d'Aubuisson or a party able to survive in opposi-

Hugo Barrera, a founder of the alliance, has said Mr. d'Aubuisson has failed to lead effectively and reportedly is likely to form a new party or to try to take control of the alliance. Leaders of the other party in the rightist coalition, the National Conciliation Party, have said they would like to make a deal with

Mr. Duarte. ■ Villalobos Reported Shot

There is increasing evidence that the gnerrillas' top commander in eastern El Salvador has been shot and killed or badly wounded. The Associated Press reported Saturday from San Salvador.

The loss of Joaquin Villalobos, 33, would be a major blow to the rebels. His Peoples' Revolutionary Army is the largest of the five rebe groups battling the government.

Rebel sources in Mexico City and San Jose, Costa Rica, denied reports that Mr. Villalobos may have been slain. But Major Carlos Aviles, head of the Armed Forces Press Committee, said Friday night "we are almost 100 percent sure" Mr. Villalobos was killed or seri-ously wounded March 31 in a battle in northern San Miguel prov-

A U.S. adviser said Mr. Villalobos had been identified from photographs. The adviser said intelligence reports indicate the rebels are meeting to pick a new leader.

Goetz Bid to Buy Gun Is Reported

NEW YORK - Federal authorities are investigating a report that Bernhard H. Goetz, who has been charged in the shooting of four persons on the New York subway, may have tried to buy a gun in Florida while he was under indictment on gun possession charges. The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms has obtained records indicating that Mr. Goetz bought two guns last fall in Orlando, Florida, the U.S. attorney, Rudolph Giuliani, said Thursday. He said there were indications Mr. Goetz later tried to buy a third gun after he had been indicted. U.S. law requires persons buying guns to sign a form saying they are now plans to pay the contractor not under indictment. Mr. Goetz about $576 million for its next billwas indicted in January on three counts of illegal gun possession. Dynamics receives about $700 mil-one for a revolver he is accused of lion every month from the Penta-

SHUTTLE DELIVERY - Robert Stewart, left, and David Hilmers, two of the astronauts who will be on the maiden mission of the space shuttle Atlantis in September, took delivery Saturday of the craft at the Rockwell International assembly plant at Palmdale, California. Atlantis is the fourth and last of this series of shuttles.

Payments to Contractor

By Michael Weisskopf

Washington Past Service
WASHINGTON — The De-

for overhead expenses, has an-nounced it will deduct the amount from current billings for producing

The Pentagon also said Friday it.

would continue to freeze $30 million in monthly overhead payments

until the nation's largest defense contractor reforms billing procedures to prevent frivolous claims.

Pentagon auditors concluded that General Dynamics had been paid $244 million more than it should have for overhead costs since 1973.

The Pentagon said it previously had recovered $120 million through normal accounting proce-

Rather than waiting for General Dynamics to reimburse the balance of the overpayments, the Pentagon

ing for labor and material. General using to shoot four youths Dec. 22. gon in "progress payments" to cov-

These moves came one day after

Rockwell

sonal entertainment and travel as well as kennel fees for a corporate executive's dog. Usually, because of the sheer number involved, Pentagon audits of military contractor accounts are performed only years later to ensure that the claims were

When the secretary of defense,

Caspar W. Weinberger, announced the audit of General Dynamics on March 5 as the opening of a "get-those payments until General Dynamics changes accounting and billings for expenses unrelated to overhead payments.

weapons production.

in line with procurement rules.

Strike by Civilian Crew Confirmed by U.S. Navy

By Fred Hiatt and Rick Arkinson

Washington Post Service
WASHINGTON — A U.S. Navy ship headed toward an exercise in the Indian Ocean was delayed for 11 days last fall when its civilian captain and deck officers went on strike, navy officials have

The SS Mormac Star, a tanker, is one of a growing number of ships owned or leased by the navy but operated by civilian crews. Nine other ships were affected when the International Organization of Mas-ters. Mates and Pilots called a strike Oct. 3, although none was delayed as long as the Mormac Star, Lieutenant Dave Morris of the navy said last week in response

The navy is growing increasingly dependent on civilian crews as it expands toward the Reagan administration's goal of a 600-ship fleet. Civilians now operate 123 navy ships, up from 78 four years ago. These include supply, repair and submarine-tracking vessels.
"We have a limited field of people to operate our ships," Everett Pyatt, the assistant secretary of the navy for shipbuilding and logistics, told a congressional subcommittee Naval officials said civilian crews on submarine-trackers would not present problems in wartime. "There is no contingency plan to replace civilian crews and technicians with military personnel, nor Pentagon Will Withhold is one deemed necessary," the House Appropriations subcommittee on defense was told. er the costs of building weapons. Auditors were ordered to review erate about half. The rest are oper- Agriculture has reported. ated by private shipping lines, which generally hire union crews. General Dynamics's past overhead

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department, moving to recover the $124 million it says it has charging the government for permack Bulk Transport Lines of Stamford, Connecticut, and is leased to the pavy to deliver fresh water to an Indian Ocean flotilla that carries "prepositioned" weap-ons and equipment for the Rapid Deployment Force.

Last October, when the ship was upposed to sail from the naval base on the Indian Ocean island of Diego Garcia, three unions repre-sented different members of the crew: the Masters, Mates and Pilots union, for officers; the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association tough" policy against military con-tractors, he froze the company's for engineers, and the National Friday, the Pentagon said it Maritime Union, for seamen. would continue the suspension of But Moore McCormack and four other shipping lines had de-clined to renew their contracts with management practices to prevent the officers' union and the union called a strike. Burton M. Epstein, general counsel for the 12,000-member Masters union in Linthicum, Maryland, said: "It was the action of the company which precipitated the in-cident. If you're told" that the union members are "no longer members of the pension plan, that your wages are reduced, you can choose to continue working or you can ask to be relieved."

The company sent replacements to the base, but the striking officers prevailed on the new crew to join the strike, company officials said. By the time a second crew could reach the island, 11 days had

The nine other ships affected by the strike found replacement crews soon enough to meet sailing dates, or met their schedules by steaming faster than planned after leaving port, Lieutenant Morris said. Most of the vessels were oilers.

The navy is building a dozen submarine-tracking ships that will be manned by union seamen and contract technicians. The ships are to cost $39 million, including an extra $1.75 million for each "to incorporate single-man staterooms" as union crews demand, navy officials said.

The unions contend that they operate such ships more cheaply because they use fewer sailors than the navy and because of the high retirement costs for navy sailors.

Foreigners Buying U.S. Land

Agence France-Presse
WASHINGTON — Foreigners or companies controlled by them own 13.832 million acres (5.6 mil-The navy's Maritime Sealift lion hectares), or I percent, of the Command controls the 123 ships forest and agricultural land in the and hires civil service crews to op- United States, the Department of ordering direct from Antwerp world's most important cut diamond market. Give diamond to the ones you love, buy for investment, for your enjoyment Write airmail for free price list or call us:

diamantexport lelgium - Tel.: (32.3) 234.07.51 at the Diamond Club Bldg. Gold Medal

Joachim Goldenstein

Battle Over U.S. Budget Centering on Social Security Cuts of defense and not enough out of flation that exceeds 3 percent. In-

edged that he faces a tough light on ful" of getting the compromise that his proposed budget compromise, senior citizens and Democratic congressmen opened the campaign against it by accusing him of breaking a promise not to reduce Social Besides the Social Security reductions, the measure would reduce by half the president's re-dozens of federal programs, including the Amtrak passenger rail system and the program to share reve-

By James R. Dickenson
Washington Post Service
WASHINGTON — As President Ronald Reagan acknowledges was very optimistic and hopehe reached with Senate Republicans approved by Congress. "It's going to be a fight. It's been a fight since 1981," Mr. Reagan just want to keep on spending in quested increase in military spending and would end or curtail said. "There are factions there that

The original budget proposal for fiscal 1986 that Mr. Reagan submitted to Congress is considered to

The president has rejected a subsequent resolution worked out by domestic programs. Defenders of dozens of programs that the compromise would curtail or eliminate were preparing to fight it out in Congress. One of the principal battles is likely to be over the proposal to limit cost-of-living increases in Social Security and other federal re-Under the compromise proposal, Social Security cost-of-living in-creases for the next three years would be limited to 2 percent a inflation that exceeds 4 percent.

istration's current economic pro-

Two Democrats in Congress, Senator Daniel P. Moynihan of New York and Representative Claude Peoper of Florida, an-nounced Friday that they would try to force separate floor votes on the Social Security provisions.

The impetus for the limit on benefits came not from the congressional negotiators, but from the White House. The White House chief of staff, Donald T. Regan, Under current law, Social Secu- asked who proposed it in the budthe Senate Budget Committee be-rity recipients receive an increase get negotiations, said, "I did, on cause, he said, it took too much out equal to the amount of annual inflation is not expected to exceed 4 by Mr. Reagan and other adminispercent next year under the admin-tration officials, that the Social Security provisions violated a Reagan campaign promise.

In last year's presidential cam paign, the Democratic presidential nominee, Walter F. Mondale, alleged that Mr. Reagan had a "se-cret plan" to cut Social Security In a debate with Mr. Mondale on Oct. 7, Mr. Reagan said: "A president should never say 'never.' Bu I'm going to violate that rule and say 'never.' I will never stand for a reduction of the Social Security benefits to the people that are now After his re-election in November, Mr. Reagan began to soften his stand. In a news conference on Jan. 9, he said he would have to "look at" Social Security changes if faced with an "overwhelming bipartisan majority in both houses Mr. Pepper said Friday, "I'm shocked that the president of the United States would deliberately repudiate a solemn commitment he made to the senior citizens of this country that he would not cut So-

Mr. Reagan noted Friday that the Senate Budget Committee had proposed eliminating the cost-ofs living increase for one year, while in the new compromise "we're ap-The Department of Transporta-uproving a guaranteed increase, tion estimated that car theft cost more than 6 percent because it's Americans $5 billion in 1983, either: | compounded over a three-year pe The marking, which will be done directly or through rising insurance nod, regardless of what inflation

In Bangkok the utmost in luxury is a business resort amidst 26 acres of gardens.

HOTEL SIAM

INTER • CONTINENTAL

THE ADVANTAGE IS INTER-CONTINENTAL

INTER CONTINENTAL HOTELS

Srapatum Palace Property, Rama One Road, P.O. Box 2052, 252 9040/60, Telex: 81155. For reservations call: Hong Kong: 5-8440311/3, Singapore: 2202476, Tokyo: 2150777, Osaka: 2640666 or call your nearest Inter-Continental sales office.

U.S. Plans to Stamp Car Parts to Thwart Thieves

By Irvin Molotsky New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The federal government, having just about conceded that automobile thieves will be able to defeat almost any anti-cars after they have been stolen. automobile parts most attractive to up. thieves would be stamped with the National Highway Traffic Safe time for use on 1987 models.

The rules are sized of the Administration, said that proThe rules are sized of the Administration, said that pro-The rules are aimed at shops that posed federal regulations would re- as the cars are made, will not cost premiums.

take apart stolen cars and sell them quire numbers on engines, buyers more than $15 for each vehi-piecemeal, often realizing more transmissions, hoods, grilles, cle, Mr. McLaughlin said, than the cars were worth whole. bumpers, front fenders, rear quar-

that thefts cannot be stopped," said Richard O. Elder, a vice president theft gadget devised by manufac- of the Highway Loss Data Institurers, is completing regulations tute, an insurance industry group. that will make it easier to recover He said that the numbering system would address the problem "post-

Brian McLaughlin, an official of regulations would be approved in

"The numbers are a concession ter panels, trunk floorpans, frame or supporting structures, passenger doors and "the deck lid, tailgate or hatchback, whichever is present." The deck lid is the cover over the

Mr. McLaughlin said that the Under rules being drawn up by theft, at the point where the thief numbers would probably be rethe Department of Transportation, would be selling the car or cutting it quired on all cars whose theft rates were above average. He said the Automobile theft is a major problem in the United States, where more than a million cars were reported stolen in 1983, the most recent year for which figures were available. Government statistics show a slight drop in thefts in recent years, but also a sharp decline in the rate at which stolen cars cial Security benefits."

Get Diplomacy Working

Notwithstanding the Sandinists' quick and defiant rejection of it, President Reagan's new Nicaragua plan is a step forward in one important respect: It points a way to suspension of the war for at least two months in order to give negotiations a better chance.

The regime in Managua refused to accept the basic terms of the Reagan offer — a ceasefire and talks with the resistance - when the resistance put them forward on March 1. But now the official U.S. weight is behind those terms. And with Colombia's president pronouncing the new plan "positive," Mr. Reagan has some basis for asserting that "we'll have the support of the Contadoras" — the Latin democracies that have been trying to mediate.

Mr. Reagan does not dispute that it was congressional opposition to funding the "con-tras" that led him to his new plan. It reflects his still intense and lopsided focus on keeping them in the field. He insists that the Sandinists will not negotiate unless Congress releases $14 million for nonmilitary needs of the "contras" right away and leaves him free to fill their military needs if talks do not pan out soon. For this he is being widely accused, by the Sandinists and others, of demanding unreasonably that Managua negotiate with a gun at its head, This is so, although, given the Sandinists' treatment of their opposition, it is not far-fetched for Mr. Reagan to fear getting trapped in a situation where talks drag on and on.

The more relevant question remains what will best move the Sandinists toward respect for their neighbors and - much the more difficult and controversial goal — toward re-conciliation with fellow Nicaraguans. The Nicaraguan resistance has some notably democratic elements. But the three-year record of this U.S.-backed insurgency does not build confidence in its utility as a bargaining lever. It has given the Sandinists the high ground of Nicaraguan nationalism, undercut mediation by the Latin democracies and kept Mr. Reagan fighting a costly uphill battle at home.

It needs to be underlined that the reluctance of many Americans to support the "contras" militarily comes not from favor for the Sandinists but from an objection to reliance on military intervention in Central America. That the Sandinists also object to intervention does not make it more palatable. The element that the Contadora group is encouraging in U.S. policy is not the threat of a return to intervention in 60 days - this runs counter to the Contadora charter - but the possibility of a wider ambit for the group's own diplomacy.

It would be a waste if all Mr. Reagan's new plan produced were a hotter argument over the contras." Believers and skeptics alike ought to try to profit from the fact that he offers a new way to put together a military policy and the pursuit of a political settlement. He has reshuffled some of the cards. Perhaps more of them can be reshuffled at the same time.

The prime requirement is an intense common effort to get a prompt and unconditional cease-fire. The initiating side, and its patrons, will deserve much credit. The side that drags its feet will lose accordingly. A cease-fire can save lives, lower the temperature and improve the atmosphere for talks.

One can imagine a clutter of talks and of bids for talks; between Nicaraguans, between the United States and Nicaragua, and in the Contadora group. The Sandinists and their Nicaraguan opponents have much to talk over and much to compromise on. Washington and Managua could usefully resume the bilateral talks that the Reagan administration broke off. On the Contadora group, however, fails a special responsibility to use the moment well. Its urgent task is to address the objections that other Central American nations have to the Contadora draft that Nicaragua accepted last Sept. 7. These objections relate mostly to in-spection and verification of crucial nonintervention measures binding on both sides. This seems to us the likeliest place for early progress to demonstrate what desperately needs demonstrating: that there is an alternative to war.

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

The Soviet Oil Problem

Soviet oil production fell last year for the first time in a generation. It must have been a profoundly unpleasant shock in a country that, like America until the early 1970s, was accustomed to a steadily rising supply. There have already been repercussions. In the past couple of months the ministers of oil and of electric power have, as the Soviets say, retired.

The immediate cause of the trouble seems to be the inadequate maintenance that is com-mon in Soviet industry. Perhaps improved management under a new oil minister, can put Soviet oil production back on that rising curve - for a time. But somewhere ahead of them lies a more intractable limit. Although Soviet resources are enormous, the geology of Siberia has important similarities to that of North America. Development of America's oil fields started several decades earlier, and it seems likely that Soviet production will follow the same general pattern. American production peaked in 1970 and fell in the following years. Despite the enormous price increases, the supnas not risen. It has our stopped falling, and now seems to be stabilized at roughly 8 percent below the level of 15 years ago. Simply holding that level is requiring a gigantic effort by the oil industry, with high capital investment. There have been slight gains in production in the past several years, but those gains have been won only by a dramatic expansion of drilling. The number of oil wells drilled in the United States last year was more than 41,000 - a record, and more than double the rate in the late 1970s.

Soviet ability in this technology is not to be underestimated. For more than a decade they have produced more oil than any country in the world, and have done it in a region with an unforgiving climate. Several years ago they surpassed the United States to become the world's leading producer of natural gas as well. But to hold the present output steady is going to require an increasingly strenuous exertion.

The United States responded to the constraints on its domestic oil production in the 1970s by increasing imports. The Soviets are unlikely to do that. One reason is that they now depend on oil exports for most of their foreign exchange earnings. They may be aptain oil production joins their agricultural struggle as a source of economic strain.

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

Other Opinion

An Arms Vice Closes on Japan The international military situation in the Far East surrounding Japan has become tense. We wonder if it is not possible for the United States and the Soviet Union to have talks to prevent the further spread of military deployment and whether Japan, with the cooperation of other Asian nations, can work for a similar purpose. The superpowers' military buildup race around Japan will needlessly heighten the tension in the region, inviting a dangerous situation not only for Japan.

- The Mainichi Daily News (Tokyo).

Anti-Anti-Semitism in the '80s

Without [traditional Christian anti-Semitisml the Nazis could not have created the Holocaust. They used the demonization of the Jews by the Christian churches to condition their own citizens to indifference, their murder squads to insensibility and the rest of world to closing its eyes, ears and doors.

The Jews and the Christians are now approaching each other on a mutual moral basis: the perfectibility of the world, in this world. Terrible acts such as those recently in Paris show that our fight is by no means over. But today's anti-Semitism, rather than racial or even economic, is predominantly political. Therefore the fight against it should concentrate on political means.

- Gerhart Riegner, who has long worked for Jewish-Christian rapprochement, quoted in The Sunday Times (London).

Not the Way to Help Blacks

Many people are tempted to regard the recent upheavals in South Africa as the beginning of the end of the white-dominated regime. It is almost equally tempting to believe that the cause of the blacks could now be furthered by pressure and threats from other countries. But both assumptions are entirely false. Political motives may be behind the riots in isolated cases, but their main cause is the economic recession, which affects lower-income groups most severely. And although the chief sufferers are the black masses, the number of whites who are feeling the pinch is growing. The scope for racial reform is thus restricted, for the considerable cost would have to be borne by whites who are now even less inclined to accept compromises that would be an additional at to their livelihoods. - Neue Zürcher Zeitung (Zurich).

FROM OUR APRIL 8 PAGES, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

1910: China Cuts London From Tour PEKING - Coincident with the departure of Prince Tsai Tao and a military mission from Yokohama for San Francisco, the announcement is made that the Prince will not visit England. Great Britain had notified China that the prince would not be welcomed there unless China agreed to meet British demands on certain pending claim cases. This demand was regarded in diplomatic circles as tantamount to an insult, and the Imperial family met it by promptly cutting England from the nese construe the cordial welcome which had been given to Duke Tsai Hsum in London as inspired solely by a desire to sell warships, while the refusal to welcome Prince Tsai Tao reveals a recognition that Great Britain is unable to compete with America and Germany in army equipment.

1935: Church Bells Silent on Sunday BERLIN -- The difficulties from Evangelicals and Catholics with which Nazi authorities are being faced were revealed in church services [on April 7] of both denominations. Many Protestant churchgoers had the unprecedented experience of church bells being kept silent and candles on altars unlit. The services were directed against what was termed a new mysticism preached by certain Nazi "false prophets." The passive demonstration of muted bells and dark altars was given by pastors who are opposed to Reichs-bishop Ludwig Mueller's church regime and who have banded as the Confessional Synod of Priests against the arrest of many of their colleagues. A new arrest was reported of a pastor who was preparing his Sunday sermon. He was released later but forbidden to enter his own church.

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE JOHN HAY WHITNEY, Chairman 1958-1982 KATHARINE GRAHAM, WILLIAM S. PALEY, ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER LEE W. HUEBNER, Publish PHILIP M. FOISIE WALTER WELLS Executive Editor Editor RENE BONDY RENE BOND!
ALAIN LECOUR
ASsociate Publisher
RICHARD H. MORGAN
STEPHAN W. CONAWAY
FRANÇOIS DESMAISONS
Director of Circulation
ROLF D. KRANEPUHL Director of Advertising Sale ROBERT K. McCABE SAMUEL ABT CARL GEWIRTZ Deputy Editor Deputy Editor

International Herald Tribune. 181 Avenue Charles-de-Ganile, 92200 Neurlly-sur-Seine, France. Telephone: 747-1265. Telex: 612718 (Herald). Cables Herald Paris. Prance. Telephone: 141-1203. Telephone: 1012/10 (Treating). Calores Flexand Facts.

Directeur de la publication: Waler N. Thayer.

Asia Headquarters, 24-34 Hennesty Rd., Hong Kong, Tel. 5-285618. Telex 61170.

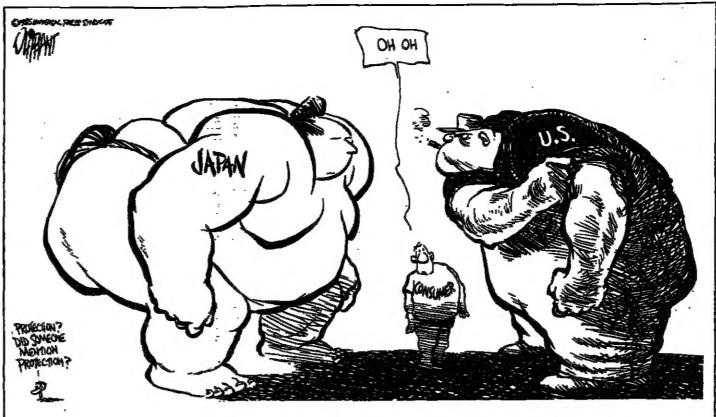

Managing Dr. U.K.: Robin MacKichum, 63 Long Arre, London WC2. Tel. 836-4902. Telex 262009.

S.A. au capital de 1.200.000 F. RCS Nanterre B 732021126. Commission Paritaire No. 61337.

U.S. subscription: $234 yearly. Second-class postage paid at Long Island City, N.Y. 11101.

6 1983, International Herald Tribune. All rights reserved.

Japan, Canada, Europe, Taiwan, OPEC, Mexico

WASHINGTON — The United States has a trade deficit problem with the world, not just with Japan. In part stimulated by a faulty economic policy that allows budget deficits in the 5200-billion range, it imported $123 billion more than it exported last year — a $54-billion increase over the $69-billion deficit in 1983.

The huge trade deficit has caused a horrendous

current account deficit of more than $100 billion, transforming the United States from a net creditor country into a net debtor.

Virtually all the increase in the U.S. trade deficit last year ($50 billion) is traceable to a surge in imported manufactured goods, much of it caused by an overvained dollar that made imports cheaper and exports less competitive.

On top of its $37-billion deficit with Japan,

America had deficits of $20 billion with Canada, $17 billion with Western Europe, $11 billion with Taiwan, $14 billion with OPEC members, $6 billion with Mexico and $4 billion with South Korea. So the first problem is global. Washington must cope with it globally rather than pre-tend that all will be well if Japan imports more. A second problem is the restricted nature of access to the Japanese market. But this, as Lawrence Krause, an Asia expert at the Brookings Institution, points out, is a problem for the whole world - not only for the United States but for European and various Asian nations that have been frustrated in their efforts to break into the second-most-important economy in the world.

Undersecretary of Commerce Lionel Olmer has been leading the current round of negotia-tions with Japan. He explained the other day why By Hobart Rowen access to Japan's telecommunications market is considered the "litmus test" of its willingness to cooperate - even though free access would add up to just a small part of the total trade.

"It's a watershed issue because we believe we're predominant in the world in that technology," Mr. Olmer said. "We can sell our products anywhere in the world on a fair, competitive basis, and we want that opportunity in Japan because we need access to the world's secondlargest market to sustain that competitiveness."

Sir Roy Denman, head of the European Com-munity's delegation in Washington, pointed out recently that Japanese imports of manufactured goods from the rest of the world have remained constant since 1960 at about 2.5 percent of GNP -less than half of the American-European ratio. "In fact, imports into Japan are mostly imports of raw materials or food that they cannot get from inside Japan," he said.

In an interview, Mr. Krause said total Japanese imports in constant dollar terms of all goods and services were less last year than in 1973, as a percentage of GNP—13.1 percent compared to 14.2 percent. By contrast, Japan's exports as a share of GNP bulged in the period from 11.3 to 20.6 percent, "which means that Japan was putting tremendous pressures on the rest of the world by expanding its market shares."

So despite 44 "packages" to open up the Japanese market since 1973, foreign penetration has been small. Who is to blame? Says the West German economics minister, Martin Bange-mann: "You can't blame the Japanese govern-ment for decisions of the market there. Some of the products [Westerners] make are not fitting for the Japanese market." He warns that an attempt by the U.S. Congress to punish Japan with bilateral retaliation will backfire "and en-got to make a commitment in time and effort far seyond what we've ever done."

protecting infant industries and using every known bureaucratic device possible to limit the Congress will act emotionally.

"It's a big mistake to think that if we act tough, the Japanese will act rationally," Mr. Krause said. "If you think emotions run high here, you should measure the emotions there. The 'trade tensions' story is Topic A in the newspapers and on television: The main theme is that 'America demands more from Japan. Emotion usually turns the Japanese inward. That's not good for the rest of the world —it wasn't good in the '30s and it won't be good in the '80s."

The Washington Post.

German economics minister, Martin Bange-

danger the whole multilateral trading system."

Adds New York economist Henry Kaufman, just back from a trip to Japan: "The question is, how well are we ready to do business in Japan today? More of us must learn how to speak Japanese, learn their styles and their ways. We've

But it is not just the foreigners' fault. Japan has done a masterful job of throwing up roadblocks, purchase of foreign goods.

The danger is that in its frustration with the trade deficit — really, with the Reagan administration's economic policies as well as with Japan

Peres Needs Discreet American Pressure on Israel

N EW YORK — One often hears that Israel is divided into two major blocs that neutralize each other one favoring and one opposing withdrawal from the occupied terrince with UN Security Council Resolution 242. One also hears that no Israeli leader can defy a growing majority opposed to territorial concessions in the West Bank and Gaza, and that any attempt toward progress would therefore be futile. So, the argument goes, why try? In fact this is quite wrong.

To begin with, the Israeli public is no less prepared now than ever before to accept a compromise leading to peace. Israelis are in fact divided in three camps. Certainly, at the two extremes there are ideologically committed blocs: One remains adamantly opposed to any withdrawal and is ready to risk an indefinite state of war; the other is prepared to ex-change virtually all the territories for a peaceful settlement. Yet neither of them constitutes more than 15 to 20 percent of the population.

The remaining 60 percent are somewhere in the middle. Those centrists feel that Israel should retain control over as much of the territories as it can but return as much of them as it must. The key words there, "can" and "must," point to the dif-

N EW YORK — Leaders of the Democratic Party continue to attribute the election debacle to Ronald Reagan's invulnerable pop-ularity. That false perception will prevent rehabilitation of the party.

has asserted itself worldwide, irrespective of the popularity of lead-ers. Canada defeated Pierre Ellion Trudeau and elected a conservative, Brian Mulroney. Britain turned from Labor to Margaret Thatcher.

West Germany defeated Helmut

Schmidt and chose a conservative,

Helmut Kohl. Sweden has changed

course, and France under Socialist

François Mitterrand has vielded to increasingly conservative policies.

Extreme governmental paternal-ism has been found wanting de-spite the nobility of its purpose.

The Depression of the 1930s was alleviated in America by Franklin D. Roosevelt's daring relief programs. At a time when banks were closed and apples were sold on the streets by the inemployed, he saved the nation by accepting the responsibility of the government for relief in all directions. This became a great tradition. But when times re-turned to normal and the relief process accelerated, the public became disillusioned - not because it failed to recognize the need for compassion but because the plethora of relief programs was self-defeating by its excessiveness. Aside from the enormous bureaucracies required to execute it, greed raised its ugly head. Almost every pro-

One need only look at the idealistic titles of the statutes now being cut back to understand the revul-sion in many quarters. Their purgram begat a flood of fraud.

A new pattern of conservatism

By David Shaham

and greatness, but it realizes that not all wishes can be fulfilled, that there are limits to power, that compromise is sometimes unavoidable. Whether these centrists learn to distinguish between the desirable and the possible will depend on Israel's leaders.

Were the government to give the public a feeling that Israel can hold on to the occupied territories unchal-lenged, it would be indicating to the people that their wishes are realizable. Were it to introduce a concrete withdrawal plan, it would demonstrate that the centrist block must forgo some of those wishes. The majority would follow either lead.

The history of the last decade or so clearly supports this. Most opinion polls have shown that the majority of In January 1974, for example, 80

Israelis do not favor withdrawal as an incentive for a peace settlement. Yet, over the years, major withdrawal agreements have had overwhelming public support. Why the discrepan cy? Polls measure preferences in hypothetical situations, not actual behavior in concrete situations.

Democrats Must Make Economic Sense

By Louis Nizer

pose was humane, but can any goverument indulge in largesse as a continuing policy? In far too many cases these well-intentioned measures did not achieve their objectives despite billions spent. The Reagan administration, for example, claims to have given more subsidies to farmers than any previous one, yet farmers now rank high on

Where is the legislator who can resist a bill that offers aid to any group of citizens suffering distress in a volatile economic system? But the public is disillusioned by the Democratic Party's undisguised appeal to interest groups.

The concept of coalition has veered dangerously toward dema-gogic appeals to special interests. Today no special-interest coalition can guarantee an election. In 1984

even the young voted two-to-one for Ronald Rengan. So did women, despite the vice presidential candi-

and the mability of the Treasury to create unlimited doles for any group with outstretched hands. In a capitalistic democracy there are constraints that force difficult choices. More and more Americans are embracing the notion that they should focus energies on improving the general health of the economy

for the well-being of all, rather than locusing on relief medicines.

Viewed in that context, the solu-tions being offered by those Demo-cratic leaders who seek party unity are too generalized to be of value.

The Democrats need a balance dacy of Geraldine Ferraro.

the desperation list.

engagement agreement with Egypt, which entailed a partial withdrawal from Sinai. By 1977, Menachem Begin, then prime minister, won the support of an unprecedented 82 percent of Israelis for the Camp David accords, which called for a complete withdrawal from Sinai and the removal of all Israeli settlements. What tipped the balance? The forthcoming Egyptian recognition of Israel helped considerably to convince the public to support the agreement. But Mr. Begin's major argument in its favor was that American pressure would ensue if Israel refrained from signing. Clearly, then, even if Israeli leaders are willing and ready to supply the necessary guidance to the public, they still need tangible proof of both Arab acceptance and outside pressure in order to convince the hesitant majority that concession is unavoidable. Without either ingredient the peace process cannot move forward.

The situation in Israel is further complicated by the existence of a coalition government, part of which

The party must modify the extreme liberal policies of the past and pre-sent a palatable program of humane conduct. Demagogic money solutions for every ill no longer appeal to the public. It seeks a responsible governmental approach.

Democrats should reread the speeches of Adlai Stevenson during his two presidential campaigns. He was an educator rather than a ha-ranguer. He asked labor to give up the arrogance that employers had previously displayed when they were on top of the heap. He asked manufacturers to accept their responsibility to the public. He lectured the American Legion on the distortions of superpatriotism. He told politicians not to approach every subject with an open mouth.

Unless the party changes its course it will lose more members

like Jeane Kirkpatrick, who complained that the party deserted her, not she the party. And Republicans like Ronald Reagan will continue to invoke the names of Roosevelt.

Truman and John Kennedy more

The Republican Party has been the beneficiary of an oil glut that reduced inflation and interest rates.

It has profited from a favorable cyclical tide in the economy. But it will be vulnerable in the next presi-dential election, partly because the shadow of the deficit may loom larger and even more depressing.

The Democrats' tradition as a populist party is still healthy and noble.

It needs to reflect deeply on the

The writer, a lawyer, is a veteran reasons why it has been rejected.

commentator on public affairs. He con-tributed this to The New York Times.

often than Walter Mondale did.

is aligned with the small hard-line constituency that opposes change. But there should be no doubt about ference between the world of wishes and the world of reality.

Above all the centrist bloc is pragmatic. It aspires to Israeli strength

Above all the centrist bloc is pragmatic. It aspires to Israeli strength

The constraint of Israelis polled objected to But there should be no doubt about Prime Minister Shimon Peres's readiness to supply the necessary leadermatic. It aspires to Israeli strength

The constraint of Israelis polled objected to But there should be no doubt about Prime Minister Shimon Peres's readiness to supply the necessary leadermatic. It aspires to Israeli strength a new momentum for peace, but his whole political future depends on it. His interests are reinforced by what seems to be growing realism among the Palestinians. He also has support - some open and some implicit - from several crucial Arab states. Finally, he has a time limit -September 1986, when the Likud leader. Yitzhak Shamir, is to become the prime minister of the coalition government -and this can only prod im to move toward peace. What stands in Mr. Peres's way? The other vital ingredient - the creative, energetic and persuasive in-volvement of the United States - has been missing. America is the only major power that can help Mr. Peres in his effort. As a proven friend, it could apply discreet pressure on Isra-el's leaders and at the same time provide ample incentives to the Arabs. When it stands aside, America helps to perpetuate the deadlock. It pays lip service to the search for peace, encouraging the parties directly involved to enter into "direct negotiations," yet such talks could bear no fruit without active outside involvement. Meanwhile, American inaction both the Arab world and Israel. The writer, an Israeli journalist, is executive director of the Tel Aviv-based International Center for Peace in the Middle East. He contributed this comment to The New York Times.

encourages the rejectionist fronts in

The Politics Henry. Of Italians Are Shifting

By Adolfo Battaglia The writer leads the Republican group in Italy's Chamber of Deputies.

The state of the s

the room Andrews

Me process. Vietnam

The Franchist of the Property of the Property of the second se

STATE AS ALTER LINE &

BANKEL IN LAST MARK

Section of the con-who be decisare That well like Union No.

के लिख्या विकास के कि

Redustric Dollar S.

de tomable a distant p

the hand the Novel

end details

The part of them

White Court - 12 The me and there can be

Mand to face this te.

mention to that I de ment of Scoth

pilet Dem : 4

THE DE RECEPCION OF

ma committee and the admireriated Mr. Che

man ergeber (c tieten

all lebes piels on iged

inace, the substant let

See half a multiple U.S.

The American - " 15

in Super lacked is street

Stand Sense Australia

sammes for a single

200 (2000) A C. V. 1877

careey and are able to

and in backing their

Bearings in 2, seed

藥坊 the fashion arise to क्ष्मी ए त्यार एउएर र

Be la lan grades e

The United States Lands

ber war dragged on an mounted But the

Some American tend

and a separate li be

A limin would not ok alod to negotiate

Sported cever min

李峨山 mainz !

sam President Johnson

and agreed acte 1968 electron. In tare operations after monable for or persanda bomicing nati -

-sarely despended the applications pications

azted Berneen 1003 3

a und consumerations

The les repons

American demon

amian is the part

Simplement groups see of solen. For them, V

Fine dikerens from v

lawke W

By Steve Loh.

MERRA - Prints A

laste who comple:

and an unusual gareer, islam party leader islam Party leader islam Party lead is tradi

and itself as a pr

and wealth p

ter, business are and Australia

A file American

35 :21 Wile 27

ROME — Italy enjoys a wide audience abroad for its fashions and wines. Has comparable attention been paid, by Americans in particu-lar, to Italy's new politics? Will for-eign friends be prepared to read May's regional and local election results in the light of an electoral trend that stems from a deep transforma-tion in postwar Italian society?

One sign of change has been the emergence, for the first time since World War II, of the so-called minor parties - Republicans and Socialists, around whom orbit the Liberals and the Social Democrats. These are intermediate parties between two poles—the Christian Democrats and the Communists, both mass parties.

The emergence of the intermediate forces means a shift from an ideological to a pragmatic approach - a shift being driven by the underlying societal change that has seen a reduction in the electoral strength of the Chris-tian Democrats and the Communists.

This means that in the coming years a strengthened Italy is likely to play a more dynamic role in Europe-an unity, Western defense and Medi-terranean stability.

The decline of the old politics has been especially evident since 1981. The Christian Democrats have held the prime minister's office for only eight months, under Amintore Fanfani; the Republicans for 17 months under Giovanni Spadolini, now the defense minister; and the Socialists for 20 months under Bettino Craxi. For 37 months, intermediate parties have headed the government.

The new trend emerged after the 1976 parliamentary elections, when the intermediate parties won 17.2 percent of the vote and the Christian Democrats and Communists together 73 percent. In the 1979 elections the four parties edged upward to 18.5 percent; the two major parties dropped to 68.5 percent. In 1983 the intermediate parties again rose, reaching 23.3 percent, and the two major parties declined to 62.6 percent. The Communists rallied a bit in the 1984 elections for the European Parliament (a sympathy vote after the death of the party leader, Enrico Berlinguer), but the trend re-emerged in municipal elections held afterward.

To be sure, the trend to the intermediate parties was fueled by the multiple crises that came to a head in early 1981: terrorism, galloping inflation (22 percent at the time) and political immorality, chiefly the "Ital-ian Watergate" scandal of the "P-2" Masonic lodge, with its misdeeds and corruption in high places. But the trend also has deep roots in three waves of modernization that have struck Italy since the war.

First, from the late 1950s through the early '60s the economy went an essentially agricultural to an industrial base, introducing fundamental changes in the style of life. Second, secularization took hold.

In a nation in which the Roman Catholic Church is enormously influential, divorce and abortion, whatever we may think of them, became legal in the '70s after nearly a century of political struggle — decisions con-firmed by overwhelming majorities in successive referendams.

The third wave - movement toward a post-industrial society -- was galvanized by the need to solve problems generated by the oil price shocks of 1973 and 1977. One sign of the new times is the increasing maturity of labor unions, especially evident in 1984 in the dramatic reduction in hours lost through strikes.

Of course, with pockets of pre-industrial underdevelopment remaining, the economic picture is varied. But overall the emerging Italy is closer to the rest of Europe and the West, as is evident in headway against the Mafia, steps toward long overdue tax reform and movement toward constitutional change aimed at streamlining government operations.

An understanding of why parties long deemed minor hold the reins, and why they are crucial to Italy's democratic growth and international position, will help avoid misunderstandings and tensions with these growing political forces. The New York Times.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'Right' Is the Wrong Way Recent Arab peace feelers have

elicited ritual references by press and politicians to the PLO's refusal to recognize explicitly "Israel's right to exist." The refusal is cited as sufficient grounds for avoiding talks. This approach is not reasonable. It is a major obstacle to peace.

The word "right" has unavoidable moral connotations. Few would argue today that the Zionist settlers of Palestine or the European settlers of North America, South Africa and Australasia had any moral "right" to conquer and colonize the lands of their choice and to dispossess, disperse and, to varying degrees, destroy their indigenous populations.

Such things happen. But there is a profound distinction between asking the dispossessed to acknowledge the new reality as a fact and demanding that they acknowledge the "rightness" of it. At issue is an avowal by the losers that they were not just outguined but inherently unworthy of basic human rights - in effect, somehow less than fully human.

Furthermore, formal recognition is the sole significant card in the Palestinians' hand. Their strength is a moral one: the acceptance by most of the world that the continuing dispossession and dispersal of the Palestinian miads in the context of resutution for grave injustices inflicted on Jewish Europeans by Christian Europeans

- are grave injustices in their own right, arguably the gravest inflicted on one people by another since World War II. From this acceptance flows the widespread nonrecognition of Israel by non-Western nations that have experienced colonization.
It is vindictive to require the selfhumiliation of a people who have little left but their pride. It is unrealis-tic to expect the Palestinians to yield what little leverage they possess before negotiations even begin. It is counterproductive to the cause of peace to demand from the Palestinians the one thing they cannot give.

"Right" is the wrong word here.
On a human level, talking constitutes mutual recognition. Let's get started. JOHN V. WHITBECK.

A Civil War Precedent Regarding the opinion column "For-eign Policy: Set Your Own, Just 535" (March 28) by Ellen Goodman:

That the writer opposes private anti-Communist efforts in Nicaragua. is clear. What is less clear is whether it is anti-communism per se or the non-official nature of these efforts that bothers her. If the latter, I look. forward to a Goodman column retroactively attacking the private, nonpeople - often justified in Western official anti-Franco efforts of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade in the 30s.

JACK JOLIS. "Antwerp?"

the house succession was and in succession and i centers on a clare the United States samper criticism

samper criti had a Labor mem minur of praise are stated to the course the state and the size of praise are stated to the size of th

of Italians re Shifting

Adolfo Battagli iter leads the Republican to taly's Chamber of Depun

VE — Italy enjoys a water care abroad for its later and so and so its later and by Americans in the regional and local decisions from a fitting and local decisions from a fitting and so and so are so from a decision. the light of an electrical to me light of an electric mans from a deep under mans from a deep under postwar Italian society sign of change has been men for the first time to the so-called account whom orbit the late. Social Democrats There exists a parties between the Christian between the control of the diate parties between the Christian Democrats -the Christian Demorals, numinists, both mas pain amergence of the menda necans a shift from an idea necans a shift from a shift fr pragmatic approach—as independent pragmatic approach—as riven by the underlying it mage that has seen a rolog lectoral strength of the Communication of the nore dynamic role in time i, Western defense and in lectine of the old political pecially evident sinc k ristian Democrats have ne minister's office for onths, under Ammon he e Republicans for 17 mg.

riovanni Spadobni non minister: and the Sone nonths under Berum (p. months, intermediate paaded the government new trend emerged also utiamentary election of rmediate parues was of the vote and the Chine ats and Communists has ent. In the 1979 elections rties edged upward to p. the two major pine to 68.5 percent in legdiate parties again R : 23.3 percent, and the arties declined to 624 p e Communists railed a k elections for the Europe ent (a sympathy votealer the party leader Earns but the trend re emergin al elections held afterns sure, the trend to the parties was fucled in crises that came to a be-11: terrorism gallopage percent at the time; immorality, chiefly the t ergage" scandal of the tilodge, with its misdenon in high places but so has deer root no I modernization that he

from the late 1950s the 150s the economy water tially agricultural to as hase introducing limited nes in the style of his 1, secularization took ki tion in which the Res Church is enormously at ivorce and abonion & may think of them here ne 70's after nearly some al struggle — decimité overwhelming majorne. e referendums. हार्य कार — व्यवस्था əst-industrial sonay—€ ti by the need to solve

alv since the war

trated by the oil priction nd 1977. One sign of the the increasing matern. ions, especially men. the dramaus remains: t through sinks. arse, with posters of F underdes elopmentes жополис рісше із па il the emerging hah et est of Europe and delle ent in headan painst De low and long medals d movement logardae भेजाहर भागको श व्यक्त nment operations ierstanding of this ned munor bold the they are crucial to be will help ared men and tensions with B political forces. he Non York Tones

EDITOR the lainstices in their

ably the graves as to be only the graves as to be only in a graves as to the original and t v non-Western name reaced colonizates dictive to require the colors of a people the city of the parameter of the leverage they possess rductive to the operation te thing the complete is the wrote order in level, talking order o JOHN V WHITEN

War Precedent S. Frenches writer oppositely and writer of the value of the late of the lat

By Henry A. Kissinger

Vietnam: A Noble Goal but a Flawed Strategy

HE 10th anniversary of the fall of Saigon is upon us. The pain of the day will not go away, would discredit the bated Establishment. Convinced systematically dismantled. Despite immediate and flanor will the memory of the wartime casualties, American and Indochinese, and the massacre of milhons that followed the collapse.
Vietnam ended America's innocence in international affairs. It was the first war in which its involvement was not triggered by overt aggression of organized units across a clearly demarcated line. It was the first war in which some sort of military outcome did not precede negotiations. It was the first war witnessed in the living rooms of America. It was the first war in which prominent Americans opposed their country's policy during highly publicized visits to the enemy's

In the process, Vietnam turned into a tragedy in four acts. ACT 1: The Flawed Assumption. In his inaugural address, President John F. Kennedy announced that the United States would "support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and success of liberty." No one challenged that sweeping commitment or the proposition that Indochina was a key outpost in the defense of liberty. Within six weeks marines were sent to Thailand; a year later 16,000 U.S. military personnel were assigned as "advisers" to help South Vietnam resist Hanoi-led guerrillas. Hanoi was regarded as the cutting edge of Chinese-Soviet global strategy. In retrospect, we know that Hanoi was working for its own account; in fact, it cleverly exploited the split between Beijing and Moscow of which Washington was as yet unaware.

The commitment of thousands of advisers put U.S. global prestige at stake; yet the commitment was not enough to be decisive. Throughout its Indochina involvement, the United States never solved the relationship between means and ends or even adequately defined its ends.

The ultimate political goal of the United States was noble: to enable a distant people to resist tyranny. On the other hand, the so-called free countries of Indochina, while far less oppressive than North Vietnam, were hardly democracies. Guerrilla wars are rarely pristine. The pace of guerrilla war and the pace of reform are different: bringing about democracy in a developing country requires a decade or more; destruction and chaos can be produced in weeks.

Refusal to face this reality caused the Kennedy administration to encourage — to put it mildly — the overthrow of South Vietnam's authoritarian ruler, Ngo Dinh Diem, in 1963. The collapse of civil government was the watershed leading to two fateful decisions: it committed the United States to sustain the junta that replaced Mr. Diem and it tempted Hanoi to commit its regular forces. ACT 2: The Ambivalent Strategy, President Lyndon B. Johnson felt obliged to carry out the logic of his inheritance; the cabinet left over from the Kennedy administration urged him on. An expeditionary force of over half a million U.S. combat troops was sent as far from American soil as our globe permits, but the United States lacked a strategy for bringing it home. The United States historically has sought to use its vast resources for a strategy of attrition, attrition, however, cannot work against guerrillas that defend no territory and are able to choose their own time for combat. In Indochina, moreover, they were operating from sanctuaries in all neighboring countries and were fought by the lashionable theory of gradual escalation designed to create pauses that would encourage compromise. In fact, gradual escalation convinced Hanoi that the United States lacked resolve.

As the war dragged on, demands for a political solution mounted. But they were bedeviled by the traditional American tendency to treat power and diplomacy as separate. It became a commonplace that North Vietnam would not negotiate — indeed could not be asked to negotiate — while its territory was being bombed, never mind the North Vienamese troops illegally invading Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam. President Johnson finally overcame his instinctive doubt and agreed to a bombing halt shortly before the 1968 election. In Korea the decision to end offensive operations after negotiations had started was responsible for 60 percent of U.S. casualties; in time — surely deepened the stalemate.

In the process, bipartisan support for foreign policy evaporated. Between 1963 and the end of 1966, media, public and congressional support had been nearly universal. The few opponents relied on methods of traditional American democratic debate.

But by late 1966 the war became a rallying point for heretofore fringe groups seeking a radical transforma-tion of society. For them, Vietnam was not a painful geopolitical dilemma from which to extricate America

By Steve Lohr

New York Times Service

Bob Hawke, who completed his second year in office in March, has attracted an unusual gallery of fans:

ly portrayed itself as a party of social reform and wealth redistribution, while serving largely as the political arm of Australia's power-union chief, for his economic program, which stresses growth and market forces, and his foreign policy, which centers on a close alli-danger of losing our heart," said Gerry Hand, a Labor member of

The mixture of praise and criti-

Hawke has taken in his first term,

seizing the middle ground of Australian politics in a nation generally right wing want to open the econo-

CHANNEL

PROGRAM, MONDAY 8th APRIL

conservative on most issues.

The Labor Party has traditional-for a Labor Party leader.

ful trade unions.

CANBERRA - Prime Minister

that only a visible humiliation could curb America's penchant for foreign adventures, they mocked appeals to American credibility. And those who had taken the United States into the war were so demoralized that once out of office they were either silent or encouraged the extremists

Too often, the media became unwitting collaborators. It was easy to record the horrors of modern warfare, much more difficult to distinguish between what was inherent in modern weaponry and what represented deliberate crucity. Similarly, it was fairly simple to construct the vaunted credibility gap by reiterating the difference between governmental statements and what in fact happened.

A fairer analysis would have sought to determine what was due to genuine confusion and what was actual misrepresentation. In the process Hanoi learned that it could use the media to foster the illusion that the search for peace was like a detective story in which the North Vietnamese would throw out ambiguous clues and the administration had to guess at the answer. Thus, the diplomatic impasse was ascribed not to Hanoi's aggression but to a series of lost American opportunities. ACT 3. The Painful Exodus. No one familiar with Richard M. Nixon's career could have believed that his campaign promise to end the war could mean simple abdication. On the contrary, it was surprising that a president, elected by a conservative constituency, went to such lengths to placate the liberal critics adopting in effect the peace program rejected by the Democratic Convention in 1968. But in the prevailing atmosphere of radicalization, every concession elicited further demands culminating in pressures to withdraw unilaterally and to overthrow the government of America's ally.

This is the ninth in a series of 10 articles by the former U.S. secretary of state. The last is to appear May 5.

Mr. Nixon was convinced that it was immoral and dangerous for America to extricate itself by simply abandoning millions who had fought with it in reliance on its word. He undertook to salvage America's honor as he saw it by a tour de force: phased troop withdrawals to placate the protesters, private negotia-tions, sporadic pressures on North Vietnam and major assistance to South Vietnam. Domestic pressures forced Mr. Nixon into compromises that often canceled themselves out. Every withdrawal encouraged

Hanoi and every lunge inflamed the peace movement. In the end, a president cannot conduct a war amid such passions by himself. Faced with congressional resolutions that progressively edged toward unilateral withdrawal, violent demonstrations and the hostility of the media, Mr. Nixon should have gone to Congress early in his term, outlined his strategy, and demanded an endorsement. Failing that, he should have liquidated the war. Mr. Nixon rejected such advice because he felt that history would never forgive the appalling consequences of what he considered an abdication of executive responsibility. It was an honorable, indeed a nighly moral, decision.

Despite all obstacles, Mr. Nixon came heartbreakingly close to success. By the end of 1972, his administration had forced Hanoi to accept two irreducible conditions: The United States would not end the war by overthrowing an allied government; nor would it forgo the right to assist peoples that had fought valiantly at its side. What destroyed these prospects was the collapse of executive authority due to Watergate after the Paris accords were signed in 1973.

ACT 4: The Post-1973 Period. The apostles of America's inherent iniquity have propagated the ca-nard that all the Nixon administration sought was a fig leaf for South Vietnam's inevitable collapse. This is untrue and unworthy. To be sure, there were terms that one would have preferred to improve, but the Nixon administration believed it had achieved an acceptable settlement -all the more so as the alternative was a congressional cutoff of funds leading to a

We were not naive about Hanoi's goals but we saw enable the South Vietnamese Army to handle lowlevel violations; the threat of American retaliation against massive, cross-border violations; the restraining influence of Moscow and Beijing, which had growing stakes in their relations with the United growing stakes in their relations with the United International Studies in Beijing, States; and an offer of American aid to Hanoi if it said that the last four Soviet leadchose to rebuild the North instead of conquering the ers, including Mikhail S. Gorba-

But the peace accords did not end the fevered they would like to improve rela-Vietnam debate, now reinforced by Watergate. The tions between the two nations.

missile test.

the tax system to increase incen-rives to work to reduce tax evasion Australian bases to monitor an MX armed forces of the two countries stantial way."

Under the Hawke government, strongly out of recession, unemcyclical recovery but the result of structural changes introduced by the Labor government, such as an accord under which unions have

■ Australia to Share Spy Data

New Zealand with more data from its intelligence operations in the

and intelligence to New Zealand,

Australia has agreed to provide

The task now will be to show that flation rate was halved.

Hawke Weighs Political Risks of Economic Reform

and to improve industrial relations.

Without these policy changes, some economists warn, Australia could become the "Argentina of the Pacific." Still, the economic benefits from such changes would be uncertain and gradual.

The political risks of reducing protectionism or altering the tax system, which would mean withdrawing favored treatment for political caution and economic activism. "This is a very testing time for Hawke," said Greg Lindsay, executive director of the Center for ance with the United States.

The sharpest criticism of the Conservative research group. "For ness has moderated price increases. Hawke government comes from the good of Australia, Hawke has Australia to Share Sny Data

Two recent political setbacks have raised questions about Mr. Hawke's willingness and ability to win the legislative support neces-

In the general election last De-cember, the Labor Party's majority in the House of Representatives was reduced and it failed to win reversal widely viewed as a victory protest within his party forced Mr.

Yet bankers, business executives and conservative leaders are praising Mr. Hawke, 55, a former trade at a crossroads, deciding between left wing of his party. It favors got to aggressively carry forward looser ties with Washington and some of the things he has been trying to do economically. Now we the party's traditions. "We're in will see if he's up to it."

Now, at the beginning of his second to the Senate. Then, in a condition, Mr. Hawke and his second to the Senate. Then, in a reversal widely viewed as a victory nior advisers in the Labor Party's for the Labor Party's left wing, RATES, MARKETING & ALDIENCE DATA CONTACT THE SALES DEPARTMENT.

SKY CHANNEL, SATELLITE TELEVISION PLC TEL: LONDON (01) 636 AUT7 TELEX 26684

cism reflects the course that Mr. sary for his initiatives.

grant North Vietnamese violations, Congress voted in June 1973 to prohibit any American military action "in, over or near" Indochina. It cut appropriations to Vietnam by 30 percent in 1973 and by another 50 percent in 1974. It put a paltry ceiling on aid to Cambodia, prohibiting any American advisers and even the transfer of American equipment from nearby Asian allies. It launched an assault on détente at a time of maximum weakness of the executive branch. President Nguyen Van Thieu panicked when it became clear that he would not receive the supplementary appropriation he had been promised for 1975. And Hanoi decided to throw the dice after having occupied a provincial capital, demonstrating that not even the grossest violation would be met by U.S. retalization

We shall never know whether South Vietnam could have held out with a more generous and resolute American policy. But that is not the point. The United States owed the peoples of Indochina a decent oppor-tunity for survival; its domestic divisions made it impossible for the United States to pay this debt.

What is one to learn from this sequence of events? · Guerrilla wars are best avoided by pre-emption. by generous programs of assistance and reform in countries the United States considers yital. But once a war is in progress, victory cannot be achieved by

· Before America commits combat troops it should have a clear understanding of the nature of the threat and of realistic objectives. This presupposes two conditions: (a) a bipartisan consensus of what constitutes a vital interest and (b) a recognition that the global balance of power is more likely to be overturned by seemingly marginal increments than in grand assault. When America commits itself to military action, there is no alternative to achieving the stated objective. Qualms cannot be stilled by halfhearted execution; prolonged stalemate will inevitably sap the will of a

 A democracy cannot conduct a serious foreign policy if the contending factions do not exercise some estraint in their debate.

If Vietnam is to leave any useful legacy, America owes it to itself to make a fair assessment of the lessons of that tragedy. That has not yet occurred.

Radical critics seek to impose a version of history according to which bloodthirsty leaders sustained a war with no purpose except to satisfy twisted psychoogies. But the boat people of Vietnam, the hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese who are still in concentration camps a decade after Saigon's fall, the poison gas in Laos, the genocide in Cambodia, bear their own

Henry A. Kissinger

witness. To have striven to prevent such horror is no

The right distorts history by simply ignoring Vietnam. Its isolationist wing had always been more com-fortable with strident anti-Communist rhetoric than with commitments to fight communism on distant battle fronts. Most neoconservatives in fact belonged to the peace movement after 1973. Hence, in the conservative version of history all frustrations of the 1970s are blamed on détente as if there had been no

Vietnam War and no Watergate.
The lapse of a decade should enable America to face is past. As it turned out, the dominoes fell visibly only in Indochina, But the experience of Vietnam is deeply imprinted in the intangibles by which other nations judge America's staying power and even more in the willingness of America to defend its vital interests or even to define them. On the other hand, the Soviet Union after a spurt of expansionism is mired in contradictions. Vietnam, by its singleminded brutality, has turned itself into a pariah.

America failed in Vietnam, but it gave the other nations of Southeast Asia time to deal with their own insurrections. And America's very anguish testified to its moral scruples. Once again, free peoples every-where look to America for safety and progress. Their greatest fear is not America's involvement in the world but its withdrawal from it. This is why 10 years after the sadness of Saigon's fall, American unity is both its duty and the hope for the world.
© 1985, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

French Overseas Groups Meet on Independence

five French overseas departments have called on France to grant them independence.

at the end of a two-day International Conference of the Last tic affairs, while France would take French Colonies, held 18 miles (29 care of international matters. kilometers) east of Pointe-à-Pitre, capital of this French overseas de-

But at present, those favoring independence from France have little political power in Gnadeloope or elsewhere.

The conference host, Claude Makouke of the Popular Union for the Liberation of Guadeloupe. opened the conference on Friday with a call for the United Nations to place all French overseas departments and territories on its colonial France considers overseas departments equal to the 95 French mainland departments. On Saturday, other representatives from the territory of New Caledonia and five overseas departments followed suit.

Representing the departments were Dr. Mohammed Monjoin of the Democratic Front of Mayotte; Yves François of the National Council of Popular Committees, Martinique; Alain Michel of the French Guiana Workers' Union; Serge Sinamale of the Independence Movement of Reunion; and Roland Thesauros of the Popular Union for the Liberation of Gua-

Three of the departments, French Guiana, Martinique and Guadeloupe, are in or border on the Caribbean. Mayotte and Réunion lie off the southeast coast of Africa.

Yann Celene Uregei, minister of

ed a plan offered by the French MOULE Guadeloupe - Activ- government in an attempt to end ists from one French territory and recent strife in the Pacific islands. Edgard Pisani, a special French envoy, on Jan. 7 offered New Caledonia political status as an "inde-The appeal was made Saturday pendence-association," providing the islands jurisdiction over domes-

> Mr. Uregei rejected Mr. Pisani's plan as "colonial" and called for a Kanak Socialist order. New Cale-donia is inhabited by French na-tionals and Melanesians, or Kan-

> The Caribbean Revolutionary Alliance issued a statement disclaiming responsibility for a bomb-ing in Guadeloupe last month that killed three persons. The clandestine group has claimed responsibility for other bombings on the island in recent years.

Million in U.S. Are Estimated To Have AIDS

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - A sciencist who helped to discover the suspect-ed cause of acquired immune deficiency syndrome, or AIDS, has estimated that more than one million Americans are infected with the AIDS virus and predicted that the disease could reach epidemic proportions in Europe.

Dr. Robert C. Gallo, chief of the tumor cell biology laboratory at the National Cancer Institute, also said in a telephone interview on Saturday that as many as 10 percent to 20 percent of the infected Americans might contract AIDS or some Yann Ceiene Ureger, management of the provisional Kanak government of New Calebase an enlargement of the lymph nodes National Liberation Front, reject- and go no further."

DOONESBURY Beijing Aide Finds Climate Better for Talks With Soviet

The Associated Press

LONDON - A senior Chinese foreign policy adviser said Sunday that the atmosphere has become better for Chinese-Soviet talks that resume in Moscow this week on improving relations.

This is the first time that the atmosphere around the talks is a little improved compared with before," said Huan Xiang, deputy di-rector of the Foreign Affairs Council of the National People's

But whether the relations could be improved more, that has to depend on what comes out of the talks," he said in a radio phone-in program broadcast worldwide by British Broadcasting Corp.

China's deputy foreign minister, ian Oichen, flew to Moscow Sunday for the sixth round of talks since 1982.

Mr. Huan, a former ambassador and the director of the Center for chev, the current leader, have said will also increase their joint mili-

defense minister. Kim Beazley said last week after returning from a

Since New Zealand hanned visits ships in February, the United States has cut off bilateral or multi-

Zealand, restricted the flow of intelligence and limited contacts with

New Zealand personnel in consul-flow of intelligence to New Zealand, Mr. Hawke declared publicly that Australia would not pass on

Mr. Beazley repeated that prom-

U.S. intelligence to New Zealand.

When Washington cut off the tation and training.

Asked recently what stood at the tary exercises to compensate New pp of his agenda for the second Zealand for the U.S. withdrawal top of his agenda for the second Zealand for the U.S. withdrawal term, Mr. Hawke replied without from the annual exercises of AN-hesitation: "Keep the economic ZUS, the defense alliance that links growth of Australia going in a sub- the three countries, the Australian ployment was trimmed and the in- to its ports by U.S. nuclear war-

the improvement was not just a lateral military exercises with New South Pacific and Southeast Asia in ise last week and said at a press the first major step to shore up its conference in Wellington before re-relations with its neighbor since the turning home that the American cutoff of U.S. defense cooperation caveat on prohibiting U.S.-sourced and intelligence to New Zealand, intelligence from being passed on The Washington Post reported to New Zealand would be "ob-

As part of an agreement between served to the letter."

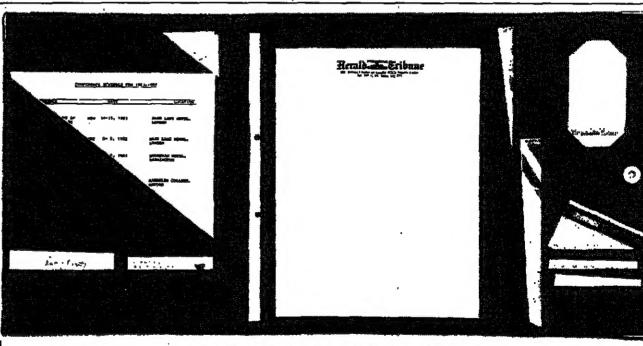

the Australian economy rebounded five-day visit to Wellington.

An indispensable management tool executed with incomparable elegance,

The Perfect Executive Folder Exclusively designed for the International Herald Tribune

by Leathersmith of London in superb, fine-grained leather

The most efficient of all possible solutions for organizing the many papers you need-and collect-at meetings, conferences, on calls and appointments, on

The ideal business gift for an associate, a family member or yourself. Each folder is fashioned in fine silk-grain black leather, fully lined in blue silk, with magnetic snap closing. Folder measures a generous 66 x 33 cm. (26 x 13 in.) open, and 26 x 33 cm. (10 x 13 in.) closed. Four gilt metal corners. Personalized with three initials embossed in gold.

Inside left, two large, practical pockets for letters and papers, plus two smaller pockets for visiting

Address

City/Code/Country

 In center position a 50-sheet blue paper A-4 pad bound in matching black leather. Under the pad, more storage space for papers and documents.

• At right, a space-age thin, solar powered calculator that fits in its own pocket; two pockets for credit cards; an aide-memoire. Two full-length pockets ideal for airplane tickets, passport, brochures, etc. Plus a gilt-metal pencil in a sleek leather holder.

The perfect practical gift for the businessman or woman, created for us by Leathersmith of London, known internationally for elegant styling and craftmanship since 1839.

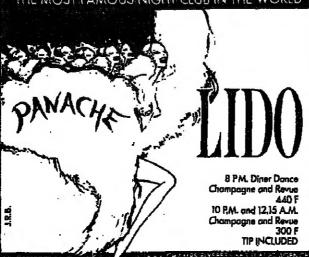

Herald Eribune

Executive Folders. Price includes gold-blocked

8-4-85

WORLDWIDE ENTERTAINMENT THE MOST FAMOUS NIGHT CLUB IN THE WORLD

The compact way to organize everything you need for meetings and conferences.

embossed initials, solar calculator, gilt-metal pencil, blue paper A-4 pad. Price: Destination in Europe, US$120. Outside Europe, US$130. Includes packing and handling, airmail postage, plus postage insurance or registered mail charges. Return this order form to: Dataday Ltd., attention: Paul Baker 8 Alexandra Road, London SW19 7JZ, England. Please check method of payment: □ Enclosed is my check or money order for $... of Dataday Ltd. (Payment can be made in any convertible European currency at current exchange rates.) ☐ Please charge to my credit card. ☐ ■  $N_0$ Signature love to Cur Darks — Draft in a land foreign a carbon and foreign a carbon and standing and foreign and te point.

The which set a high which set a high Deuts.

2 and 1 a in the fact that was the still must be still time is by no means it is need then on the late to head of said increase in the additional first increase in the feeth exculorum expansional and the Feeth sufficient the Fedianbund markets 1704

ख्याका त्याक — should in pagessively priced in Parise and the rated of pages bonds currently hourse to recent Eur dimestors more than pages were brought

Uses to make new of times welding mo name of the interest of the find at part Union Fa dispresenting a signifi lépia the terras un som and an enterment five munded the week a knowle. South Africal the market for $75 part a discount of $90 brall the market re zanves — going so fa zing in first appearant to: Electricity Suppl ad 50 million rand of Man This was soid as many.

Whither and, and rece and New Zealand do assign that the French and for de France this was of 15-year retracts as of 15-year retracts as holders will have the formental bankers so an de franc in the Bern either the terms would a On Thursday, with (Conting)

rkets Closed by European and Assam Standay, However, Sir Sent American markets Last W An high es ar and Indexes LOUIS Prev Wit. 1206.75 -152.61 -152.60 -176.16 -190.56 -194.00 -

12627 19

ederland B. See 9 975 A. See 1 975 A. See 1

e Corp

A CONTRACT OF THE STATE OF THE

Transferred to the control of the co

THE STATE OF THE S

.F.nz

151 151

se Charotte

EUROBONDS

Move to Cut U.S. Deficit Is Good News to Investors

By CARL GEWIRTZ International Herald Tribune

ARIS — Drift in the bond markets — as investors clung to the sidelines awaiting some clue as to where interest and foreign exchange rates were headed — evaporated with dramatic suddenness late last week.

The spark was the report from Washington that the Reagan administration and Senate Republicans had agreed on cuts to trim the projected federal budget deficit by about $300 billion over the next three fiscal years.

The news came too late to affect the Eurobond market, which had already closed for the Easter holiday, but sparked a rally in New York where yields on Eurobond Yields
For Week Ended April 3
U.S.S is term. ini'l inst.
U.S.S medium term. ind.
U.S.S medium term.
French Fr. medium term
Sterling medium term
Yen medium term
Hyen medium term
ECU short term
ECU medium term
ECU long term
ECU long term

long-term Treasury bonds dropped 12 basis points and short-term yields slipped 4 basis points. (One hundred basis points equals one percentage point)

The news also buoyed the dollar, which set a high for the week at 3.18 Deutsche marks before closing at 3.16

The euphoria was tempered by the fact that the budget still must be approved by Congress. The outcome is by no means cer-tain. In addition, even if the cuts are enacted they may come too late to head off a Total Deliar Saylvassi.

Cedel 11,986.40 9,447.10 2,539.30 Euroclear 22,362.30 19,780.60 2,581.70 renewed increase in interest rates. This could result if the pace of the economic expansion heats up and credit demand runs into conflict with the Federal Reserve's monetary policy. At present, however, the progress on plans to cut the deficit which bond markets view as putting the greatest upward pressure on interest rates — should be good news for the Eurodollar bond

Market Turnover

For Week Ended April 4 (Additions of U.S. Dollars)

Two aggressively priced issues were launched late last week for Union Pacific and General Reinsurance. Both companies, whose domestic debt is rated double-A, are offering $100 million of seven-year bonds carrying coupons of 11½ percent.

In contrast to recent Eurodollar offerings, which were priced to yield investors more than comparably dated Treasury paper, the new issues were brought to market at an all-in cost (including front-end commissions) of 10 basis points below Treasury yields.

IVEN the demonstrated reluctance of international investors to make new commitments in dollar bonds—even to issues yielding more than Treasuries— the terms were widely regarded as outrageously aggressive. This was reflected in the sharp decline in the price of the new issues, which were offered at par. Union Pacific was quoted at 97% and General Reinsurance at 96%, discounts well outside the total commissions and representing a significant loss for underwitten.

and representing a significant loss for underwriters.

To put the terms in some perspective, the recent triple-A-rated Canadian government five-year notes carrying a coupon of 11½ percent ended the week at 99½.

Meanwhile, South Africa — a rare, albeit unpopular name — tapped the market for $75 million, offering six-year, 12½-percent paper at a discount of 99½ for a yield of 12.62 percent.

Overall, the market registered a clear interest in non-dollar alternatives - going so far as to accept the South African rand, making its first appearance in the international market. South Africa's Electricity Supply Commission made a private placement of 50 million rand of five-year notes carrying a coupon of 16 percent. This was sold almost exclusively to investors in West

With the rand, and recently the Danish kroner and the Austra-lian and New Zealand dollars attracting investors, it was hardly surprising that the French would decide to reopen the Eurofranc

Gaz de France this week is scheduled to offer 500 million francs of 15-year retractable bonds - meaning that every five years holders will have the option to request redemption.

Continental bankers said they were confident there was interest in the franc in the Benelux countries but the big question was whether the terms would be pitched high enough to woo investors. On Thursday, with domestic five-year government paper (Continued on Page 9, Col. 1)

Markets Closed

Most European and Asian financial markets will be closed Monday for Easter Monday. However, Singapore and Tokyo markets will be open, as will North American markets.

Last Week's Markets All figures are as of close of trading Friday

Currency Rates

Late interbank rates on April 4/5, excluding fees. Official fixings for Amsterdam, Brussels, Frankfurt, Milan, Paris, New York rates at

	5	E	D.M.	F.F.	JI.L.	Gldr.	B.F.	S.F.	Yen
Amsterdoro	1561	4,302	11267	34.97	£1772 *	_	5414 *	133.25	140.16 Y
Brussels(a)	63.A975	76,55	29.125	6.576	3.1523 *	17.84		23,77	25.03 -
Frankfyrt	3,156	3,804		32.76	1.5675 X	88.62 °	4.971 *	114.01	*1.2425 *
London (b)	1,1955		3,794	11,5816	2.408.90	4,2745	76,175	3.27	301,755
Allen	2.019.20	2,478.00	637.25	209.16	-	567,10	31.644	749.00	7.297
NewYork(c)	_	1.205	3.16	9.635	2.010.00	3,567	63.57	2.465	254.00
Ports.	9,635	11417	3.0529	_	4,863 X	2.706	15.171 •	3.5%	3.793
Tokyo	251,725	305.76	90.50	26.37	12.67 °	71.31	400.44 *	75.50	_
Zurich	2,5725		84,775 *	27,755 *	0.1331 *	75.08 °	4.21 *	_	1.0524 *
1 BCU	0.7086	0.5878	2,2353	6.8725	1,422.18	2.523	44.9448	1.2941	179,987
1 SDR	0.982111	0.814354	3.09954	9.46264	1,976.62	3,4973	62.3416	2.6247	249,407
			Dol	lar V	alues
2		Per	*		P	er '	5		Per

V.5.$ 0,994 874.10 0,3025 2,5205 9,0031 18,255 171.00 2,6075 Currency
6.469 Singerers $ 2,228
0.512 S.Africon prod 1,931
0.6012 Sept. pesste 172,75
0.005 Sept. pesste 172,75
0.005 Sept. pesste 172,75
0.005 Sept. pesste 29,99
0.0022 Teleboht 27,35 U.S.$ 1.5608 21.94 63.45 1.3775 11.355 6.475 134.92 7.7995 Equiv.
1,004 Irish S
0,0011 laresh sheicel
1,1052 Kreedii dicer
0,2467 Moloy, ringeli
0,1101 Mayer, krone
1,545 Phil, page
0,0058 Peri, escudo
0,2772 Soedi riyel Equiv.

0.497 Assirvition 5

0.0456 Assirvition schilling
6.115 Betellon fin, fronc
0.726 Canadiges 5

0.0811 Denish krose
0.1554 Flanksh partida
6.0074 Grank drocking

(a) Commercial franc (b) Amounts needed to buy one pound (c) Amounts needed to buy one dation (*)
Units of 100 (s) Units of 1,000 (v) Units of 10,000
K.Q.: not avoice; N.A.: not available.
Sources: Banque do Benetux (Brussels); Banque Commerciale Viollana (Milan); Banque Nationale de Parts (Parts); IMF (SDR); Banque Arabe at Internationale d'Investissement (dinor, rhys), dirtiona). Other data from Reuters and AP.

'Intrapreneuring': A Corporate Can-Do Theory

NEW YORK - For years. management gurus have argued that entrepreneurship would be the panacea for the U.S. economy's competitive ills. Now, a theory has come onto the U.S. business scene that, if not questioning the conventional wisdom, cer-tainly casts it in a different light.

The theory goes by varying terms: corporate entrepreneurship, corporate venturing, "intra-preneurship." But they all convey the same idea: that employees can be entrepreneurs while working for large companies.

The idea appears to be catching on. In December, the president's Commission on Industrial Competitiveness issued a report on entrepreneurship with an entire section devoted to intrapreneurship. Since then, articles men-tioning the subject have appeared in the Sloan Management Review and the Harvard Business Review. A number of companies, including International Business Machines Corp. and General Motors Corp., have established small, separate business units to foster intrapreneurship.

12.59 % 12.13 %

12.19 % 11.82 % 11.13 % 7.13 % 7.13 %

9.02 % 9.78 % 9.92 % 9.12 % 10.23 %

Late in February, moreover, a book titled "Intrapreneuring" was published. According to its publisher, Harper & Row, it is already a best-seller in certain major markets.

"Intrapreneurship is hot because entrepreneurship is hot," said R. Donald Gamache, president of Innotech Corp., a Trum-bull, Connecticut, consultant specializing in innovation. Zenas Block, a professor of manage-ment at New York University who teaches a course on corpo-rate entrepreneurship, said, "Media publicity given to private en-trepreneurship has been tions."

Indeed, the conspicuous success of such entrepreneurs as Steven P. Jobs, chairman of Apple Computer Inc., and William Gates, chairman and chief executive of Microsoft Corp., a computer software company — con-firming that you can still strike it rich on your own — has piqued the interest of big companies wanting to be intrapreneurial, too, management specialists say. Intrapreneurship is also getting a welcome ear because, the spe-major impact on large corpora-tions." cialists say, managers are tired of own show — is very appealing." losing their most talented employees to more freewheeling start-ups. Employees, in turn, see intrapreneurship as a way to in-ject excitement and urgency into Hewlett-Packard Inc. and Texas otherwise dull jobs.

"Many people in older-style organizations feel under-recognized and that rewards aren't commensurate with achieve-ment," said Rosabeth Kanter, an authority on organizational change. The idea that, yes, you can take action inside large companies - that you can run your Intrapreneurship is not new. For years such companies as Control Data Corp., Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co.,

Instruments Inc. have encour aged employees to chase their dreams by giving them the money, equipment and time to pursue personal ideas as company pro-It was an employee's project at

3M, for instance, that led to the development of Post-It-Notes, (Continued on Page 11, Col. 5)

Study Questions Reagan Proposal On Oil Reserves

By Lee A. Daniels New York Times Service

NEW YORK - A Reagan administration proposal to temporar-ily delay completion of the Strate-gic Petroleum Reserve may set back the United States's ability to withstand an oil shortage, according to a study by the General Accounting Office.

The study, which has not been released to the public, is the first independent examination of the possible effects of the proposal to stop filling the reserve when it reaches 489 million barrels at the

tion package agreed to Thursday by the president and the Senate Republican leadership.

The current appropriation for the reserve is $1.7 billion. The re-serve now holds about 466 million barrels and is supposed to reach 750 million by 1990. Of the reserve's six sites, two are full, three are partly filled and one is under

The study by the GAO, the investigative arm of Congress, does not make formal recommendations. It says, though, that "serious consideration" should be given to continuing to build the reserve's storage facilities and instituting an cil-purchase policy that would fluc-tuate depending on prices. William A. Vaughn, the Department of Energy's assistant secre-tary for fossil energy, told a House committee last month that a nearly 20-percent decline in petroleum imports since 1977 has reduced the need to follow the original schedule for completing the reserve.

But Representative Mike Synar, Democrat of Oklahoma, chairman of the House Subcommittee on En-vironment, Energy and Natural Resources, as well as other critics of the administration proposal, challenged that view.

Mr. Synar said the GAO study shows that a moratorium would reaches 489 million barrels at the end of September.

The reserve was begun in the mid-1970s to create a 90-day emergency supply of oil to protect the country against a shortage.

The proposed moratorium was incorporated into the deficit-reduction processes a spread to Threader. would range from nothing under the Reagan proposal to $538 mil-lion for the completed reserve.

The total cost of a storehouse with 750 million barrels is estimated at $24 billion; $16.7 billion has already been spent on the reserve.

California Bank Forced to Close

WASHINGTON — The fail-ure of Capistrano National Bank in San Juan Capistrano, California, has been announced by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which said its liabil-ities were being assumed by another bank. FDIC officials said Friday that it was the 22d bank failure in the United States this year and the third in California.

The FDIC said the failed bank's liabilities were being assumed by Farmers & Mer-chants Bank of Long Beach, California, which took over about $41 million in 8,900 deposit accounts and other liabilities and agreed to pay the FDIC a purchase premium of $3.05 million.

Draws Little Reaction

By Carl Gewirtz rional Herold Tribune PARIS - The initial reaction to the Bank of England's long-await-ed move to temper the accelerating growth of underwritten Euronote facilities last week was a yawn. The rapid expansion of the market is assumed to be closely linked to the fact that the underwriting

SYNDICATED LOANS

commitments of banks do not show up on their balance sheets (at least not until the underwriters are called on to provide funds) while its which can be used to boost capital and improve the critical capitalto-assets ratio that bank examiners

Bank of England said that it would bank's capital was adequate to its commitments. The weighting will cial institution and more than double the 2 weighting given to a loan made to another bank.

U.K. operations of foreign banks. nancial centers "who are also con-

LOS ANGELES - Regent Air million.

The Los Angeles-based carrier

Continental Gets

WASHINGTON - The

U.S. Department of Transpor-tation has approved Continental Airlines to fly a direct route between Houston and London,

airtine officials said. The airline said Friday it plans to begin daily service April 28, providing it receives the necessary clear-

It will be Continental's first service to Europe. Continental, with main hubs in Houston and Denver, has expanded its international network to 28 cities.

The carrier also has requested authority to fly nonstop be-

Continental filed for protection from creditors under federtween Tokyo and Texas.

London Route

sidering their own arrangements with respect to this business." But no others immediately followed and banking supervisors in Washington, Tokyo, Berlin, and Luxembourg said no such moves were imminent. Thus, the yawn. Commercial:

bankers say most banks, and certainly those in Britain, already assign their own internal weightings to such business - meaning the new ruling will not dramatically effect the willingness or ability of U.K. banks to take on new business. As for the foreign banks in Britain, they can escape the control altogether by booking the business in any of their other offices.

This raises the question of why the Bank of England acted alone. London has always been the center of the market and in the nearly three decades of the market's existence the Bank of England has alassign a weighting to such off-bal- ways steadfastly resisted calls to ance-sheet items to assure that a impose controls, arguing that unless the measures were applied worldwide regulations would only be .5, half the weighting given to a drive banks to do business in those straightforward loan to a nonfinan-

But official sources make clear that opposition related to different issues — namely monetary controls This will apply to the worldwide issues — namely monetary controls business of British banks and the aimed at preventing offshore financial operations from derailing do-The bank also announced it had mestic policy objectives. This is discussed the move with banking quite different from the prudential authorities in the other leading fi-(Continued on Page 9, Col. 1) founding 21/2 years ago to $39.1

J. Roger Faherty, Regent's chair-man and president, blamed the losses on "a combination of excessive operating costs and of operat-ing at fare and passenger levels substantially below the break-even

Regent's revenue was $12 million last year. The airline was operating for only about 21/2 months of 1983, so comparable revenue fig-

Regent operates three Boeing 727s that were stripped down and remodeled to carry 34 passengers in luxury, rather than the usual 120 passengers carried by those planes.

The Los Angeles-New York flights

offer hante cuisine, spacious lounges, six staterooms and private secretaries.

Regent charges $785 for a one-way flight, slightly higher than normal first-class seats on regular airlines. It is about half of what

Regent first charged, but it attracted few customers at the higher prices. Regent has about 15 passen-

Initially, Regent hired another company to operate its planes because the founders, Clifford and

Stuart Perlman, were unable to get an operating license due to allega-tions that they had links to orga-

The Perlmans sold last year to

Mr. Faherty, a New York investment banker. He got the company out from under the costly charter arrangement, and Regent now flies its own planes under a temporary gers per flight.

nized crime.

ures aren't available.

Bank of England's Move AT&T Rivals Seek More Competitive Rules New York Times Service munications Commission, MCI assignment process is at North-WASHINGTON — The main rivals of American Telephone & Sprint Communications Corp. and Telegraph Co. have recommended Allnet Communications Services which customers who do not make

long-distance telephone company. enacted across the United States the changes could help smaller companies compete with

In filings with the Federal Com-

major changes in the process by Inc. said the current long-distance a long-distance choice are assigned which Americans select a primary selection process was unfair. They said it favored AT&T because, in nies in the same proportion as nearly all cases, customers who those who did make a choice. failed to choose a long-distance AT&T's rivals say they would have carrier were automatically assigned to AT&T.

The exception to the automatic the United States.

a far higher market share if that approach were adopted throughout

AN INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ORGANIZED BY PLANT LOCATION INTERNATIONAL IN COOPERATION WITH THE INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE

THE INVESTMENT CLIMATE AND INCENTIVES IN EUROPE

April 25-26, 1985, Brussels

The conference will provide senior executives with an in-depth analysis of the current and future investment climate and the incentives offered in sixteen European countries. Ouestion and answer periods will follow each session.

Thursday, April 25, 1985

Norway: Mr. V. Hveding, Chairman, Christiania Bank Oslo, former Minister of Energy.

Denmark: Mr. M. Ostergaard, Managing Director, Industrial Development Council of North Jutland.

Belgium: Baron A. Bekaert, President, Bekaert N.V.
The Netherlands: Mtr. A.A.M. van Agt, Commissioner of the Queen, Governor of N. Brabant Province, former

Prime Minister. Guest kincheon speaker: Prof. Dr. P. Mathijsen, Director General of The EC Regional Policies.

Austria: Mr. G. I. Genn, General Manager, ICD, former General Manager, General Motors Vienna. Switzerland: Mr. Carl Meyer, Vice-President Finance, Swiss Asuag-SSIH.

Sweden: Mr. K. Lewenhaupt, The Wyatt Company AB. Luxembourg: Mr. Z. Magnus, General Manager, Kredietbank, Luxembourg.

Reception: Hosted by Minister of Brussels, Mr. P. Hatry.

France: Mr. J. Paul Horne, Senior Economist, Smith Barney, Harris Upham & Co. West Germany: Mr. B. Layton, former President, Ford Europe. Portugal: Mr. E. Lopez, Minister of Finance. Spain: Don Leon Benelbas, General Assistant Director of Economic Planning, Ministry of Economics. Guest luncheon speaker: Mr. W. Martens, Prime Minister of Belgium.

Friday, April 26, 1985

Italy: Dr. Gianni Varasi, President of the Federation of the Chemical Industry, Italy. Greece: Mr. S. Papacistathiou, Deputy Governor, Hellenique Industrial Development Bank.

> United Kingdom: Sir Edwin Nixon, President, IBM (U.K.). Ireland: Mr. L. P. Doyle, General Manager, Allied Irish Banks Limited Europe.

Return to: The International Herald Tribune, Conference Office, 181 Ave. Charles de Gaulle, 92521 Neutly Ceder, France.
Tel.: 01-747 1265.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Location: Hyair Regency Brussels, Rise Royale 250, 1030 Brussels, Belgium, Tel.: 62-219 46 40, Telex: 61871.

Participation fees: U.S. $1,000. Fees are payable in advance of the conference and will be remined in full for any cancellation postmarked on or before April 1st, 1985. Cancellations with a postmark dated later than April 1st will be charged the full fee. Substitutions may be made at any time.

The fees includes two detailed studies containing the information on the sixteen countries, documents of the meeting luncheons, refreshments and reception. Sabena is the official carrier of the seminar,

On receipt of your registration. we will mail you a hotel accommodation form.

REGISTRATION FORM

al bankruptcy laws in 1983 and began a reorganization. The carrier reported a $30-million profit last year.

Please erroll the Jollowing transcripint in the seminar on April 25-26, 1985.

119% 15 Apr 81 moturity 102% 28 Sep 84 7 July 94 163% 1 Nov 94 26 July 94 159% 1 Sep 77 37 Juny 84

#27. | K.

Continued from Page 7 Lagran under 1005 per

in similar the new 2002 to market with a 1810 percent and work inference is 5000 to market to market of the 1800 to market of the 18

idi on passer den ordana

States Units and his sections. sommen are all part of ger modelary system.

the Brush pound-de-tages are about compact regard level on the segment is pane to the EASS as intect to the EASS as intect to the EASS as related the research of the compact regard issues have the season and pound research the season pound research the season pound research to the the major state left out of factor. The season of the the major regard to be the major as the season of the sea defined from Page "

contact from Page from Page

(Continued on Page 10)

ing up the (very low) cost on these transactions. This is not to say costs will not increase. To the contrary, the excally, they see the market evolving in exactly the direction the Bank of England would prefer. 1 that the profit earned from buying the notes from the issuer at one price and selling them to investors at a higher price will more than cover the low fees earned for pro-

New Eurobond Issues

lssuer	Amount (millions)	Mat.	Coup.	Price	Price end . week	Terms
FLOATING RATE NO	गह	Mark   Mark
Gold Star	$30	2000	y 4	100	-	at par in 1988, 1991, 1994, and 1997. Denominations
itely	$500	2005	1/16	100	99.65	Over 1-month Libor. Callable at par in 1989. Denominations $10,000. Fees 0.30%.
Tokoi Bank	$50	1989	1/16	100	-	thereafter. Callable of par in 1988, Floating Rate Certificates
FIXED-COUPON
General Reinsurance	$100	1992	111/2	100	96.50	Collable at 1011/2 after 1990.
Mitsui Trust Finance	$100	1990	11%	100	97.12	Noncollable.
South Africa	$75	1991	1214	991/2	97.25	Noncolloble.
Union Pacific	$100	1992	11%	100	97.75	Collebia at 101½ after 1990.
Asian Development Bank	DM200	1997	734	9914	99.00	Noncollable.
ESCOM	DM200	1993	81/4	991/2	99.00	Noncollable. Increased from DM150 million,
Pearson & Son	20012	1992	zero	48%	46.00	Noncollable.
ANZ Banking	ECU50	1992	94	100	99.25	Noncoliable.
Rabobank	ECU75	1995	9%	100	99.12	Noncollable, Increased from ECU50 million.
Chrysler Credit Canada	CS60	1992	12%	100	97.75	Noncolioble.
Hydro-Quebec	C$100	1995	12%	100	97.87	Callable at 101 in 1992.
N.V. Philips	DF100	1990	71/2	100	99.50	Noncellable.
ESCOM	5A$50	1990	16	_	98.75	Nancollable.
WARRANTS
Sorry	$100	1990	open	100	102.00	ny shares at an anticipated 25/76 premium. Terms to be set
EQUITY-LINKED
Chugoku Marine Paints	$100	2000	3%	100	_	Semannadiy, Callobie at 104 in 1988, Convertible at 378 yen per share and at 251.25 yen per dollar.
Sumitomo Special Metals	$50	2000	3	100	_
Yokogawa Hokushin Electric	DF100	1990	3%	100	_	Somigneucity. Convertible of 1,340 yen per share.
Fonuc	Y20,000	1995	open	100	99.75	Semiannucl coupon undicated at 2%, Callable at 102 ofter 1990, Convertible at an articipated 5% premium. Terms to be set April 9.
Nisshinbo Industries	Y15,000	1995	open	100	98.00	Semiannucl coupon indicated at 25%, Callable at 102 after 1990, Conventible at an anxiopated 5% premium. Terms to be set April 9.
Sekisui House	¥15,000	1995	open	100	98.25	Semionnual coupon indicated at 2½%, Collable at 102 after 1990, Convertable at an anticapated 5% premium. Terms to be set April 11.
Sony	Y30,000	2000	ореп	100	99.75	Semigranual coupon indicated at 2%, Callable at 104 in 1988.

Deficit Plans Good News to Investors

(Continued from Page 7) yielding just under 11.15 percent, bankers estimated the new issue Hydro-Quebec failed to attract would come to market with a cou-

Deutsche marks, guilders or European Currency Units and risk of a both sold 15-year bonds which are assets. franc devaluation is seen limited as these currencies are all part of the European monetary system.

but the pound is a "petro-currentor on the FMS and therefore volatile. The recent heavy volume of pound issues has glutted that market appears the straight Euroyen market and even the Euroyen paper, however, can only be sold to investors in shares). The dollar market will continue to attract these recent these markets and even the market and even the straight for the straight f that market and even the newly inaugurated pound zero-coupon issues have fallen out of favor.

Bankers argue that the tax savings that zero-issues represent for domestic U.K. investors (which were supposed to be the major selling attraction) do not match the advantages of buying discounted bonds in the gilt market. As a re-sult, the £100 million nominal amount of seven-year zeroes offered by S. Pearson at 48% percent of par value ended the week at a 24-percent discount. Canadian-dollar bonds also car- 21/2 percent over the prevailing derway.

(Continued from Page 7)

is now unilaterally imposing to assure the soundness of banking op-

The first of these was put into effect last May, when the bank moved to halt what it feared was a dangerous pyramiding of bank capital via the floating-rate-note market where banks are the biggest purchasers of other bank-issued capital notes. The Bank of England said that banks would have to deduct from their own capital base

any holdings of another bank's

At the time, that move was seen as the death knell of the FRN market. In fact, FRNs last year for the first time exceeded (by about $1-billion) the volume of fixed-rate straight dollar debt on the Euro-bond market and so far this year the volume of FRNs is running about 33 percent ahead of fixed-rated dollar issues. In short, the business is arranged in London but obviously booked elsewhere as no other regulatory body imposed bank's move on underwritten note facilities is not seen as directly driv-

Thus, as matters now stand, the similar restrictions.

erations in Britain.

capital paper.

support as the terms were unattracexpected to carry microscopic conpons of 2 percent.

The yen will obviously appeal to Little Reaction to U.K. Bank's Move

other lower bids are submitted).

words, the creation of a true Euro-market prices will be provided by the market and many experts believe this is the wave of the future.

ation launched last week was an underwritten note facility of $600 million for Deere & Co., the world's largest maker of farm equipment machinery. The facility runs for five years and underwriters will earn an annual fee of 15 basis points for the first three years and 17.5 basis for the final two years.

The notes, which will be offered interest charge of 22.5 basis points

over the London interbank offered percentage point.)

Meanwhile, the only major oper-

another group of banks.

ry high yields, but last week's issues price compared with the 5 percent from Chrysler Credit Canada and premium expected on the yen

In part, bankers said, the currenpon of 11% percent and would be tive compared with what investors offered (less the 1% percent selling could buy in the domestic market.

Yield levels were obviously a to raise and in part because the commission) to institutional investors at a yield of 11.6 percent.

This is considerably more than is available on paper denominated in Deutsche marks, guilders or Euroconvertible bonds issued by Japa-nese companies. Sony and Fanuc changes would have on its dollar

Bankers expect that companies which desire to see a rapid conversion of convertible bonds into Yields on British pound-denominated paper are about comparable on the expected level on the franc.

As of April 1, Japanese companies of convertible bonds into shares will continue to tap the bonds free of withholding tax. Up Japan three months after the time to attract those companies launch abroad and for them it will that are less eager to see conversion not be tax free. Brokers will be and the yen market will appeal expected to withhold 20 percent of most (aside from currency considthe coupon payments for the tax erations) to those seeking to delay conversion for as long as possible.

> Bankers said that the Sony and many Japanese borrowers eager to Fanuc (a major player in the robot-eliminate the currency risk But ics market) offerings were grabbed bankers say this does not mean up by retail clients while institu-Japanese borrowers will shun other tional buyers went for Nisshinbo markets. Sony, for example, simul-taneously offered $100 million of Special Metals, which are seen as straight debt carrying warrants to having greater speculative potenbuy shares at a premium of about tial if a cyclical recovery gets un-

> (which obliges banks to buy the floating rates of interest and denotes at a fixed maximum cost if no nominated in either dollars or British pounds. These medium-term notes fall But market experts say that few banks supplying the backup lines are bidding aggressively enough to receive paper. The commercial obligation to bid for or take such receive paper. The commercial banks then find they have tied up their capital resources for little in paper that would be transferable for sale to others. Theoretically, Deere could issue $600 million of The experts see this as ultimately short-term notes and as many meleading to a separation of the note sale from the credit line — in other dium-term notes as underwriters were willing to bid for. Indonesia this week is expected to announce terms it has accepted commercial paper market where the placement of notes will be done for a $400-million, eight-year unon a best-efforts basis by one group of banks and the backup line at full derwritten facility.

Bangkok Bank, which is arranging a $75-million, five-year underwritten facility will pay underwrit-ers an annual fee of 1/16-percent A few such non-underwritten note facilities have already come to (6.875 basis points). The certifi-cates of deposit the bank issues will bear a maximum interest charge of 10 basis points over Libor. The bank will pay a commitment fee of 5 basis points for any amounts un-drawn and a front-end fee of 10 basis points. Spain's Autopistas del Atlantico is refinancing $230 million of existsyndicated bank loan of $115 million and $115 million of eight-year (There are 100 basis points in one FRNs bearing a coupon of 1/16point over Libor. The FRN is guaranteed by the government while the perts putting these packages to-gether believe they will. And, ironi-six months, will bear a maximum ment-owned holding company.

Hungary is in the market for a loan co-financed with the World rate or, if used as a backup for the Bank. Commercial banks are being At present, the wafer-thin front- sale of commercial paper in New asked to put up $264 million for end commissions and annual un- York, 22.5 basis points over the eight years with interest set at %derwriting fees paid to banks is New York interbank offered rate. point over Libor. This is much lowseen by them as their ante for access to the short-term notes to be sold to investors. The assumption is asking for bids from a tender panel.

The tender panel of senior unhad expected — a further indicaderwriters (those committing for tion of how hungry banks are for $50 million) may also be asked to new business.

bid for medium-term notes (one to The World Bank will provide an viding the backup line of credit five years), bearing either fixed or additional $36 million for 81/2 years.

Mood Shifts Play Havoc With Market

By Michael Quint New York Times Service

NEW YORK - Faced with a host of conflicting economic devel-opments, the credit markets seem vulnerable to continued sudden shifts of mood that may be exciting for traders, but are anathema to many potential investors.

"Concerning near-term economic prospects, market opinion has fluctuated widely in recent weeks," analysts at Aubrey G. Lanston & Co. said in a market newsletter.

The fluctuations have played havoc with interest rate forecasts, since expectations of lower interest

U.S. CREDIT MARKETS

rates stem from signs of a weaken-ing economy, while forecasts for higher rates follow from economic strength.

New Treasury notes and bonds sold in the last week of March are still trading above their average auction prices, but specialists in the government securities market said speculative and investor activity was light last week.

By the time trading stopped late Thursday, yields on government se-curities were little changed from a week earlier, with three-month bills at 8.11 percent, two-year notes at 10.46 percent, seven-year notes at 1.64 percent, and 30-year bonds at 11.65 percent. Yields for notes and bonds would have been slightly higher, except for a rally Thursday after-noon following a U.S. budget compromise that could cut more than $50 billion of the 1986 federal defi-

ties firms said lower deficits would contribute to lower interest rates. especially for notes and bonds, but added that they needed to learn details of the legislative package to be sure it would result in a $50billion reduction in the Treasury's borrowing needs.

Friday's employment statistics were an ambiguous development, despite the stronger-than-expected 381,000 increase in non-farm payrolls. The gain, which was coupled with an increase in the hourly work week, was stronger than the 112,000 in February, and led economists to predict healthy increases in personal incomes, retail sales and industrial production this

Although the consensus forecast is for continued economic expansion through 1985, some economists see the condition of the manufacturing sector as a glaring weakness that could blight the rest of the economy.

Rather than worry about rapid money supply growth, stronger credit demands and higher interest rates associated with the third year of an economic expansion, they say the credit markets should be preparing for a drop in economic ac-tivity and lower interest rates. Walter J. Williams, president of American Business Econometrics, said the economy is likely to slump into a recession this quarter, led by weakness in spending on capital

Even if the economy does not fall into a recession and bring on the one-percentage-point drop in overnight interest rates and nearly halfa-percentage-point drop in Trea-sury bond yields forecast by Mr. Williams for June, there are other analysts who see enough weakness in the economy to argue against

One reason the Fed is unwilling to encourage higher rates, accord-ing to Irwin Kellner, chief economist at Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. is because "doubts still exist regarding the strength of to day's business expansion, particularly in the goods-producing sector of the economy where numerous industries are being negatively affected by rising imports.

U.S. Consumer Rates For Week Ended April 4

Possbook Savings	5.50 %
Tax Exempt Bands Bond Buyer 20-Bond Index	9.63 %
Money Market Funds Donoghue's 7-Day Average	8.39 %
Bank Money Market Accounts Bank Rate Monitor Index	7.96 %
Home Mortgage FHLB overage	13.70 %

Treasury Bills

Due		Båd	Ask Y
4-11	v	5.00	428 414
4-12		7.77	749 781
4-25		7.45	7.39 7.52
5- 2	con a committee	7.51	7.47 7.41
5.9		7.82	7.72 7.8a
5-16		7.99	7.93 B.11
5-23		8.03	7.97 8.16
5-30		8.03	797 8.17
46		7.97	7.83 8.04
6-13		214	8.06 8.31
4-20		E.11	A05 A30
4-27		£12	BD4 832
7. 5		2.13	8.11 8.39
7-11		8.27	821 650
7-18		1.30	8.24 8.55
7.25		136	124 156
8 1		8.31	8.27 841
ī i		8.44	8.38 8.74
6-15		8.44	B-40 B-78
8-22		LA	844 884
8-29		1.4	E44 IIIS
		151	147 190
9.12		1.55	249 294
9-19		22	L50 L%
945		8.55	ES 901
10 3		222	1.59 9.09
issi		144	8.62 9.14
			B-02 7.64
11-29		1.72	8.48 9.23
12-26		8.70	1.66 9,24
-1784-
1-22		8.76	8.72 9.35
2-20		8.79	8.75 9.AZ
3-20		6.87	A.77 9.52
Course	a. Eidend Dies	we Bonk	_

G	ol	d Opti	ONS (pric	es in $/oz.)
Pri	6	May	Aug	Nov.
3 3 3	30 GD 50 FD	1251459 775-925 500-659 139-509 239-609 175-125	1675-1825 1300-1500 975-11.25 675-825 475-625 126-475	71.25.22.25 77.00.19.00 13.75.15.75 10.75.12.25 8.25, 9.75
V	ık		1200 317.90 lite We	M S.A

U.S. Trade Nominee Is a Pragmatic Negotiator

By Steven Greenhouse New York Times Service

CHICAGO - Ten years ago, the United States was engaged in what was known as the cheese war with the European Community, The United States accused the EC of subsidizing its cheese, and Clayton K. Yeutter, an assistant secretary of agriculture for international affairs, was in charge of negotiating an end to the trading war.

Mr. Yeutter considers that as his linest hour.

"That was the first time in Common Market history that they agreed to withdraw some of their agricultural subsidies," said Mr. Yeutter, nominated last week by President Ronald Reagan to be United States trade representative. "It made some of the Common Market's activable of president representative.

Market's agricultural ministers very unhappy.'
Many of Mr. Yeutter's associates said that the Chicago executive seems to have spent his whole life preparing to be the nation's special trade representative. He currently is president of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, one of the world's leading futures trading arenas. He served as deputy special trade representative from June 1975 to February 1977.

Before that he helped oversee the rapid expansion of U.S. grain exports as assistant secretary of agriculture in charge of international affairs and commodity programs.

Mr. Yeutter's associates described him as a tough, tireless negotiator and an ideological free-trader with a pragmatic bent.
"He is imbued with principles of free trade but he recognizes the importance of furthering the interests of the United States," said Donald M. Nelson, an assistant special trade representative for agricultural affairs who knows Mr. Yeutter from their days in the Agriculture Department. "That means he won't be doctrinaire, he will Discussing his views on trade at a news conference Wednesday and in an interview in his office overlooking the Chicago River, Mr. Yeutter said: "There's no question that my basic philosophy in trade is 100 percent in line with that of President Reagan. That is, an orientation toward a free and open system, but with a recognition that trade has to be fair.

"There has to be a level playing field out there," he said. "It's important for the U.S. to protect its own interest on trade issues, and that certainly does not put me in the protectionist category. During his seven years as president of the mercantile exchan Yeutter has remained involved in international relations. For instance, he is in the middle of negotiating with the Japanese for the right to use a Tokyo Stock Exchange index for futures and options trading. He also has traveled extensively to Europe to try to persuade investors there to trade Eurodollar futures and other currency futures and options at the Chicago exchange.

The exchange, often called the Merc, is a bustling trading center where people buy and sell contracts on agricultural, currency and interest-rate futures. During Mr. Yeutter's tenure there, its volume has more than tripled, to 44 million contracts last year.

Clayton Keith Yeutter (rhymes with writer), who was born Dec. 10, 1020 in Fustic Nebrusky, her courte a lose pay from his childhood in 1930, in Eustis, Nebraska, has come a long way from his childhood in what he described as a 2,500-acre (about 1,017 hectares) "corn and cow" farm. He received his bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska in 1952 and after spending five years in the Air Force, he returned to run the family farm.

He received a law degree in 1963 from the University of Nebraska and a doctorate in agricultural economics there three years later. "He is an extremely intelligent man," said Michael S. Turner, a professor of agricultural economics at the University of Nebraska who was teaching there when Mr. Yeutter was a graduate student, "I think his most outstanding characteristic is his capacity to work. He just has a phenomenal ability. He is one of a half a dozen people I know who I would put into that category."

Mr. Turner remembers traveling throughout Nebraska with Mr.

Yeutter as the recent law graduate explained estate planning and a new state code to farmers. Mr. Yeutter was hired as a professor at the university and later became director of the its agricultural and technical assistance program in Bogota, Colombia.

It was at that time, from the fall of 1968 to the fall of 1970, that he

Esc. 11,200 5,600 3,080

284

Clayton K. Yeutter, nominated to be U.S. trade representative, at his Chicago Mercantile Exchange office.

not only learned Spanish but also developed an abiding interest in international trade, especially as it relates to agriculture.

With regard to the hottest trade issue of the day, trade relations with Japan, Mr. Yeutter refused to discuss what he might do to relieve "The Japanese relationship is an extremely important one," he said.

"In the Western world, that is our most important economic and political relationship by far. The rhetoric certainly has become increasingly barsh, not always without good reason."

"Perhaps the tensions will be defused by actions of other nations"
rather than by actions of the office of the trade representative, he said.

Mr. Yeutter is married to the former Jeanne Vierk, who also graduated from the University of Nebraska. They have three sons and daughter - three are university students and one is a lawyer. Mr. Yeutter, who colleagues say often works from 7:30 A.M. to 6 P.M., said he had little time for fun. He skis occasionally, and said he tries to walk around Chicago as much as possible for exercise. Minutes after Mr. Reagan announced that Mr. Yeutter would be nominated as trade representative, Mr. Yeutter telephoned the news to his 88-year-old mother in Nebraska. When I called her from the White House, all she wanted to know was how long I'd have to stay in the job," Mr. Yeutter said. "She always wants to know why anyone would want to live in Washington when they could live back home in Nebraska."

12.10 (1.10

American Exchange Options

For the Week Ending April 5, 1985

5-16 1-10 3-16 3-16

25 21-16: 20 1-16 25 24 40 1-16 5: 13-16 16 16 25 49: 20 7-16

Sel Inc Tax Ex Thrd C Eagl Gib Eagl

EHBol History Country Country

10.02 NL 10.44 NL 12.97 NL 12.97 NL 17.34 NL 11.45 NL 18.47 NL 18.47

NL NL NL NL NL

Witter: 18.54 NL 1000/031 12.64 13.62 10.70 NL

Certon
SearTx
TextEx
USGov WridW
Dalemare
DMC
Decat
Delaw Delay
De

1-16 376 1-16 376

NL NL 7.77

Gen Elec Elimin Elimin Elimin S&S La Gen Sec Gintaler Gratem Gratem Gratem Gratem Hori Gin Hori Gin Hori Gun Hori Gun Hori Lev Homelov

Har Man Hulton Bond T Collil Emra Gwith r Opilinc Gvisc Bosic Noti NY Mu PracMi

IRI Stck IDS Ag IDS Eq

IDS Ind IDS Bd IND IDS Bd IDS Ent IDS Grif Y IDS Ind Ind Ind IDS Ind Ind Ind IDS Ind Ind Ind IDS Ind Ind IDS Ind Ind

10.24 10.34 1.55.46 NL. 12.25 NL. 12.25 NL. 12.25 NL. 12.25 NL. 12.27 NL. 12

10.50 10.41 12.89 13.29

Plartin Qual SeiDel SeiEnin SeiFin SeiHit SeiUtä SeiUtä SecSit Thritt Trand Flancas Flancas Bond Dyna Indust Indust Indust Indust Indust Indust Indust

15 The Libert of the Control of the

34 S

22.11 17.40 17.40 17.40 7.27

Nicholas Nic

PaxWid
Pean Au
Permarr
Penn Au
Permarr
Phile
Balan
CvFG
Grwin HiYld
Steck
PC CP
Pilarim
Mag
Pilarim
Mag
Pilarim
Highl
Floner
Band Fund
11 Inc
111 Inc
111 Inc

Price
Grwin
Gthine
Hithine
Incom
Int
N Ere
N Horb
Shirs
TxFri
TxFri
PrinPTE

MedT Fund Incom rudentik AdiPtd CatMus

Equity Globa P Gyrse HIYId HYMU MUNY

Oping Oping Other Rech / Utility Vitheam Canv Cally Capt Capt Cary Cary Cary Cary Grand Figure Grand G

11.28 11.53 11.26 12.17 8.31 8.54 7.27 7.35 7.27 7.75 9.34 10.07 8.47 8.94 4.33 4.02 8.54 9.31 10.41 11.47 8.53 9.22 9.17 9.91 19.31 20.99 19.37 20.99 19.37 20.99 19.37 20.99 19.37 20.99 19.37 20.99 19.37 20.99

18.85 41.15 3.93 7.19 16.01 1.10 26,11 NL NL Funds: 2.77 NL 22 NL 147 NL 252 NL 1547 NL 154

NL (scries

Am Ind Amac Invest Ocean Stein Tarket Tarket University University Invest Strategic Cap Op Discretization of the Cap Investment of t

9.20 9.20 17.15 13.22 13.69 7.44 11.24

Royce of Security Security Country Security Country Security Country C

Series: 11.07 12.10 15.86 17.27 14.13 15.44 8.95 7.42 12.31 13.45 10.42

Language Laninus Language Lang

10.14 NL 22.34 NL Graup: 18.35 NL 19.45 NL 19.46 NL 19.46 NL 19.46 NL 19.46 NL 19.46 NL 19.46 NL 19.47 10.75

1873 NL 1874 NL 187

Pennar Pe EnersE 79% G 764 40% Gistor Globow Hecto 146 Hercui 1276 Kaneb 91, V 10% 25 The 12 State 1 16 16 16 16 16 25th 25th 25th Vinesa 17th 316 15-16 Fin 13-16 Amilian silvento 27% 27% legs F

15% SFeSP 24% 24% 46% 46% Telesc 36% 38% valera 16% water 22% Tutal

hornson Gwth Ince Oper ustr Fd

20th Giff r Growth Select Using Visig I USAA Contain Gold Growth Inco Shirt TXEIT TXESh

Acom Gwth Ince Mali

/aiue Bond Fund Incom Lev Gi Mun Bd Spl Sit /KrnpM VK US

Cape Cape DBst f Dver f ExFd ExBs Fide (

STOLE

7,80 8. 7,80 8. 7,61 N 18,25 11. 7,54 7.5 15,06 N 11,43 12.

Strutters: 40.04 NL 19.80 NL 13.29 NL 8.24 8.56

By Steven J. Dryden BRUSSELS - The latest dispute between the United States and the European Community over not cover semilinished products steel could reach a critical point The United States notified the EC in February that it believed the level of community exports of semilinished steel products violated their 1982 carbon steel trade The agreement provided for a 60-day period of consultations the United States has said it might impose limits on community semifinished steel products. The EC Commission said it would react "vigorously" to any U.S. curbs on steel and is studying a list of U.S. exports, including limited in retaliation.

The EC and the United States agreement. A request by the community last week for another meeting has not been answered by Washington.

The United States said the combined for the meeting, held in Luxembourg.

The West German agriculture minister, Ignaz Kiechle, refused to go along with the Commission's recommendation that grain prices

THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY

Steel Dispute With U.S. Is Reaching Critical Stage

when violations were suspected. The period ran out Monday and agricultural products, that could be munity boosted sales of semifinished steel products to get around limits on other types of steel in the 1982 accord. The agreement does but provides for consultations if one party believes trade is being diverted to avoid the restraints.

The EC has rejected the U.S. charge, saying the high value of the dollar and demand from American manufacturers have caused the in-

Bonn Blamed for Delay On Farm-Price Accord

The failure of community agriculture ministers to agree on farm prices last week will probably delay an accord until at least mid-May, EC officials said.

Normally, the 1985-86 prices should be agreed upon by April I.
West Germany, which has been beavily criticized in the community for its position, was blamed for the

that its farmers' incomes have suffered unfairly compared with others in the community.

France and several other countries criticized West Germany for taking what they said was a contradictory approach to community policies. They said Bonn called for strict overall EC spending limits while seeking exemptions when West German interests were threat-

Filippo Pandolfi, the Italian farm minister who chairs the agriculture session under the EC's rotating leadership, has not ruled out a vote to overcome the West Ger-

Italian Representative

Is Given a Promotion While Italy still faces difficulty in arranging an agreement on agri-culture, it has a major achievement

to its credit: the conclusion of the expansion talks with Spain and Giulio Andreotti, the Italian foreign minister, assisted by the Italian permanent representative in Brussels, Pietro Calamia, conducted the six days of nonstop negotiat-

Last Wednesday, Mr. Calamia received what his colleagues said was recognition of his efforts: appointment to the rank of full ambassador by the Italian council of ministers. Italy has only 18 full ambassadors in its foreign service. Mr. Calamia, 55, is on his third tour in Brussels, including one as deputy chief of mission from 1978 to 1980. He then served as Italy's

Delors Cautions Japan On Trade-Barrier Moves

ing to Brussels last year.

The Commission president, Jacques Delors, has told Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone of Japan that the EC should not be left out of coming Japanese trade liberalization moves. In a message to Mr. Nakasone, Mr. Delors emphasized the community's interest in seeing Japanese administrative procedures and import rules simplified, as well as increased Japanese purchases of EC products.

Mr. Delors said the EC would not accept new Japanese trade policies that only benefited the United ing that led to an agreement last

Mutual Funds

429 - 144 - 145 - 145 - 145 - 145 - 145 - 155 -

STATE OF THE STATE

no quoto-led by the of Securities Deal-ers, inc., are the pric-es of which these

Equity Golon Golon Golon Golon Golon Golon Golon Golon Golon Tafil Capully Inco Golon Golo

1.00 2.3 240 40 1.40 EL

15834 15834

1.50g 31

.52 2<sub>4</sub>

.40b 27

10c 29

220 13

30 27 75 92

3.03e 9.4

1.10 1.70

THE STATE OF THE S

33 12

14 .5 24 .5 **

ASOUTH AND THE STATE OF THE STA 1510 134 1510 134 The state of the s

1837 2046 557 624 1871 NL 7719 NL Houghton; 982 244 455 747 817 147 NL 1126 NL 7.11 ML 9.97 ML 15.74 17.22 ML 15.74 17.22 ML 15.74 17.22 ML 15.74 17.22 ML 10.57 ML 10.57 ML 10.57 ML 10.57 ML 10.57 ML 10.59 ML 11.27 ML 11.29 ML FedSc Grwth Prefs incom Real E Stock Tai Re E Tai Re Fairld fai Tele Inflormed Nai Fa Nai Fa Nai Fa Nai Fa Count Incom Rat Eau Extra Bed As Disco Governorman and Control Income Interest and Research Interest and Inte Amely/ Ansity/ Centroes Control Income Growd Income Growd Indified Mun B Goth Goth Coystone Cus Bair Cus Bair Cus Bair Cus Bair Cus Ster Cus Ste 12.11 13.04 12.97 14.17 5.16 5.44 2.95 9.45 10.89 N.L 4.12 4.16 4.24 4.16 4.24 4.16 4.25 4.16 14.34 N.L 10.00 N.L 25.61 N.L 25.61 N.L 25.61 N.L 25.61 N.L 25.61 N.L 1.99 274 9.76 10.52 5.16 5.44 10.25 10.45 12.10 12.05 Drevius A Sind CalTx Drevi Interm Lovise GthOp NY Tx Chicago Exchange Options

For the Week Ending April 5, 1985 104th STAR C BS S 111144 111146 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 111144 1144 1 redic thrushing to relie to the state of t 用品名与加州岛中岛东西 Add the teat relation to the second of the 1-16 4 F The 12 The 12

Coci 27% Coc STINE TO STAND TO STA The probability of the state of 如此了如果的「他也打「做了」」「知道「知道」是是了了他了我们的人的他的写了他了他的 Allessi Salah Salah Addenin Bersalah Salah 「梅るれて「ちゅうと」ではいる神のでは、これは、ないのは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、ないのでは、 14 THE TAKE THE TAKE THE 11-14 44 814 15-14

IF YOU GET A KICK OUT OF SOCCER, READ ROB HUGHES WEDNESDAYS IN THE IHT

Chemical's Ohio Bid 'Makes Sense'

The Associated Press NEW YORK - Chemical New

York Corp., which signed a letter of intent Friday to acquire the busi-ness of a closed Ohio thrift, is known as a leading lender to middle-sized businesses.

As a result, analysis said, they were not surprised by the interest which the U.S.'s sixth-largest banking company exhibited in the possi-bility of making an acquisition in Ohio, where middle-sized businesses are abundant.

Fred Wightman, who follows the banking industry for Duff & Phelps Inc. in Chicago, said Chemi-cal had demonstrated "a real talent" for cultivating retail and "middle-market" business through its principal subsidiary, Chemical

"Their long-term strategy calls for applying such expertise in other parts of the country. The national expansion motive is evident here," Lawrence Cohn, a banking anayst for the securities firm of Dean York, said: "This makes tremendous sense. Ohio is chock-a-block with those kinds of companies." Mr. Cohn made his comments

Witter Reynolds Inc., in New

be interested in acquiring Home vice, Home State depositors remain State Savings Bank of Cincinnati, cut off from their money.

A spokesman for Chemical, Ken Herz, said it has long been ranked as the top lender to middle-market businesses in the tri-state area of New York, New Jersey and Con-necticut. He said the bank considers middle-market businesses those with annual sales of $5 million to Chemical said Friday that it had signed a letter of intent with the state of Ohio to buy Home State. Under the agreement, Chemical would establish a newly chartered, federally insured commercial bank in Ohio providing comprehensive banking services.

$150 million.

Home State closed March 8, as depositors descended on the thrift to withdraw their money. The depositors were worried because Home State had disclosed that it stood to lose about $145 million as result of its transactions with a failed Florida-based securities

The Home State closing jeopar-dized a private deposit insurance fund and prompted the governor of Ohio to close other savings and loans insured by the same fund. earlier this week after it had be. Although most of the others have net was $340.8 million, up 11.2 percome rumored that Chemical may reopened for at least limited ser-cent from $305.6 billion in 1983.

Chemical's agreement is subject to several conditions, including a detailed evaluation of Home State's assets and liabilities, the passage of enabling legislation by the Ohio legislature, approval by Chemical's board and regulatory approval. Federal law prohibits interstate banking except when the laws of the states involved permit

This would be Chemical's first commercial bank outside its New York state base, although it operates corporate lending offices else-where in the United States. Mr. Herz said Chemical had opened offices specializing in middle-market lending in the past two years in New Jersey and Connecticut. Mr. Herz said it had agreed in 1982 to merge with Florida National Bank in Jacksonville, but legislation has not been passed to permit the merger. Chemical Bank is the sixth largest in the United States with assets of $35.1 billion. It has 260 domestic branches. Its parent has assets of $52.2 billion and a staff of 20,000 worldwide. In 1984, Chemical New York's

Mitsubishi Says It May Buy Gear From IBM Unit

The Associated Press TOKYO — Mitsubishi Electric Corp. said it was considering purchasing telecommunica tions equipment from Rolm Corp. of Santa Clara, California, and marketing it in Japan. Mitsubishi, which made the mnouncement Friday, said it has not reached a final decision on purchasing digital private branch exchanges, or PBX's, from Rolm, a subsidiary of In-ternational Business Machines

Corp. of Armonk, New York. But analysts said the pur chases would be a way for Mitsubishi Electric to tighten con-nections with IBM, greatly improving Mitsubishi Electric' position in Japan's telecomnunications market.

Since Japan's telecommunications market became liberalized April 1, Toshiba Corp., one of Mitsubishi Electric's com petitors, already has begun discussions with American Tele phone & Telegraph Co. apparently aimed at cooperation in marketing telecommun cations equipment in Japan.

Intrapreneuring': A Corporate Can-Do Theory

the highly successful yellow pads with the gentle adhesive. Arthur Fry, a product designer for 3M, book marker to note pages in a church hymnal, but one that would adhere to the pages without tearing them when re-

So, using an adhesive already developed at 3M by Spencer Silver, a colleague, and taking advantage of a company policy that permits technical personnel to pursue their own ideas for the company 15 percent of the time, Mr. Fry developed a manufacturing process in his basement to produce Post-Itbasement to produce Post-It-

For his efforts, Mr. Fry was promoted to the post of senior scientist. He also won the Carlton Award — "3M's Nobel Prize," Mr.

Fry said. Similarly, Texas Instruments' successful Speak-n-Spell electronic learning aid was developed by engineers who received financing outside the company's normal funding

ESCORT SERVICE

ployees to Boca Raton, Florida, ness successes. The reasons, he said giving them their own budget and in a recent interview, are many.

who turned hobbies into big busi-nesses for their employers. "The idea is not new at all," said

Business School professor who has written and lectured on entrepreneurship.

But it is because many companies lag in intrapreneurship that the new book has gained a hearing.

Gifford Pinchot 3d, 42, the book's author, is a consultant in New Haven, Connecticut, who has spent several years promoting intrapreneurship at some of the nation's largest industrial concerns, including Exxon Corp., Du Pont Co., Ford Motor Co. and American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Since going into national distribution a month ago, his "Intrapreneuring" has sold more than 65,000 copies.

Mr. Pinchot's argument, in thest is that American companies channels.

In a variation on intrapreneurship, IBM produced its first personal computer by spiriting em
Mr. Pinchot's argument, in short, is that American companies excel at generating ideas but are poor at converting them into busi-ignoring long-standing policy of For example, most large compa-not buying parts from the outside. The sample of the policy of t

And there have been countless a new business will earn, which is impossible in the case of truly new ventures, he said. And the "pas-sion" of an innovative idea often gets lost as it moves from product development to manufacturing to chot provides a checklist for managers and employees wanting to be more intrapreneurial.

For employees, for instance, Mr. Pinchot offers an "Intrapreneur's Ten Commandments." Among them: "Come to work each day willing to be fired."

Some call that nonsense: "It's simply not a realistic possibility for a significant proportion of the work force working in traditional organization," Miss Kanter said. "If they went to work each day expecting to get fired, chances are they would."

Managers, by comparison, are urged to end the "home-run philosophy," in which companies favor a few well-planned projects, and to concentrate on developing many small, experimental businesses. They are also encouraged to give intrapreneurs more, but make them incur more risk, such as tying their job security to the success of their projects.

employees corporate "slack": the time, money and equipment to tin-

But the successes aside, intra-According to banking experts, it was partly the intrapreneurial outlook of lending officers that led many big banks to make large loans in the energy industry in the mid-1970s. Many of those loans have soured with falling oil prices.

Similarly, Bankers Trust Co., which has been trying to be more intrapreneurial by adding investditional commercial banking skills, has reportedly been struggling with a problem that many companies face: how to compensate its intrapreneurs. By paying investment bankers more, according to sources bred resentment among other em-

For his part, Mr. Pinchot says the problem is surmountable: Pay

ESCORTS & GUIDES

		-			VIENNA - DESIREE ESCORT Service.
	INTERNATIONAL	(Conti	inued From Back	Page)	LONDON JAPANESE ESCORT Service, Tel: 01 821 0627.
	ESCORT SERVICE	ESCORTS & GUIDES	ESCORTS & GUIDES	ESCORTS & GUIDES	HEATHROW LONDON ESCORT Ser- vice. Tel. 994 6682.
١	USA & WORLDWIDE		ADICTOCATO	AMSTERDAM JASMINE	LONDON LUCY ESCORT & Guide Service. Tel. 01-373 0213
	330 W. 56th St., N.Y.C. 10019 USA 212-765-7896	CAPRICE	ARISTOCATS Lendon Escert Service 128 Wignore St., London W.1.	ESCORT SERVICE. 020-366655	MONTREAL RENDEZ-VOUS Excert Service, 514-931-2441.
l	212-765-7754	ESCORT SERVICE	All major Credit Cards Accepted Tel: 437 47 41 / 942	AMSTERDAM BARBARA	FRANKPURT "TOP TEN" Excert Service. 069/59-60-52.
I	MAJOR CREDIT CARDS AND CHECKS ACCEPTED	IN NEW YORK	12 noon - midright	ESCORT SERVICE, 020-954344	FRANKFURT - YVONNE'S ESCORT and Travel Service. Tel: 069/44 77 75
١	Private Memberships Available	TEL: 212-737 3291.	MAYFAIR CLUB	AMSTERDAM NICOLE	VIBNINA VIP ESCORT SERVICE. Tel: (Vienna) 65 41 58
I	This gward-winning service has been featured as the top & most southern by		GUIDE SERVICE from 5pm ROTTERDAM (0) 10-254155 THE HAGUE (0) 70-60 79 96	ESCORT SERVICE 020-999244	LONDON GARRIELA ESCORT Service. Tel: 01-229 6541.
١	USA & International service medic including radio and TV.	LONDON	THE HAGUE (0) 70-60 79 96	FRANKFURT + SURIKOURIDINGS. Coroline's Escort & travel service. En- olish. French. German spoken. Tel.	MADRID SELECTIONS ESCORT Ser- vice. Tel: 4011507, Credit Cords.
l		LONDON BEIGRAVIA	MARRIE INTE	oksh, French, German spoken. Tel. [069] 43 57 63.	cort Services. Tel: 328 5300/341 9531 AMSTERDAM JEANET Escort Service
l	REGENCY	Escart Service.	MADRID INT'L	GENEVA - HELENE ESCORT SERVICE Tel: 36 29 32	Tel: (020) 326420 or 340110.
ĺ	WORLDWIDE MULTILINGUAL	Tel: 736 5877.	TEL: 2456548. CREDIT CARDS	LONDON HEATHROW MAXINE Escori Senice. Tel: 937 4428 / 935	Class Escort Service, 0221/54 33 04.
l	ESCORT SERVICE		ZURICH	7603 London DUSSELDORF - COLOGNE - BONN	escort + travel service. Tel: 62 84 32.  CARIBBEAN ESCORT SERVICE. Trian-
Į	NEW YORK OFFICE	LONDON	Samantha's Escart & Guida Servica Maio & Ferrale, Tet: 01/56 96 92	Exclusive Econt + Travel Service. Tel: 0211-6799863.	guel. Bosel. Tel: 061/54 34 41  MUNROR HELEN'S Escort + Guide
ı	Tel: 212-838-8027	Portman Escort Agency 67 Chitem Street,	Mais & Person. 182 U1/36 76 72	FRANKFURT AREA - ANGELIQUE'S bilingual Escort + Iranyi service. Tel: 069/62 88 05.	Service, Tel: 089/4486038  FRANKFURT SONIA ESCORT Ser-
l	£ 212-753-1864	London WT Tel: 486 3724 or 486 1158 All major credit cords accepted	* MADRID *	AMSTERDAM, Brussels, Antwerp, The	vice, Tel: 069-68 34 42.
l	* USA & TRANSWORLD	72 mga 400 400 400 400 400 400 400 400 400 40	TASTE ESCORT SERVICE	Hague, Rohardom, College Escort Service, Amsterdam (003120) - 906266	travel service. Tet: 328 8459.
ł	A-AMERICAN		TBL: 411 72 57-259 61 96	IONDON ESCORT AGENCY. Tel: 935 5339.	BRUSSELS, CHANTAL ESCORT Service: Tel: 02/520 23 65.
l	EVERYWHERE YOU ARE OR GOL	LONDON	ROME CLUB EUROPE ESCORT & Guide Service, Tel: 06/589 2604-589	LONDON ESCORT SERVICE. Tel: 937 6574,	FRANKRIRT - ANNE'S Escort Service. Tel: 069 / 28-81-03.
Ì	1-813-921-7946	BEST ESCORT SERVICE	1146 (from 4 pm to 10 pm)	VENNA CLEOPATRA Escort Service. Tel: 52 73 88 + 47 70 35.	FRANKFURT "TOP TEN" Escort Service. 089/59-60-52.
	Call free from U.S.: 1-800-227-0892 Call free from Florido: 1-800-282-0892	TEL: 200 8585	CHELSEA ESCORT SERVICE. 57 Beouthorno Placa, London SW3.	LONDON / HEATHROW GATWICK Excert Service Tel: 387 06 08	FRANKFURT/MUNICH Male Escort Service. 069/386441 & 089/3518226.
l	Lowell Eastern welcomes you book!		Tel: 01 584 6513/2/49 [4-12 pm]	NEW YORK Renee & Gabrielle Escart Service, 212-223-0870.	MUNICH - PRIVATE ESCORT + Guide Service, Tel: 91 23 14
l	LONDON CLASS	LONDON	GENEVA «BEAUTY» ESCORT SERVICE	FRANKFURT + SURROUNDINGS Christing's Escort Service. 069/364656	MADRID UMPACT ESCORT & Guide Service, Multilinguol, 261 41 42

TBL: 29 51 30

SERVICE Tel: 46 17 58

KENSINGTON

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED

53 Singer

62 Jacket or collar

65 Charge

4 Bore

63 Decoy 64 Frozen rain

DOWN

3 Brainstorm

5 New Deal

1 Reptiles in the

Fitzgerald

ACROSS 1 "... baked in 5 Renaired tire 60 Sly gaze 0 Mop the deck 14 Fizzy drink 15 Color called bleu Louise 16 Part of an oriel

17 Equal 18 Value 20 Puncture 21 Ballet performer 22 Not difficult 25 Pleasure, in Paris 26 Work list 31 An arm of

HUD 34 Dishonest 36 Epochs 37 Birch's cousin 38 Sonny's sibline 40 Laver 41 Outline of a figure 43 Peculiar 44 Recess in a chứrch

agcy. 6 Vacant 7 Head, in Milano 8 Ouse feeder 9 Promises 10 Part of a tome 11 Woman soldier 12 Poker term relative 19 Concern 45 Kind of drama 24 Pouch 46 Atmosphere 26 Famed Italian

27 Extremely cold 28 Over 59 Bright light at 29 Sheer cotton 30 Marsh plant

31 Worries 32 Creator of Truthful James 33 Property, e.g. 35 Mother of Horus startling 39 Obtund or obtuse 41 Elves 42 Wood sorrel 44 Is not up to par 46 Venerate 47 Actor Duilio 48 Ants' creation 49 Ostrichlike bird

51 ---- and void 52 Where Perry Your ..." 55 Pillage 56 Queen or princess 58 Harden

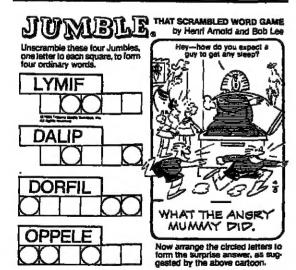

50 Imitator

New York Times, edited by Eugene Maleska.

DENNIS THE MENACE

IF YOU'LL BUY ME A PONY, I'LL GIVE UP MY COLLEGE EDUCATION.

COO HIS COO Jumbles: GUILE CROAK INNING PSYCHE Answer: Could be a roundabout way of showing your love — A HUG

WEATHER

EUROPE	нсен	LOW	ASIA	HIGH LOW
				CFCF
	C F	CF	Banglook	29 84 25 77 d
Algorve	19 66	15 57 C	Bellion	21 70 10 50 tr
Amsterdam	14 57		Hone Konp
Athens	27 70	15 59 0	Manile
Berchiene	22 77 24 75	8 46 fr		20 86 26 79 a
Belgrode	24 7	13 55 0	New Delhi	26 79 22 72 0
Berlin	14 41	8 46 0	Secul	TB 64 17 52 fr
Brussels	14 57		Shonghal	14 57 10 50 o
Bochgrest	26 75		Singapore	28 82 24 75 D
Budanest	21 70	10 St ct	Talpel	21 70 15 57 C
Copenhages	5 41		Takye	17 63 12 54 0
Costa Del Sol	25 77
Dublin	14 57	6 43 sh	AFRICA
Edisburgh	11 52
Florence	18 64		Algiers	19 66 10 50 cl 17 63 70 50 fr
Frankfurt	15 59	7 34 2	Cairo	17 43 10 50 fr
Geoeva	14 57		Cape Town	19 66 96 48 3h
Helsinki	3 37		Casabloocu	20 48 13 55 fr
Istanbol	20 4		Horore	27 81 17 63 cl
Las Palmes			Layes	30 86 25 77 cl
Lishon			Natrobi	24 77 14 57 1
	18 4		Tunis	23 73 16 A1 C
London	15 59
Medrid	14 57		LATIN AM	LERICA
Milan	14 47	4 39 fr	B
Moscow	2 34 17 43	-2 28 SW	Bomos Aires Limo	26 79 20 48 cl
Munich		443 0		26 79 20 4F c
Nice	16 61		Mexico City	26 79 9 48 cl 30 86 25 77 cl
Osla	0 32		Ria de Joneiro
Parks	12 54	6 43 Sh	See Paulo	na
Propué	18 64		NORTH A	4=5100
Reykjevik	9 45	3 37 F	AUKINA	MEKICA
Rome	19 66	9 45 0	Anchorosa
Stockholm	1 34	-1 36 0		0 32 •7 19 pc
Strasbourg	14 47	6 43 0	Allegija	20 48 55 41 PC
Venice	18 64	6 43 o	Boston	13 55 6 43 PC
Vienno	22 72	7 48 0	Chicago	9 48 -2 28 PC
Warsaw			Deliasia	10 50 -4 25 PC
Zurich		10 50 fr	Detroit	7 45 -2 26 pc
ZUIRCH	13 55	4 39 C	Honglutu	27 81 16 61 fr
MIDDLE	ACT		Housion	26 77 13 55 pc
MIDULE E	Ma I		Los Angeles	2 7 U 5 E
Ankors	11 52	1 34 fr	Migmi
Beirut	19 44	1 34 fr	Minnegpolis
Domoscus	20 68	10 SO et	Montreal	6 43 -4 25 0
Jerusolem	14 57	7 45 fr		9 48 3 37 r
Tel Aviv			Nesson	26 79 18 64 pc
	20 68	70 50 fr	New York	14 57 6 41 pc
OCEANIA			Son Francisco	20 68 11 52 pc
			Sectile	19 66 4 39 fr
Auckland	17 43	10 50 d	Toronia
Sydney	21 70	15 SP fr	Washington
Chellength & Sand		10 ay 11	THE PERSON NAMED IN	18 64 0 32 PC

DAY'S FORECAST — CHANNEL: Chor L 14—8 (57—46), LONDON: Roin, Tem Temp. 14—8 (57—46). LONDON: Rolin, Temp. 14—8 (57—46). ADRIDIO: Rolin, Temp. 14—8 (57—46). ADRIDIO: Rolin, Temp. 14—8 (57—46). ADRIDIO: Overcost, Temp. 14—11 (57—22). New YORK: Parriv cloudy. Temp. 46—30. 47. (54—45). ROME: Folir. Temp. 25—3 (45—46). ROLINE: Folir. Temp. 21—9 (77—48). ZURICH: Rolin, Temp. 25—4 (45—46). TEL AVIV: Folir. Temp. 27—2 (77—48). ZURICH: Rolin, Temp. 17—7 (54—45). BANGKOK: Fopor. Temp. 27—2 (77—22). HONG KONG: Rolin, Temp. 19—5 (46—41). SINGAPORE: Toundestorms. Temp. 26—20. (46—77). TOKYO: Rolin, Temp. 14—13 (57—57). TOKYO: Rolin, Temp. 14—13 (57—57). PEANUTS

BEETLE BAILEY

REX MORGAN

BLONDIE WHAT IS THAT'S EASY

STOP GRIPING,

BEETLE, AND

LOOK AT THE

BRIGHT SIDE

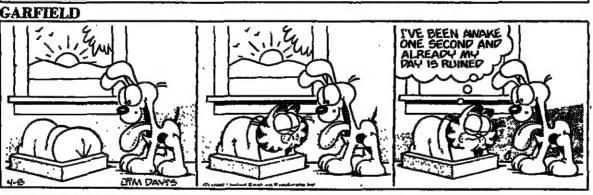

MORE L ANDY CAPP ANY HINT YET OF WHAT HE'S GOING TO GET YOU, FLO?

WIZARD of ID WELL, I'M GLAD TO GWME SEE YOU'RE HAYING A POACHED SOMETHING TO EAT egg BEFORE YOU START DRINKING, BUNG

.AND

POACH

IT IN

BOOKS

A CHANGING ISRAEL

By Peter Grose. 129 pp. Paper $4.95. Vintage, 201 East 50th Street, New York, N. Y. 10022.

Reviewed by J. Robert Moskin

THE truth is Israel has changed drastically.

With the occupation of the West Bank and the Gaza Strip in 1967 and the rise to power of the leaders of the pre-state right wing Irgun and Stern Gang undergrounds 10 years later, the pioneer era is over. It has been succeeded by discordant values, divisiveness, an economy out of control and a million conquered Arabs. Israel has traded a measure of external safety for internal trouble. In this brief, fact-studded book; Peter Grose, managing editor of the Council on Foreign Relations' magazine, Foreign Affairs, identifies four major changes that bear on Israel's domestic well-being and external relations with the rest of the world. These perceptions of change will be surprising even to those who have been paying attention.

The first change Grose emphasizes is that Israel has become a "fractious society." He is not referring to the familiar split between the Ashkenazi and Sephardi Jews — which he sees as "cultural divisions of the Diaspora [that] are losing their relevance" — but the clash of rigidly observant and secular Jews between whom "tensions and bitterness [are] growing. He says that "the conflict between the varying demands of religious observance is the most potentially disruptive threat to the unity of Jewish Israel." Secondly, Grose decries the disastrous, self-indulgent inflation that has "brought the nation to a genuine economic crisis." As a result, 350,000 Israelis (10 percent of the population) have moved to the United States and many others ship their savings out of the country.

"Israel is an economic ward of a foreign power, the United States," Grose adds. "The state of the Israeli economy is no longer a purely internal matter to be left to Israeli politicians. It is, to an increasing degree, the United States Treasury and the American taxpayer that underwrite the economic priorities defined in Third, he says, "The undeniable reality, not planned and not pleasing to either side, is that the extended Jewish state of Israel is becoming a binational society." But he disagrees that

Solution to Friday's Pozzle

s	R	0	Ö	A	C	E	S	8	T	R	E	S	Ž.
디	0	N	F	R	0	N	T		۵	E	N	U	D	E
A	L	T	-	T		D			L	E	۵	G	E	R
	E	A	N		N	0	W		ш	Ļ	P	Ā	S	0
A	S	P	E	C	T	6	12				I	H	1	S
y.				H	Ę	A	T		P	R	Ε	C	60
	Н	E	M	I	S	P	H	E	R	T	C	A	Ł
2	0	٧	E	R	S	Ť	A	T	E	М	E	N	T
1	T	E	M	P	E	S	T	T	0	S	S	E	D
	10	R	0	s	s	00	S	A	R	K	le:	ar go	34
Ε	N	G	R	1	S MEN	100		90	D	Y	N	A	S	Ŧ
В	0	R	A	G	E	1	T	A	A	500	Ē	S	T	E
ō	P	Ε	N	E	R	100	A	N	ī	М	Ā	Ŧ	O	R
N	E	Ē	D	Ē	D	*	М	1	N	ō	T	A	Ū	R
		N	A	$	A	28	E	L	s	A	8	R	Ŧ	E
												-	/6	/85

higher Arab birthrates will evenually over-whelm the Jewish state. He points out that between 1967 and 1982, the West Bank birthrate was indeed 4.1 percent, but the actual population growth was only 1.4 percent. "The fact is Arabs are quietly leaving the West Bank." And, "The regime of martial law that existed since 1967 serves the interests of Jewish Israelis quite well, and the Arab palestinians under occupations have not yet railied to challenge this status quo." Fourth, Israel replaced wars of survival with a war of conquest. Israeli troops "had always believed that when they were sent to the front line, it was to defend Israel's vital interests and survival. That faith was lost in Lebanon. Disillusionment spread to the civilian population." Ariel Sharon's arrogant 1982 invasion of Lebanon (which the United States "unwittingly underwrote" turned adventurism into despair and 600 Israeli dead. It was a "tragic and costly blunder." Grose says, "more than at any other time in their history, Israelis began to question the legitimacy of their government's military judgement. . . . A serious break-down of civil responsibility had occured.

Now, the so-called "unity government" headed by Shimon Peres is trying to escape from Lebanon, bring the economy down to earth and restore the Israelis' faith in themselves as a righteous people. It has a lot of sweeping up to do. Peter Grose explains some of the reasons why. His book, the product of a Council on Foreign Paletions study ground an Council on Foreign Relations study group on Israel, is short enough, clear enough and right often enough to offer a reader a quick onceover of the state of Israel today.

But Grose goes a step further. He recom-mends what Americans should do about this changing Israel. If the United States were to follow Peter Groses's controversial prescriptions, it would:

• Keep the U.S. Embassy in Tel Aviv Grose says to move it to Jerusalem, Israel's capital is "a foolish and irresponsible" proposal - despite repeated political promises to do

 Put a cap on economic support to Israel to stop fueling the runaway inflation that Israeli politicians do not have the courage to deal

 Send financial aid to improve the living conditions and productivity of Arabs on the West Bank, since, Grose says, they are not about to get either national self-determination or Israeli annexation.

· Accept the premise that the 1967 borders on the Jordan River and the Golan Heights 'may well hold firm for a long time to come." Somehow arrange "a stand-off understanding" between Israel and Syria to minimize the danger of renewed hostilities. • When the time comes for Middle East mediation, invite the Soviet Union to be "in the supporting cast, rather that carping from the galleries."

These very debatable recommendations are an attempt by Grose (and presumably the council's study group)to outling an American policy in response to a changing Israel. They deserve to be poured into the pot of the ongoing debate.

J. Robert Moskin, senior editor of World Press Review, is the author of "Among Lions,"the story of the battle for Jersualem in 1967. He wrote this review for The Washington

BRIDGE

By Alan Truscott

On the diagramed deal, the Hand, cue-bid by North showed In v spade support with at least invitational values. Three spades would have shown a desire to or the club queen or both. So reject an invitation, so South South laid a little trap by leadoptimistically jumped to game. ing the diamond deuce from It made no difference, for his hand. West might have North would have continued asked himself why the declarer took his king and continued dummy, South had a road hearts. When the declarer open to success and found it. ruffed, he had to worry about the possibility of losing a trick diamond ace was cashed. It in each minor suit. There was a was now clear that West had faint chance of avoiding a dia- begun with three spades, five mond loser, so he considered the dummy to pin a hypotheti- was doomed to lose, and West seemed probable that West appeared, and the game was held either the diamond king over three spades.

The opening heart lead was would play diamonds at this point, but he failed to scent danger and routinely played tried a trump linesse. West low. When the jack won in Trumps were drawn, and the hearts and at least three diathe possibility of leading the monds. So the top clubs were diamond jack eventually from cashed, spurning a finesse that lead. He had to concede a ruff In view of the overcall, it and sluff, so the club loser dis-

> WEST • K 75 • K Q J 82 • K 8 4 • 8 5 964 9 10 8 75 Q 10 8 4 3 SOUTH (D) ◆ A 109#2 973 ing: West 2 V Pass

SPORTS BRIEFS

Prost Victor in Formula 1 Season-Opener

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Frenchman Alain Prost, driving a McLaren, defeated Michele Alboreto to win the season-opening Brazilian Formula One Grand Prix race here Sunday, taking the event for the second consecutive year. Early leader Keke Rosberg dropped out when the turbo broke on his Williams, and Prost took a solid lead over Alboreto midway through the race. Alboreto, in a Ferrari, finished well ahead of Elio De Angelis (Lotus).

Eternal Prince, Skywalker Win Prep Races

NEW YORK (UPI) — Eternal Prince, at 18-1, was never seriously challenged here Saturday in beating favored Pancho Villa by five lengths to win the one-mile (1.61-kilometer) Gotham Stakes, a stepping stone to the May 4 Kentucky Derby. Meanwhile, in Arcadia, California, Skywalker won by a nose over Fast Account in the mile-and-one-eighth Santa Anita Derby, Southern California's final preprace for the first less of the Triple Croppe. race for the first leg of the Triple Crown.

Eternal Prince clocked one minute, 34 and two-fifths seconds, one second slower than Secretariat's track record, set in 1973.

Moorhouse of U.K. Sets Breaststroke Mark

MANCHESTER (UPI) - Adrian Moorhouse of Britain clocked a world record of one minute, 0.58 seconds in the 100-meter breaststroke at the national short-course (25-meter) swimming championships here Saturday. Moorhouse, fourth in the men's 100-meter breaststroke final at the 1984 Olympics, shaved three-hundredths of a second off the mark set last year by Victor Davis of Canada.

Floyd, Blackmar Greensboro Golf Leaders

GREENSBORO, North Carolina (UPI) — Ray Floyd and PGA newcomer Phil Blackmar were tied at four shots under par Saturday through three rounds of the Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament.

Floyd, a 22-year tour veteran, and Blackmar, who qualified only last fall, compiled 54-hole totals of 212 going into Sunday's final round. Floyd's 66 was the best score of the third round; he carded birdies on seven of his first nine holes and added two more on the back nine. Blackmar had a 68 Saturday.

A 75 tied Bobby Clampett for second at 213 with Peter Jacobsen (a 70) and Dan Pohl (71). Jeff Sluman, who had held the lead alone through the first two rounds, fell to 77/214 when his putting faltered.

Ueberroth Lifts Blue's Baseball Suspension the franchise, prompting the quarterback Steve Young to say: "What if we win the league? Does Usher the win the league?

NEW YORK (AP) - Peter Ueberroth has reinstated pitcher Vida Blue, who is in training camp with the San Francisco Giants, the baseball commissioner's office announced late Friday. Blue had been suspended for the 1984 season by Ueberroth's predecessor as commissioner, Bowie Kuhn, as a result of a 1983 conviction for drug possession. The suspension required that before he was reinstated this year. Blue had to prove he no longer uses drugs and to demonstrate his compliance with a probationary program. Those conditions have been satisfied, Ueberroth's office said. Blue, 35, compiled a 24-8 record with Oakland in 1971, when he was named the American League's most valuable player and Cy Young Award winner. In 1978, the Tresh money, will make 49 percent A's traded him to San Francisco. Four years later, he was traded to the Royals, who i of their stock available to the pubries and him in Angorst 1983.

USFL: A Spread-Formation Question Mark

By Dave Anderson NEW YORK - If the United States Football League were an oil company or a television network, the corporate raiders would be lurking, ready to pounce.

instead of Doug Flutie, the new USFL name would soon be the Bass Brothers or T. Boone Pickens or Capital Cities Communications. Instead, the new name might be Enerel, at least phonetically, Isn't it time for Commissioner Pete Ro-zelle's raiders to move in and absorb a few franchises?

With the USFL in the seventh weekend of its third season, it continues to stagger on its springtime treadmill. Its planned 1986 switch to a fall schedule is still not com-pleted. Attendance and television ratings are down, and its new commissioner, Harry Usher, acknowl-edges that by the end of the season club owners will have "invested" about $150 million over three seasons without a penny of profit. As proof that the league's most dangerous enemy is itself, consider these developments: Donald Trump hopes to be partly reimbursed by other club owners for having signed Flutie to an $8.3 million, five-year contract with the New Jersey Generals. • The Los Angeles Express remains a team without an owner. In the absence of one, the lengue office is supervising the operation of give himself the trophy, or what?"

 Marvin Warner resigned as an owner of the Birmingham Stallions following the collapse of his Cin-cinnati thrift institution that trig-gered the Ohio banking crisis; the city of Birmingham is considering the purchase of his stock.

• The Jacksonville Bulls, seeking. lic at $100 a share.

The defending-champion Baltimore Stars have been denied the use of Memorial Stadium next

The defending-champion Baltimore Stars have been denied the use of Memorial Stadium next

The Portland Breakers, previous

Meanwhile, the Stars, who play game at their 32,500-seat stadium their games at the University of — and still lose $2 million this Maryland's stadium, continue to practice at Veterans Stadium in • With the departure of Dr. Ted 44,000 two years ago and 33,000 iast year. When the Gold offered Bassett in Tampa Bay.

That same Bassett has threatspectators at the season opener their money back if not satisfied, ened "not to play" a fall schedule the club had to refund $16,981 to next year, provoking Usher to an-

According to their co-owner, for his remarks.

Alvin Lubetkin, the Houston Gamblers may be forced to move if a bursement" from the other club new investor isn't found to ease the owners. Trump obviously didn't

• The Portland Breakers, previspring by Edward Bennett Wil-liams, the baseball Orioles' owner. could sell every ticket for every

• With the departure of Dr. Ted Philadelphia, where they played for Diethrich from the Arizona Outthe league's first two seasons.

The Denver Gold's attendance is averaging 13,969, compared with and Ted Taube in Oakland, Myles Tanenbaum in Baltimore and John nounce that Bassett would be fined

Free safety John Sullivan intercepted, fumbled (above) and against the National Football then finally recovered a pass intended for Oakland's Larry trial in the fall—if there is a USFL willis Saturday night; Portland won the USFL game, 30-17.

believe Flutie was worth $8.3 million. All this is a reminder of a lingering question: Why did Trump give Flutie all those mil-lions when no National Football League team (notably the Buffalo Bills with the No. 1 draft choice) had made a bona fide offer to the Heisman Trophy winner? The answer is that Trump obviously looked upon signing Flutie as a show of strength for the entire USFL which is why he sought con-

Trump's request for "partial reimbursement" has deflated Flutie's value not only to the Generals but also to the USFL's image. Until now, Flutie thought tributions from other clubs.

Trump loved him for himself, not for his value to the other club owners as a symbol and attraction. If you take your best girl to the prom in a limousine, you don't want her to know you're doing it to show off to the neighbors. And the devaluation of Flutie has surfaced just when the Green in the transfer of the control of when the Generals need him most during the baseball season. In their first two games at Giants Stadium, the Generals drew crowds of 58,741 and 41,079, primarily to see Flutie — an average of nearly 50,000, by far the USFL's best.

Only two other teams, Tampa Bay and Jacksonville, are averaging more than 40,000 at home.

But after Sunday's duel between Flutie and Jim Kelly of the Houston Gamblers, the Generals will be competing against the New York Mets and Yankees for speciators, as well as against the televised National Basketball Association playoffs and the lure of spring weather itself to outdoor sports partici-

With all its problems, the USFL seems to be banking its future on its $1.32 billion antitrust suit 427 . 20.

& Canadic

8回路 ニッ

Talk Tol  $\{(\lambda_i)_{i\in I_2}, (\beta_i)_{i\in I_2}\}$ 5.4 W 14

Transaction of the second Bar

A 50 mm -:05 the state of the s

å. at

Mary Cone wericks Hu

Signal Association of the Control of 2.0 41 order and the Date 621 the Rockers with the grant CEL the comments of the same the same the same to be said t an of Sur

Some and sicked in a of the same county vid a the same she the proceedings 1 e tipeli Accomi but a run of 13 A the same of his

Secretary of the secret

im

wh I

SPORTS

rthrates will evenually as sh state. He points on a d 1982, the West hant by A.1 percent, but the is smalled A nerver Cubs, Padres Still the National League Teams to Beat

th was only 14 percent of the regime of marial in

7 serves the interest of a sl., and the Arab paleon as have not yet ralling to replaced wars of survival. st. Israeli troop: "lad die en they were sent to the en they were sent to the be end Israel's vital interest ith was lost in Lebanga spread to the civilian page on's arrogant 1982 in the civilian page the United States arrows action that the United States are the U aeli dead. It was a "there's Grose says, "more thanks eir history, Israela bega eir history, Israela bega timacy of their governous bear sent. A serious bear ponsibility had occupated with the control of their sent.

cours people. It has a be io. Peter Gress explaints iy. His book, the product

If the United State, was

Oses's controversal progr

J. S. Embassy is To to love it to Jerusalem lie

ish and irresponsible page

sated political promasis economic support to less.

of pare the comagnine

al aid to improve the be-moductivity of Arabi at a

e. Grose says, they are:

T national self-determent remise that the 1907 book iver and the Golan He rm for a long time to one rrange "a stand-off me.

en Israel and Syna to & me comes for Middle L

the Soviet Union to it?

ist, rather that carping he satiable recommendation:

Grose and presuming

toup to outling an Amer

e to a changing last F kin, senior educr of Ro.

S the Julian of Ass.

f the battle for Jeruden is review for The Washer

as doomed to lose, adde

as theown in which are

ari. File hari to concedent act shuff, so the club local speared, and the gors

A 18311

North and South see what he hidding

: Flute use notice!

Ul this is a remote? ing question White when no Nauonal has a team in each the be

35 Traph while Is: is that Trump the of wonding for the which is why he same ons from other claim

Fest

of renewed hostimies.

turned adventurism the National League baseball preview whom they heat 12 times in 18 was prepared and written by Jo-games. That was probably the title seph Durso. The order of teams right there. reflects the predicted order of fin-

EASTERN DIVISION Trades built Chicago into a division champion in 1984, when the team won 25 more games than the year before and rose from fifth more arduous time than they fore-place to first with the best record in the league. But the Cubs remember in the last two weeks, the how they blew the pennant to San young pitching has begun to come Diego, which lost two straight apart, Starter Bruce Berenyi develgames in the playoff before sweeping three.

ponsionity man occurs

-called "unity governor
on Peres is trying to exbring the economy decc the Israelis' faith as to first pennant in 40 years, and they have help, It's not so much that leagues. And reliever Brent Gaff they added great talent, but that they kept it. Their three top pitchers — Rick Sutcliffe (who won the Cy Young Award as the best in the ign Relations study group tough, clear emorgh and re offer a reader a quel ag league), Dennis Eckersley and Steve Trout - were re-signed, as offer a crause, a year on of Israel today, as a step further, it me ericans should do about free agents, at a collective cost of around $16.5 million.

Six of Chicago's eight regulars drove in more than 80 runs apiece, including Ryne Sandberg, the league's most valuable player, who batted .314 with 19 triples, 19 home runs, 114 runs, and 32 stolen bases.

New York Times Service

last year, and 110 more than the dez and outfielder Darryl StrawNEW YORK — The following second-place New York Mets, berry to achieve Johnson's most in center field.

second-place New York Mets, berry to achieve Johnson's most in center field.

second-place New York Mets, berry to achieve Johnson's most in center field.

Andre Dawson, the club's main (3.11).

With 79 victories and 83 defeats, ager Dave Johnson can't help voicing it when he evaluates the Mets' oped a sore shoulder. Sid Fernandez ballooned to a preseason So they're still searching for their earned-run average of 8.38 and rest pennant in 40 years, and they won a ficket back to the minor will go on the disabled list Tuesday with shoulder problems. The bullpen still includes the ef-fective Jesse Orosco and Doug Sisk, and there seems to be no outs as a rookie last year).

The young arms will open with a powerful ally - All-Star catcher Gary Carter, picked up from Mon- nounced changes in the cast. Bob treal. A 10-year veteran, Carter has Rodgers is the new manager. Cara strong throwing arm and a comter was traded to the Mets for four manding personality. He also batyoung players, three of whom will urgent goal of increased scoring. St. Louis scored only 652 runs but stole 220 bases last year, and lt's a cliché, but New York Man- nobody else came close. Says Manager Whitey Herzog: "We've got the best defense in the league, and the most speed."

But he also has a hole in the bullpen with the loss of Bruce Sutter, who saved 45 games last season before signing with Atlanta as a free agent. He also does not have George Hendrick (traded to Pittsburgh) or David Green and Dave LaPoint (who went to San Francisco for Jack Clark, the power-hitting outfielder).

"The key is Neil Allen," says Herzog, "If we don't dribble away a lot of late leads, we'll be a good club." Allen, now the Cardinal club." Allen, now the Cardinal stopper, is supposedly the clone of the great Sutter. Andy Van Slyke moves into first base, and Terry doubt about starter Dwight Goo-den's virtuoso ability (276 strike-at third after hitting .324 in 67 Pendieton already rates as a fixture games in his first season. After years of missing the gold medal, Montreal has made pro-

old pitchers Steve Carlton, 40, and Jerry Koosman, 42. Once the hardest-hitting club in The Cubs scored more runs than ted in 106 runs last year and should make the starting lineup—catcher the business, Pittsburgh scored any other team in the league (762) help first baseman Keith Hernan-Mike Fitzgerald, Hubie Brooks at only 615 runs last year and plunged pitcher on a deep staff.

news and bad news. The good news

Juan Samuel (72 steals, a record for a rookie) and Von Hayes (48). The bad news is that the infield defense is a menace: Samuel made as many errors (33) as the entire Chicago

Al Holland saved 29 games but lost his touch entirely down the homestretch. Felske is trying to bullpen to help Holland support man, has long been plagued by bad by two runs or less," says Manager Chuck Tanner, "and we lost 63 of knees, but reports he's currently in good shape. And Steve Rogers, who lost 15 games last year with a them. We didn't have the 'Lumber Company of 1979. We had to go bad shoulder, also is healthy and reclaiming his role as the No. 1 out and get some bats."

They did, too — George Hen-

Philadelphia skidded from first place to fourth last year after makdrick from the Cardinals and Steve Kemp from the Yankees. Last seaing trades that helped make win-ners elsewhere, sending Gary Mat-thews and Bob Dernier to the Cubs son's most important casualty was Bill Madlock, the four-time batting champion who hit only .253, with shoulder and elbow injuries, before and Willie Hernandez to Detroit. surgery ended his season in August. Manager John Felske has good

Biggest experiment: Switching John Candelaria from the starting staff to the bullpen. "I put Goose is that the top three men in the lineup can fly — Jeff Stone (27 stolen bases in 51 games last year), Gossage and Terry Forster in the bullpen once," Tanner says, "and Candy can be just as great."

WESTERN DIVISION

A lot of things went right for San Diego last season: The Padres sulfered no major injury until Kevin McReynolds fractured his wrist in the playoff; they drew clear of the convert Charles Hudson to the pack by midsummer and won the pennant for the first time even though they played only .500 ball down the stretch.

They made two significant moves during the winter, acquiring pitcher LaMarr Hoyt from the Chiago White Sox (for Tim Lollar, Luis Salazar and Ozzie Guillen, the prize rookie shortstop) and signing Jerry Royster as a free agent, adding depth at second and third base and in left field.

Hoyt was both expensive and mysterious: In 1983, he won 24 games and the Cy Young Award; in 1984, he was 13-18. He joins a rotation that also includes Eric show and Andy Hawkins and lefthanders Dave Dravecky and Mark struck out 197 (his 3,874 strikeouts, Manager Dick Williams has yet to figure out why his five World left fielder Cruz hit .312 and Series starting pitchers lasted a to-knocked in 95 runs. tal of just over 10 innings with a composite ERA of 13.94.

Joe Torre is gone as Atlanta's platoon, Mark Bailey, a power-hit-manager after finishing first once and second twice. The new man is catching with Alan Ashby. Enos Eddie Haas, but the main new man Cabell may share first base with the is relief whiz Sutter, whose 45 saves rookie Glenn Davis. And Phil Garand 1.54 ERA last year for St. ner will share third base with Den-Louis brought him a free-agent ny Walling. contract of $10 million.

"We were in 93 games decided Los Angeles was fourth last year (its worst finish in 15 years), mostly because its .244 team batting average was last in the league. The Dodgers also ranked last in runs scored (580), eighth in home runs (102) and 10th in defense. A memorably bad season.

The offensive collapse was dra matized by Greg Brock, who had been touted as the rookie replace-ment for Steve Garvey; in his two seasons, Brock has hit 224 and

People rightly get the feeling the Dodgers once more have players out of position. Pedro Guerrero struggles at Ron Cey's old position, third base. Guerrero made 30 errors in 157 games in 1983 and 16 errors in 76 games last season; he led the club with a .303 batting average, but hit only 16 home runs, Dodgers signed Al Oliver for his bat, but also intend to play him in left field, which is a good trick for somebody who can't throw.

Houston is showing some age. Knuckleballer Joe Niekro is 40. strikeout artist Nolan Ryan is 38 and José Cruz, the team's best offensive player, is 37. But the Astros' main worry is Dickie Thon, their best young player, who is 26.

Thon played in only five games last season before he was hit by a pitch and suffered a serious eye injury. He is still struggling to see the ball at bat, but he's back at shortstop, The old guys are still going strong. Niekro won 16 games last season and went 248 innings, club highs. Ryan missed six weeks with injuries, but won 12 games and two more than Carlton's total, are the most in baseball history). And

There are few new faces, and Manager Bob Lillis will continue to

Pete Rose's chief target as a play-"I'm not the piece that fits the er is to get 95 hits and pass Ty puzzle," Sutter says. "That goes to Cobb's all-time-record 4,191. His Bob Horner's wrist." Third base chief target as manager is to get man Horner has missed 188 games Cincinnati moving on its return in the last two seasons with wrist from the pits; Last year the Reds injuries, including the last four finished in fifth place, 22 games months of 1984. Then he under-under 500, and were next-to-last in

Sutter: A Cardinal no more, load. Murphy, the league's most as manager of his old team last revive from the disaster of losing 96 sutter: A Cardinal no more, valuable player the previous two August, and intends to apply one games. Last season's was the worst

San Diego Padre LaMarr Hoyt: An expensive mystery man, problem against the other. "I'll use record in the big leagues and the the Cobb record to psych my playteam's worst in nearly 40 years. The Giants face their future with a rookie manager, Jim Davenport, The catcher's job has been a wasteland since Johnny Bench retired. When spring training opened, Rose had four candidates;

he apparently has settled on Dann Bilardello, who also opened last opens at first base. Another, Dave season but was sent back to the LaPoint, opens in the pitching rota-tion. Another, Jose Gonzalez (who The Reds made no significant has just changed his name to Jose deals last winter, but they do have several young players with good labels. The best is Eric Davis, a 22-Uribe), apparently will open sharing the shortstop's job with Johnnie LeMaster. year-old center fielder who hit 10 home runs and drove in 30 runs in only 174 at-bats last summer. Mario Soto won 18 and lost 7, and reigns as the No. 1 pitcher. He may get help from youngsters Tom Browning and Jay Tibbs.

There's big trouble in San Fran-cisco. The Giants may be sold or went surgery again, leaving Dale team pitching and hitting cisco. The Giants may be sold or Murphy to carry the power-hitting Rose, soon to turn 44, took over moved even while they struggle to ers," he says.

minors at midseason.

and Davenport faces it without Jack Clark, the best hitter on the team, who was traded to the Cardinals for four players.

One of them, David Green.

All is not lost. Bob Brenly hit 20 home runs and grew into a force as the catcher. Dan Gladden, who hit .397 at Phoenix, was called up when Clark tore up his knee and then hit .351 at San Francisco. Picther Atlee Hammaker, who made only six starts, returns from surgery on his rotator cuff and elbow. And Vida Blue, who did not pitch anywhere last year, surfaces in the bullpen for one last try.

College Heads Urge Tough Guidelines

New York Times Service WASHINGTON - Presidents and chancellors of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's member institutions expressed deep concern late Friday about financial abuses and the "state of integrity in intercollegiste athletics" and announced proposals in both areas that they plan to introduce at a special NCAA convention in June. John W. Ryan, chairman of the NCAA Presidents'

Commission and president of Indiana University, said the group would urge NCAA guidelines requiring tighter control on athletic department budgets by college heads, stricter enforcement procedures and tougher rules against coaches involved in infractions. The commission's recommendations are based on the results of a nationwide survey of college officials. The 44-member commission, formed 15 months ago, voiced its alarm coincidentally against the back-drop of a point-shaving scandal in the basketball ared into the pot of these program at Tulane University. Also by chance, June's cial convention will be held in New Orleans, where fulane is located.

The commission proposes that: Athletic budgets be controlled by the institutions. be subject to normal budgeting procedures and be approved by the schools' chief executive officers.

An annual audit of all expenditures for an institu-

The NCAA's enforcement procedure be revised to

Los Angeles Times Service and Montreal clinched division titles on Saturday, the next-to-last

NHL FOCUS

day of the National Hockey

In Bloomington, Minnesota, the Blues won the Norris Division by coming from behind to beat the North Stars, 4-3. The Canadiens

more or less backed into the Adams

title by tying Boston, 4-4, while

Quebec was losing to Hartford, 2-1.

troit 2; New Jersey 5, the New York Islanders 5; Buffalo 5, Toronto 2; Washington 7, Pittsburgh 4; Winnipeg 6, Edmonton 5, and Vancouver 4, Los Angeles 4. On Friday

it was Calgary 5, Edmonton 5 and Los Angeles 4, Vancouver 3.

Minnesota, which finished fourth in the Norris Division and will open the first round of Stanley

United Press Interne

game, and they weren't even in-

Basketball Association contest was between the Rockets and the Dallas Mavericks, the Rockets winning

NBA FOCUS by 139-127 in double overtime. The battle was between the Mavericks and referee Earl Strom, who called six technical fouls and kicked sharpshooter Aguirre and coach

Dick Motta out of the game. Almost lost in the proceedings volved in the war. The National

Elsewhere it was Chicago 2, De-

League's regular season.

Blues, Canadiens Clinch

NHL Divisional Crowns

tion's athletic programs be conducted by an indepenspell out major and secondary rules violations, and to establish specific penalties for violations.

 Restrictions be carried over on rules-breaking coaches who might leave one institution for another. In addition, the commission will sponsor resolutions calling for penalties against athletes knowingly involved in NCAA rules violations and for a limit on the number of basketball games a school may play in a

In what Ryan called "apparently the most comprehensive and definitive national survey of presidential views regarding athletics ever taken," 99 percent of the college heads were "concerned about integrity problems in athletics."

Eighty percent noted concern over income-generat-ing demands of major sports, 75 percent feared illegal inducements to prospective athletes, 71 percent feared rules violations by alumni and boosters and 62 percent cited athletes' academic work as a serious problem. Another concern was violations by coaches. Sixty percent of the 791 NCAA college heads responded to

Ryan said the proposals were "just a beginning," and that the updating and enforcement of rules had to be "vigorous.

Ryan said he was not familiar with the specifics of the Tulane case but that the school's "reaction," which includes dropping basketball, is "an attempt by a great university to deal with its problems."

He commended the NCAA's enforcement arm, but said the staff was small and overworked and needed to

SCOREBOARD

Hockey

NHL Standings

Los Angeles Times Service second and exploded for three in LOS ANGELES — St. Louis the third period to win. After Dave Barr cut the lead to 3-2 at 8:10, the Blues tied it on former North Star Craig Levie's fluke goal four minutes later. Levie fired a high shot from the point that struck Minnesota defenseman Dan Mandich in the back and caromed into the net. With just 3:48 left in regulation, Barr scored his 16th goal to make it

4-3. The victory gave the Blues their first division title since 1981. In Montreal, the Canadiens fought back from a 4-2 deficit to gain the one point they needed to win their first division title since 1981-82. Montreal's Mike McPhee and Alfie Turcotte closed out the scoring with goals three minutes apart; Turcotte's came with 3:16 left in the second period, after which rookie goalies Clint Daskalakis of Boston and Steve Penney of the Canadiens took charge.

In the last 28 minutes, including overtime. Daskalakis stopped 12

team means the Cup competition Wednesday night the North Stars and Penney 11. Daskalakis stopped 12 short feet in St. Louis, jumped off to a 3-0 short and Penney 11. Daskalakis made a clutch save on a short by mr. Troops while the St. Louis against the North Stars McPhee from a sharp angle with this season, got a goal back in the one minute left in overtime.

Washington 4 1 3—7
Pittspurgs 2 1 1—4
Sampson (10), Duchesina (15), Murphy (12),
Carpenter (52), Gould (14), Gortner (62),
Haworth (23): Babrah 2 (19), Lemoureux
(11), Buttord (33), Shats on goel: Washington
(on Herron) 11-13-16—40; Pittsbursh (on Jen-

145, Seattle 120; Denver 118, San Antonio 109, and the Los Angeles

Lewis Lloyd and John Lucas
each scored 28 points for the Rockets; Olajuwon had 27. The Maver-Strom ejected Agnirre at the end icks were led by 23 points from Jay of the first half. Then, after calling Vincent. NBA Standings

New Jersey
Williams 1-22 4-5 22, Richardson 11-19-5-022.
King 8-15-3-19; Abancrief 7-17 11-11 25, Pressey
9-13-3-4 22. Rebounds: Allieraukee 48 (Cummines 12), New Jersey 54 (Williams 13), Asskists; Alliwaukee 17 (Mancrief 7), New Jersey
25 (Richardson 12),
Xanson City
32 29 38 34—125 Kanson City Gelden State Short 14-25 13-13 42, Floyd 7-13 3-3 17, Conner 449-117; E.Johnson 13-245-531, Drew7-124-5 12. Rebounds: Komess City 36 (E.Johnson 8), Golden Stote 54 (Smith 15), Assists: Komsos City 32 (Drew 13), Golden State 27 (Floyd.

26 26 27 25-104

31 24 25 28

Chicoso Los Angeles Cincinnati
New York
San Francisc
San Diego
Housten
Aborteal
51.Louis
Sittaburgh

WORLD CUP QUALIFYING

Peints Standings; France 7, Yugoslavia & Bulgaria S. East Germann 2. Lusemboura D. ASIAN GROUP 3-A South Koree 4. Nepol D Peints standings: Molavsia S. South Korea 4. Nepol J. Remaining statich: South Korea vs.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

Chicago White Sox 18, Buttalo (AAA) 8 Xansas City 6, Memphis (AA) 2 Montreal (as) 2. Atlanta 8 New York Yankes 18, Ballimore 5 Cincinnati 3. Detroit 1 Chicago Cubs 6, Seattle (ss) 5 Minnesota 6, Son Diego 2

Soccer

ASIAN GROUP 1-B lodesh I, Tholland 0 Bonglodesh 1, Tholland 0 India 1, Indonesia 1 Points standings: Indonesia 9, India 4, Ban-pladesh 4, Tholland 1, Remolating marticles; April 9, India vs. Tholland; April 12, India vs.

ENGLISH FIRST DIVISION
Arsenal 2. Norwich 8
Asion Villo 3, Sheffield Wednesday 8
Chelsea 1. Queens Park Ransers 8 Everton 4, Sunderland 1
powich 1, Nottingham Forest 8
Leicaster 9, Liverbool 7
Manchester Unified 5, Stoke 8

to 47: Laicester, West Bromwich, Norwich 42: FRENCH FIRST DIVISION Brest & Roven 2

Brest G. Roven 2 Ports-Solnt Carmoin 1. Sochdux 1 Bostio 1. Metz 3 Tours 3. Aurerre 1 Toulouse 2. Marsellle 0 Little G. Lavel 0 Toulen 3. Streeboure 1 Bordeoux 2 Lens, 1 Nentes 1, RC Ports 1

Brest 32; Sochaus, Leas 31; Lavel 27; Nancy, Paris SG, Marseille 27; Litle, Toutouse, Rou-en, Bastia 26; Strasboura 25; Tours 22; RC SPANISH FIRST DIVISION

SPAMISM FIRST DIV Sevilla 2. Barcelona 2 Validacila 0. Giljan 0 Amhelic Biboo 4. Herculas I Español 0. Barla 1 Elche 1. Real Sociedad 1 Santander 1. Valencia 1 Zarovaza 1. Murcia 0 Points standings: Barcelong 51; Atletica Modrid 45; Glion 39; Athletic Bilban 38; Real

Madrid As; Griot, 37; Arment Brioto 35; Read Madrid 30: Real Socieded, Osasuna, Españal 32; Santander, Sevilla 31; Valencia, Zarasoza 30; Valladolid, Belis, Malasa 27; Hercules 20:

er, and Derek Bateliho, Pitcher, to lits minor-lease came for reassignment. Released Tom Vervzer, Infleder. Mathis, pitcher, to a ane-year contract. Signed Notan Ryan, pitcher, to a two-year contract; Bob Knepper, pitcher, to a three-year contract stus two sp-lion years, and Terry Publ. gatfielder, to a lour-year contract. Cotioned Jeff Heathcock, pitcher, to Tucson of the Pacific Coost Leasure.

Pitcher, in Tucson of the Pocific Coast League.

MONTREAL—Sent Jack O'Connor, Dick Grapenthis, and Rondy St. Clairs, pitchers, to its minor-league come for reassignment, NEW YORK—Sent Sid Fernandez, Calvin Schireddi, and Wes Gardner, pitchers, to Tidewater of the International League, Recalled up Sill Lathom, pitcher, and Terry Biocker, outfleder, from Tidewater.

PHILADELPHIA—Traded Ivan DeJesus, shortstop, and Bill Campbell, pitcher, to St. Louis for Dave Rucker, pitcher, Assigned Rucker to Portific Coast

er. Assigned Alasen to Phoenia of the Pocific Caast Leasus.

ST. LOUIS—Sent Kevin Hapen, elitcher. and Willie Lazada, infleider, la Lauisville of the American Association.

HOCKEY

National Hockey League

HARTFORD—Colled up Dean Evasan, canter, and Mark Paterson, detensentan, from Binghamhor of the American Hockey Lasaus.

ST. LOUIS—Announced that, Jorsen Peterson, left wing, and Crais Levie, detenseman, have signed multi-veer contracts.

Football

EASTERN CONFERENCE FRM CONFERENCE
5 1 9 333 203 132
4 2 0 .667 135 93
4 2 0 .667 133 126
4 2 1 .643 175 160
3 4 0 .429 101 142

MONTE CARLO OPEN Semifineis Mats Wilander (2), Sweden, def. Krickstein (4), U.S., 6-2, 6-3.

Ivon Landi (1), Czechoslovakia, def. Henrik Jundstrom (3), Sweden, 4-6, 7-6 (7-3), 7-6 (7-5).

MEN (At Chicago)

U.S., 4-6, 6-4, 6-1. Scatt Davis, U.S., Terry Moor, U.S., 6-4, 6-4. ny Connors, U.S., def. Brad Gilbert, U.S.

McEnroe def. Davis, 64, 61. Conners def. Gamez, 6-4, 6-3.

np's request for गण्डें। ement has deflated for tol with to the Central is now. Flatte the loved him for hime. Value to the other other 3 Symbol and affine ce your heat and the property and a von re dong i see a von re dong i see rentitier as smitte

fildte has smitte

he Generals read bus

as ing the backul sale rsi (a.) sames a lust he Generale the on by far the USFL he The other leads Jacksonville are 115 40 (NO 21 6002 ...

was the game itself. Akeem Olajuwon keynoted a run of 13 125 40 (NO 21 http://www.no.com/district to the condition of the condition Elsewhere it was Chicago 117, Atlanta 114; Washington 109, Cleveland 101; New Jersey 108, and a new the terror of the land of the la Washington 104; the Los Angeles Clippers 126, Dallas 122; Portland

Lakers 132, Kansas City 125.

a technical foul on Derek Harper in straight points in the second over-time to break open the game for Lionel Hollins took turns throwing the ball at each other and double technicals were called. "He came over to our bench," Mona said of Strom, "and wanted to explain it. Milwaukee 104; Indiana 121, Phil- He can't do that - he's supposed adelphia 117; Utah 105, Phoenix to explain it to the captain. He said 94, and Golden State 141, Kansas to me he'd explain it to me if I was i (City 125. On Friday it was Phila-delphia 116, Chicago 113: Cleve-land 119, Detroit 118; Boston 115.

During Strom's dealings with During Strom's dealings with Motta, the crowd threw ice and debris onto the court

Aguirre's first technical came

Mavericks Hurt by TKOs

Rockets won Saturday night's quickies on Motta. early in the second period. As the teams were leaving for the locker

DALLAS - The Houston the third quarter, he called two

During the third period Rolando

early in the second period. As the teams were leaving for the locker room at the half, Strom called another. After the game, Strom said only that Agnirre had committed an unsportsmanlike act. The head of Reunion Arena security said Strom told him at the half that Aguirre had "put his hand right up in my face." The Mevericks aired a videotape of the incident that showed Aguirre about eight feet from Strom and walking away when the technical was called.

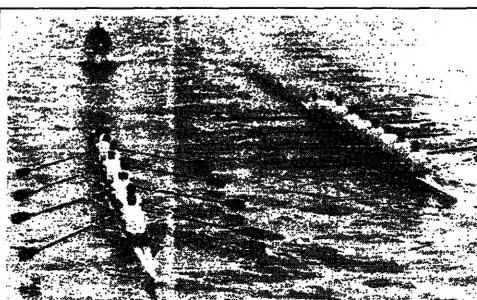

During the third period Rolando

1. MocDermid (4), Ferraro (11); Kumpet (5). Shatson good: Quebec (on Weeks) 11-5-12-30; Hartland (on Bouchard) 10-10-5-25. New Jersey N.Y. Islanders eacher 2 (11), Higgins (19), Sali Mercaher 2 (11), Hissias (19), Sulliman (22), Lever (10): Gillies 2 (15), LaForticine (19), Bossy (58), Tonelli (42), Shekt es soci: New Jersey (on Smith) 12-11-8-3-34; N.Y. Island-ers (on Resch) 10-10-17-33, Chicaeb 2 8 8 1-2 Detroit 7 8 1 3-2 Fraser (125), Secard (15): Park (13), Dupplay (31), Shekt es sent; Chicaeb (es Micrael) 14.

(38), Shots on gool: Chicago (on Micralei) 14-11-19-0—35; Defroit (on Skorodenski) 9-10-12-

Dollos 45 (Perkins 9), Assists: L.A. Clippers 24 Milwouter

DOUBLE FIGURES — Oxford's eight, left, beat Cambridge for the 10th consecutive time in the University Boat Race Saturday on the River Thames. Oxford covered the four-mile course in 17:11 — 13 seconds faster and 4% lengths better than Cambridge. Oxford has won 62 times in the series and Cambridge 68; there has been one dead heat. Transition : force Pullda, pitchers, to Columbus of the Americas League Interpotional League. Placed Marry Season Interpotional Association.

CLEVELAND—Placed Rick Behavior.

Exhibition Baseball

AMERICAN LEAGUE

ASIAM GROUP 4-A Brunel 1, Hong Kong 5 Points steedings: Ching 7, Hong Kong 5, McCoo'l Brunel (), Remaining matches: April

ENGLISH FIRST DIVISION

Manchester United 5. Stoke 0
Newcostle 1, West Bromwich 0
Westled 1, Southerspien 1
West Ham 1, Tottenham 1
Polars standings: Everton of: Manchester
United 65: Tottenham 1: Liverpool 57: Argenal 55: Southampton 54: Sheffield Wednesday
52: Northingham Forest 50: Chalsea. Aston Villen 51: Liverpool 57: Argenal 51: Northingham Forest 50: Chalsea. Aston Villen 51: Liverpool 50: Northingham Forest 50: Chalsea. Queens Park Ransers. Newcastle 41; Wo 36; West Ham 37; Sunderland, Covenir Ipswich 33; Luton 32; Sloke 17.

Points standings: Bordeoux 50: Nontes 44: Toulon 39: Auxerte 30; Matz 37; Monaco 36:

Leasus.
SAN FRANCISCO—Traded Alex Sanches, sufficient, to Ostrall for Roser Mason, pitcher.
Assigned Mason to Phoenia of the Pacific

USFL Standings

Tournament Tennis

Tameo Bay 31, Jacksonv Pertiana 30, Oakland 17

Lendi del. Wilander, 6-1, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

John McEnrae, U.S., def. Paul Antigcone.

LANGUAGE

Making President's Day

By William Safire WASHINGTON — "I have only one thing to say to the tax increasers," said President Reagan, delighting in a mock-tough line submitted by one of his writers.

"Go ahead and make my day."
Mary McGrory, the liberal columnist, responded: "At last a slogan for the second term of Ronald Reagan. It's short, provocative, a shade more genteel than 'Drop dead,' which is what it really

Not quite. In current usage, it means "Give me the long-sought opportunity to respond devastatingly," and its route to the current meaning shows the movement of meaning at its quirkiest.

One of the many meanings of the verb make is "to secure the success of," which can be found in John Lyly's 1579 observation: "It is the eye of the master that fatteth the horse, and the love of the woeman that maketh the man." Shakespeare used it: "This is the night," said lago in "Othello," "that either Iago in "Othelio," makes me or fordoes me quite."
The dictum of Polonius in "Hamlet," "The apparel oft proclaims the man," was shortened in common use to "clothes make the man"; that sense is transmuted now to "dress for success," but the big achievers still use the colloquial phrase making it, which is far more un than having it all. Then, in her 1909 novel "The Rosary," Florence Barclay wrote, I knew I wanted her; I knew her presence made my day and her absence meant chill night; and every day was radiant, for she was there." That made the day for "made my day." P.G. Wodehouse followed that up in 1935 with "That will be great. That will just make my day." The Briticism crossed the Atlantic and appeared in the soft rock of Carole King's song "Brighter," published in 1971: "And I can't think of anyone else / Can make me feel as good as you. / Yeah, you make my day." William Styron told Newsweek in 1979 of his satisfacmakes my day." The sunniness of this image began to be clouded in the 1970s. "Go on, dare him," said a shady charac-ter in Hugh McLeave's mystery, 'Question of Negligence," in 1970:

"It'll make the evening The sinister side of day-making approached its zenith in 1983 in "Sudden Impact," one of the Clint Eastwood Dirty Harry movies. script by Joseph Stinson, its central character a cop who gives short shrift to the civil liberties of the accused, in Mickey Spillane's grand Mike Hammer tradition.

Interrupting a stickup in a diner, Dirty Harry Callahan aims his Smith & Wesson at a thief and challenges him with a snarled "Make my day."

The phrase is becoming the rallying cry of vigilantism, thanks to the Dirty Harry association and the sequent episode in the New York subway when a passenger shot four youths he says he felt were threatening him.

By using the expression jocularly regarding his reaction to those who would reduce the deficit by increasing taxes, Reagan has deepened the phrase's roots in American colloquial speech. You can imagine what he has done for students of

IN A related development, Reagan was asked in a recent news conference whether he was advocating the overthrow of the govern-ment of Nicaragua. He indicated no, not "if they'd say 'Uncle.'"

Yes, the pages of the Fourth Supplement of the O.E.D. that include uncle have just come from the printers," Robert Burchfield, editor of the Oxford English Dictionary, said. "The expression is 'to say, holler or cry "Uncle" '— any of those verbs will do — and we define it as 'to acknowledge defeat, to cry for mercy. Very current in America, isn't it?

Very. The recorded origin is relatively recent, according to Mitford Mathews in his Dictionary of Americanisms. Mathews's earliest citation for the expression was The Chicago Herald-Examiner of Oct. 1, 1918: "Sic him Jenny Jinx make him say 'Uncle.'

tion in writing: "If it's only one paragraph, but it's felicitous, that makes my day." and so infuriating, was the double meaning of "Uncle." As both the signal for surrender and the short form of "Uncle Sam," the president gave a special emphasis of knuckling under to the United States. I think the double meaning was not intentional; it was delivered in entirely too offhand a way for that.

New York Times Service

Richard Chamberlain's 'Hero Space'

Nazi concentration camps.

court, and I got to do it."

sighted," in 1975.

By Michael E. Hill

WASHINGTON — Actress
Melanie Mayron was describing a scene she played off camera with Richard Chamberlain. On camera she plays his secretary in "Wallenberg: A Hero's

"I told him I thought it would be a good idea if a couple of times I might straighten his tie for him," she said. "You want to straighten my tie?" she remembered Chamberlain's saying. She furrowed her brow like his and stroked her chin the way he did as he sauntered away to think about it. Then he drifted back and asked her why she wanted to do it. To show a secretary's concern, she explained, to add a bit of mothering to the scene, to add a subtle action to the dialogue. "I asked him why he was trou-bled by the idea," she said. "He said. 'No one's ever invaded my hero-space before." From well-received roles such as Dr. Frederick A. Cook in the TV movie "Cook and Peary: The Race to the Pole," to his portray-als of Lord Blackthorne in "Shogun" and Father Ralph de Bricassart in "The Thorn Birds" - two blockbuster miniseries - Richard Chamberlain has indeed qui-himself as a player of heroes. This week, in a two-part film on U.S. TV. Chamberlain takes the role of Raoul Wallenberg, a diplomat who left the comfort afforded him as a well-born, militarily neutral Swede during Wallenberg in 1943.

etly and persistently established

the end that he can single-handedly cow the Nazis. His prime antagonist is Adolf Eichmann, played in an understated - and thus memorable fashion by Kenneth Colley.

to talk with him about that.

As the war winds down, and Wallenberg and Eichmann dis-cuss the Nazis' inevitable fate, Eichmann expresses no regret. He has enjoyed money, power and the finest whores in Europe, he tells Wallenberg in the film. "I will go to the gallows with a

The Wallenberg story is based on the book "Lost Hero: The Mystery of Raoul Wallenberg," Frederick E. Werbell and Thurston B. Clarke. The script was written by Gerald Green

Chamberlain encounters Eichmann (Kenneth Colley).

("Holocaust"), Dick Berg and Lamont Johnson. Johnson, who carries impressive credentials ("The Execution of Private Slovik," "Fear on Trial"), directed the filming in Zagreb, Yugoslavia. Berg ("A Rumor of War," "The Martian Chronicles") is the executive pro-

Chamberlain, who has an eye to becoming an executive producer himself, has been in Africa recently, working on a remake of "King Solomon's Mines," in which he reprises the role Stewart Granger played in the 1950 film. And there's another TV miniseries in the offing, with Cham-berlain playing John C. Fremont, politician, general and explorer of the American West. One day, Chamberlain joked, he'd like to play a simpler character, with no hero-space to worry "I'd like to play the guy next door," he said, "with a couple of kids and a lot of problems."

PARIS POSTCARD

The New Breed of Exiles

By Greg MacArthur The Associated Press

PARIS — The Lost Generation of American literary expatriates, whose brief self-exile in Paris was part adventure and part cultural salvation, has been replaced by another group of important foreign writers for whom exile is a matter

Today's exiles come from the Soviet Union, Eastern Europe, Afri-ca, Latin America and Iran. They are older, mostly in their 50s, and they live and write in Paris because for political reasons they cannot do

Most did not choose exile but were forced into it by repressive governments. What they share with their exuberant Jazz Age American predecessors is that they chose

"We Romanians have a special relationship with France," Paul Goma, 50, the novelist and human rights activist, said in an interview.
"We share a Latin language and we are francophile by tradition. There is something in the air about France for a writer." "Like most South Americans, I didn't want to settle in Spain," said the Uruguayan poet and journalist Ricardo Paseyro, 56. "We have an anti-colonial prejudice about Spain, which was, of course, fascist until recently. So where do you go? You go to France, to Paris."

The Persian poet Nader Naderdays of the last French giants -Andre Gide, Albert Camus, Sartre. France, for me, has always been my second country," he said.

However, life in exile "has something of a false flavor for Naderpour. "It isn't real. It doesn't give you that extraordinary sensation of life, of pleasure, of joy, even of sadness," he said.

Although France's culture continues to seduce artists from around the world, life in the City of Light, as some of the current Paris less than what Ernest Hemingway once described as "A Moveable Feast.

"For the Americans who came in lark," the Soviet novelist Vladimir writers here now it's no vacation; exile."

it's a trial, and most of us have to fight to survive."

Maximov, 54, arrived in Paris on March 1, 1974, after being stripped of his citizenship. His published novels in the West include the semi-autobiographical "Farewell From Nowhere" and the critically acclaimed "Seven Days of Cre-

Like South Africa's Breyton Breytenbach, Goma, the Camer-con author and publisher Mongo Beti and others, Maximov served prison terms at home before being forced into exile.

Naderpour left Iran on July 31, 980, repelled by what he saw as the culturally reactionary aspects of the Islamic Revolution. He chose exile after publishing at home became impossible.

Some of the exiles, including the Czechoslovak novelist Milan Kundera and Breytenbach, have achieved international acclaim since leaving their native countries. Kundera's latest novel, "The Incredible Lightness of Being," was an international literary event. Breytenbach gained critical acclaim this year for 'The True Confessions of an Albino Terrorist."

But some writers, although translated in small anthologies into English, French and Italian, remain largely unknown outside their own countries.

In exile, Naderpour is cut off from his readers and his original source of inspiration. Most of his pour, 55, was a student in Paris in recent poems have been unusually the 1950s. "I was here for the last nostalgic, he said, and he is not sure they will ever be published in Iran.

"A writer in exile can live on his memories only so long, cut off from his readers and his own language," Maximov said, through an interpreter. "From the point of view of creativity, I lost everything. Immigration was only a matter of saving myself physically. You feel like a fish, thrown up on the beach by the waves. You just open your mouth and lie there until you die."

"When I was at home in Tehran and I closed all the windows, I could still bear, with my inner ear, exiles made clear, can be something the slightest vibration from the less than what Ernest Hemingway street." Naderpour said. "In exile, if I open the windows wide. I remain deaf. "I hear the noise, but the noise the 1920s, Paris was a vacation, a does not concern me. There is something broken between me and Maximov said. "For the Russian the country in which I live. That is

ANNOUNCEMENTS SUBSCRIBE to the INTERNATIONAL

HERALD TRIBUNE AND SAVE.

As a new subscriber to the international Herald Tribune, you can save up to half the newstrand price, depending on your country of residence.

IIIT Subscriptions Department 181, Avenue Charles-de-Gaul 92200 Neuilly-sur-Seine, Fran Or tel: Paris 747-07-29 IN ASIA AND PACIFIC contact our local distributor or:

ernational Herald Tribune Toi Sang Commercial Buikii 24-34 Hennessy Road HONG KONG Toi: HK 5-286726

DIVORCE IN 24 HOURS Mutual or contested actions, low cost. Hast or Dominicon Regulate. For infor-mation, serial $3.75 for 24-page body. /handling to Dr. F. Gartzoles, ODA. 1835 K St. N.W., Washington D. 20006, U.S.A. Tel: 202-452-8331

RIFORMATION for Education, Cul-ture, Arts, etc. Write to Yoschird Ogowa 4-1096-120 Mirmonii, Nozo-shino, Chiba 275 Japan. ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS in English. Paris: 634 59 65. Rome

MOVING ALLIED

PARIS Desbordes Inte (069) 250066 MUNICH

LONDON [20-2] 712901 (0101) 312-681-8100

DEMEXPORT

CONTINEX Costbusters to 300 cities worldwide - Ar/Ses. Call Charlie 281 18 81 Paris (near Opera) Cars too REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

ITALY CAPRI CAPRI CAPRI CAPRI CAPRI.
Central beautiful penaramic top floor opariment, newly furnished, spacious fiving, dirruge, 2 larage bedrooms, wall closen, 2 entrances spir possible, top terrace available. Dr. Mario Roman, Via Cercola N. 1 Capri kaly Tel 081/8379547/8661097

van lines int'l CVER 1,000 AGENTS In U.S.A. - CANADA 250 WORLD-WIDE FREE ESTIMATES

3 Despura-(01) 343 23 64 int'l Moving

[089] 142244 (01) 953 3636 O Am CAIRO Allied Van Lines Int'l USA Allied Van Lines Int'l Corp

PARIS • LYON • MARSEILE
LILE • NACE
Int'l moving by specialet from majocites in France to all alles in the world
Toll free from France 16 (15) 24 10 82

FRENCH PROVINCES

ENNS, POOL, FABULOUS sex view, 5-bedroom villa, 5 mir. Cannes Cra-sette. Urgent. $350,000; [73] 99 44 14

SPAIN MALLORCA'S NEW SUPER PORT

FOR SALE

In the boy of Polmo, 5 mms, Polmo, 15 mms, cirport, 664 herits 8 to 38 meters.

2 for up to 60 meters each individual TV/mans/water/phone connections. Professional part management as Full manne services tower, radio, silp, travel-life, repoir, fuel station, in 8 outdoor winter hardstands, U-ground care part. Lockers. Complementary service & lesure facilities, medical, banking, shopping, othering, attentionment. Golf & tennis nearby. Commercial area comprises 85 units on 13,171 s.p.m. and Pha 21 super operturents above & 78 in separate hazary condo - all in front line slong mois pean. Top mestmental 45% solid thurry now before near processel formatical developers: LMS

PUERTO PUNTA PORTALS, S.A. Director Comercici C/Marina 101, Portals Nous Adiorca, Spain or 11x 68686 CALIU I

SWITZERLAND

VILLARS WINTER & SUMMER PARADISE 20 MINUTES FROM LAKE GENEVA Apartments, ranging from studies to 4 rooms. Available For Sale To Foreignens. Foreign tews, high guots, selected residented areas. Prices from SF195,000 to SF635,000. Mortgages available of only 6.5% interest.

pages available or only 6.5% interest. For information: GLOBE PLAN 5.A. Av, Mon-Repos 2. CH-1035 IAUSANNE. Switzerland Tel-[21] 22 35 12. Tu 25185 MBUS CH.

INTERNATIONAL

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

SWITZERLAND SUNNY SOUTHERN SWITZERLAND GOLF HOUSES LUGANO 5 comfortable nicely designed houses (Ribbon development). At utylic loca-Lugana. All houses with private garden & garage. Best quality including fire-place, fully equipped latchen stc. Prices $7480,000 & $7495.000 free for sale to oreigners. Mortagges at low Swiss interest rotes EMERALD - HOME LTD. YOUR PARTNER IN EUROPE fier G. Cottori 3, CH-6900 Lugar Tel: CH-91-542913 -Th:: 73612 HOME CH

GSTAAD SCHONRIED

only a few minutes from lovely Gataod. Apartments of prices Apartments of prices Aparticantly lower than Gataod. MORTGAGES 70%- INTEREST 51/9% AVAILABLE FOR FOREIGNERS.
GLOBE PLAN S.A.
Ave Mon Repos 24
CH-1005 Lousenne, Switzerland.
Let (21)22 35 12 Thz 25 185 MALIS CHEstablished since 1970

AKE GENEVA - LUGANO - MON-TREUX GSTAAD VALLEY & mony oth-er famous mountain resorts. Foreigneracus from the property of th

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE DENMARK

COPENHAGEN, 5 rooms, latchen, both, from Agril 15, near beach 8 forest. $1000/month. Tel: 45/1 611738 or 921438.

GREAT BRITAIN

CNDON. For the best furnished flat and houses. Consult the Specialists Philips, Kay and Lewis. Tel: Landor 352 8111. Telex 27846 RESIDE G.

ANSCOMBE & RENGLAND with of-fices in St Johns Wood & Kensington offer the best service in residential letting. Tel: 722 7101 (01), UK.

PARIS AREA FURNISHED

AN ATTRACTIVE BREAK from hotels with Floribate, for your short for long) stoys in Pons. Fully equipped states to 5-roose aportments, including fatchien and hotel services of desired, from stays of one week upwards, Information / central booking: FLATOTEL, 14 rue du Thédire, 72015 Paris, Tet: 575 62 20, Tit: 205211 F.

74 CHAMPS-ELYSEES 8th LE CLARIDGE 359 67 97.

SHORT RENTAL IN PARIS: Studi and 2 rooms, beautifully decorate Contact: Sofirage, 6 ove. Delcast 75008 PARIS Tel: [1] 359 99 50.

SHORT TERM in Latin Quarter No agents. Tel-329 38 83.

SPAIN

BEAUTIFUL NEEJA VILLAGE. View, swimming pool, sports room, TV-Vid-eo. Seeps 6. July through September. Rng. Spoin 9572-50223 or writer. Prooke, Colle Cristo 58, Nerjo, Mclago.

EMPLOYMENT GENERAL POSITIONS WANTED

VERY ATTRACTIVE PRENICH Woman, 39. Ex certime stewardess, US passport with homes in Lendon & Pers, exten-sive inoveledge of Third World Coun-ties, a looking for chollenging pos-tion anywhere in the world, Please cell London 351 5453

YOUNG GERMAN ACTRESS, highly educated looks for on interesting position. London 245-0080.

SECRETARIAL

Don't miss INTERNATIONAL SECRETARIAL POSITIONS

TUESDAYS

AUTO SHIPPING

ATTENTION EXECUTIVES

in the International Herald Tis-bune, where more than a third of a milion readers world-wide, most of whom are in besiness and industry, will read it. List telex us [Pais 613595] before 10 a.m., en-suring that we can lelex you back, and your message will appear within 48 hours. The rate is U.S. 59.80 or local equivalent per line, You must include camplate and verifi-able billing address.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

THIS WEEK

APRIL 15th,

BUSINESS WEEK

INTERNATIONAL

Revolution Or Ripoli?: Employ Stock Ownership Plans

Chine: You March Copitalism?

NOW ON SALE

AT ALL INTERNATIONA

NEWSSTANDS.

Printed by adz in Zurich (Switzerland)

Publish your but n the Internation

FRANKFURT/ MAIN-W. Germany. It bermann GmbH. Teh 069-44807 Fick-up all over Europe "ro/ro-sings RANSCAR 20 rue Le Sueur, 75716 Poris. Tel: 500 03 04. Nãos: 83 95 33. Antwerp: 223 99 85. Connes 37 43 44 spec. Acceptance guaranteed. VA Corp., 6200 Freeport Centre, Boli-more, MD 21224, Tel. 301-633-8611. Th: 4995489 VA US. Autos available in Belgrum. Tel: 32-50-715071. The proper section of the section of the section of the proper section of the section of the

DOMESTIC

AUTO RENTALS

HOW TO IMPORT A EUROPEAN CAR INTO THE U.S.A.
This document explains fully what one must do lo bring a cor into the U.S. safety and legally. It includes new & used European ento prices, buying sing, DOT & BPA conversion addresses, cultain clearance & shepping procedures as well as siegal points. Because of the strong dollar, you can save up to USS18,000 when buying a Mercedes, or BMV in Europe & importing it to the States. To receive this manual, send USS18,50 ladd USS1.0 for pastagel for P.L. Schmidt, Postfach 3131
7000 Stuttgart I, West Germany

AUTO SHIPPING

AUTO CONVERSION

AUTOS TAX FREE

EXCAUBUR cartainson

authorities

are completely hand-built in America.

Only 44 of the 250 unit production for 1985 are being allocated to the European and Middle East market.

New for 1985 (file Europe anly) in a special General Motors 5.7 thre V8 engine producing 300 H.P. in its natural form or 425 H.P. when supercharged.

Prices US$65,000 - 85,000 (PCB foctory)
depending on equipment.

rices US$65,UXI • DJAN II • De la sepanding on equipment.
Delivery approximately 5 weeks from order, white obcombon lasts. For more information, contact his sole and exclusive distributors,
EXCALIBLE MOTOR CAR
DISTRIBUTIONS

EUROPORT TAX PREE CARS Call or write for free cotolog. Beat 12011 Rotterdam Airport, Holland Telen 25071 EPCAR Nt.

International Business Message Center

BOATS &

FROM STOCK Mercades 500 SEC, new, dark blue.
Mercades 500 SEC, new, clock Mercades 500 SL/SEL/SEC, new and many others as:
Cacillac, Ferrari, Jaguary, Range Rover, and Rover, Porsche, Mercades and other leading makes.
Some day registration possible. VEHICLES ICZKOVITS

10 YEARS We Deliver Cars to the World TRANSCO Geeping to constant stack of more than 300 brand new cors, noting 5000 happy cleans every year. Send for free multicolercatalog, Transco SA, 95 Noordeloon, 2030 Antwerp, Begum el 323/542 62 40. Tix 35207 TRANS B

Claridenstrasse 36, CH-9027 Zurich Tel: 01/202 76 10, Telen: 815915.

TAX FREE CARS P.C.T.

All makes, all models, brand new fizeriaan 1, 2008 Antwerp, Belgrum lek 3/231 59 00, Th: 35546 PHCART B Send US$5 for cotalog GERMAN CARS FROM GERMANY Experienced our moder for Mercedes, Porsche or BMW. Immediate delivery, Fill service import/export U.S. DOT & EPA for tourst and dealer, OCAA, Teer-stegerstr. 8, 4 Duessteldorf, W. Germy, ry, Tel: (0) 211-434646, telex 8587374.

SERVICES

FOR A REAL V.I.P. YOUNG LADY Datinguished, Elegant, Multilingual, VIP LADY GUIDE

YOUNG ELEGANT LADY Hingual PA. Paris: 525 81 01

* PARIS 527 01 93 * YOUNG LADY TRILINGUAL VIP-PA

PARIS LADY GUIDES 224 01 32

SCUBA DIVERS: We sell & service of equipment/we ship worldwide. Details: Seven Seas Scuba, Box 708, NY, NY 10004 Tbr. 221255.

TAX SERVICES ISA INCOME TAX ADVICE & Re-tures. Paris based US CPA 357 63 01 FINANCIAL

is YOUR TYPEWRITER BUGGED? De-tect & neutralize bugs, telephone kaps & tape recorders, Hundreds of secur-ty & anyony products available. Con-

INVESTMENTS

Minimum plus even higher yields on oc-celeration with naturality 300,000 en-vestment in Deed of Trust Notes se-cured by real estate in U.S.A. Security and principal generated. Yields con-increase from 16% to 19.5% as rates accelerate. For after, write Federated Capital Corporation, Dept. HT, Box 1620, St. Thomas, U.S.V.I. 00801.

OFFICE SERVICES PARIS

YOUR OFFICE

Place Your Classified Ad Quickly and Easily INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE RECREATIONAL

Berth evoilable, TVA paid, 2 GAA Tur-bos each 700 hours desel 7.5 Onco-july air conditioned, ice maker, large kully air coeditioned, ice maker, large freezer - fridge. Sany radio/cassette throughout, color TV with multi-system, 2 double colors with shower/heads, 8 fring bridge with covers are. New equament: Furence radar/Loran C-11 SSB 11, newest VHF Sallor/radio direction finder, GE search light. New corpets, curtaints, upholatery, large solors solong 10 people. Zaclaic with outboard, new facilit did dect - open to any survey, lying Comes Asking price FFI, 200,000. Phone Holland 31-1659-55707. Evenings Belgium 32/3 6674182 or write: EA-Schouten, P.O.Box 208, 4700 AE Rocsendaal Holland.

HEALTH SERVICES COSMETIC SURGERY for men on vomen including nose refinement, ear correction, breast enlargement or re-duction, foca liths, syelogy eyeld cor-rection, heir transplanting. The Pount-ney Clinic, 20-26 Stomes Road, Hourslow, West London, TW3 335. Tel. 01-570 9658.

LOW COST FLIGHTS NY ONE WAY $150. Everyday N.Y. West Coast $145. Paris 225 92 90. TO USA FROM £129 one way NATC London 01-734 8100.

** PARIS 553 62 62 *

ing, educated, elegant & tribin PARIS 533 80 26

Young, elegant, educated, int'l & days & deners & travels possible a Paris & Airports. (NTERNATIONAL BEAUTIFUL People UNITO, USA & WORLDWIDE Tel: 212-765-7793 / 765-7794

SOCIETE DIANE PARTS 260 87 43. Men & women guides, security & rent-ing cor services, 8 cm - 12 pm. LONDON, Young German/French oli-ance to meet you on your visit to London. Tell UK 01-381 6852. SINGAPORE INTL GUIDES, Call Sin-gapore 734 96 28.

OKYO LADY COMPANION, PA Personal Assistant 03-456-5539 TOKYO 645 2741. Touring & shop-ping guides, interpreters, arc. HONG KONG (K-3) 723 12 37 Young sophisticated component. PARIS YOUNG LADY 341 21 71. VIP PA & bilinguol interpreter. NYC COMPANION VIP, Social aware of NY's best, 212-757-6068.
HONG KONG 3-671267 young last [Onestal/European] companion.

SERVICES HONG KONG - 3-620000 Young lody (Asign/Western) Componion HONG KONG 3-661525 VP lody (Asian/Western) companion. ARIS YOUNG SOPHISTICATED VIP lody, trilingual PA, 500 89 72. PARIS, YOUNG FRENCH EDUCATED (*)
Lody companion, guide, 574 71 41. FRANKFURT YOUNG LADY compon-ion + travel guide. Tel: 069/626432 747 59 58 TOURIST GUIDE. Paris, outports. 7 am./midright. int'l travel.

ATMENS. Lody companion and person-al assistant. Tel: 8086194.

PAGE 11 FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS

The Architects of Time

GOLAY

FILS

&STAIL

1 PLACE DES BEPGUES - GENÈVE - TEL 022/31 54 00 745, 5th AVENUE - NEW YORK: - TEL 212/31979 00

CLASSIFIED AUTOS TAX FREE REAL ESTATE

EMPLOYMENT

SECRETARIES AVAILABLE GR - THE CREME DE LA CREME tens parary help people recruit bilingual or English mother tanque secretaries. parary help peop English mother Paris 758 82 30.

DOMESTIC POSITIONS AVAILABLE forest. Tel: 45/1 611738 or 921438.

POSITIONS WANTED LWAYS AVAILABLE - AU PAIRS ALWAYS AVALABLE - ALI PAIRS, children's normy, mum's helper's at branches of 1st class live-in domestic help worldwide. Call Stoane Bureou, London 700 8122/5142 (24 hours), L CEMP AGY, Tis: 89506705LOANE G. ALWAYS AVAILABLE LONDON on bobyminders 5. 1st class doily moids Sloope Bureau, London 730 8122 / 5142. Liceaced employment agency MGUSH NANNIES & Mother's Helps free now. Nosh Agency, 53 Charch Road, Hove, UK. Tel- (0273) 29044/5

CHARIC RENT A CAR. Prestige con-with phone: Rolls Spirit, Mercedes, Joguar, BAW, Isrousines, small con-46 r Perre Charton, 75008 Part, Tel 720,30,40, Telex 630/97 F CHARLOC.

DISTRIBUTORS CAR
DISTRIBUTORS
Pork Police, Ave de la Costo
Micrile Carle, Manaco
Tel: 33 - 93 - 25 63 91
Teles: 469870 MCS
Offices now also in U.K. & Switzerlo

MERCEDES 1985, LARGE stock. TRASCO, GB, B.R.D. CH. Cell John in London, tel: 44-1-208 0007, tis: 8956022 TRAS G MERCEDES 500 St. right hand drive, new white/leather light brown, fully loaded DM104,000. Tel Germany (0K868/517. Th: 445242 DES D.

BUSINESS BUSINESS SERVICES OPPORTUNITIES OFFSHORE & UK OFFSHORE SERVICES U.K. non resident companies with nominee directors, bearer shares an socialential bank accounts. Full back-k support services. Panama & Libera companies. First rate confidential professional services. LTD COMPANIES Incorporation and management in: UR Isle of Man, Turks, Anguilla, Channe Islands, Panama, Liberia and most othe re oreos.

Confidential profession advice

Instruction availability P.C.R., 17 Widegate St., London E17:4P, Tel: 01 377 1474. Tis: 893911 G

Immediate avoilability
Namese servais
Boat Registrations
Accounting & administration
Mail, helphone & tellus
Free explanations booklef form:
SSECT CORPORATE SERVICES LTD
Head Office
Pleasant, Douglas, Isite of Man
Telt: Deuglas, Isite of Man

LINELIMATED PROFIT?
sporter supplies excellent quality of Weoden IV.D furniture, western style
Chanese or! (onlique)
Grithware &
Groupster dest
Home products
Sundries

with attractive price & competitive terms. Contact: Majolik Int'l Ltd., P.O. Bas: 12-58 Peifou, Taspei. Tix 28980, Tel: (02) 5374870-1, attr.: Mr. J.S. Goo REESH WATER PEARL strond and Lose pearls on sole in Hong Kong. Own tockery and best pines. More details: The 5719 POXAB HX Tel-13 683276-7. 9/F. Wing Lok Mansion, Blk. A, 14 Pelang Rd, TSI., Kin., Hong Kong., Peking Pearls Co.

BUSINESS SERVICES BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE complete social & business servi providing a unique collection of talented, versatile & multilingual dividuals for all accessors. 212-765-7793 212-765-7794 330 W 56th St., N.Y.C. 10019 Service Repusserrictors Needed Workswide.

mear CHAMPS ELYSES 14 SATRLITE, 8 rue Copertic 75)16 Paris: Tel. (33 1) 727 15 59 Telev. le antei 620 183F.

The Daily Source for International Investors.

12: Reg 1 (27:5) By Phaner Coll your local IHT representative with your text. You will be informed of the cost immediately, and once prepayment is mode your ad will appear within 48 hours.

Cast The basis rate is $9.90 per line per day + local toxes. There are 25 letters, signs and spaces in the first line and 26 in the following lines. Credit Curds: American Express, Diner's Club, Eurocord, Moster

the to the to

建

THERY SURFACE

 $\frac{1}{2} \frac{d_{1}}{d_{2}} \frac{d_{2}}{d_{2}} \frac{d_{2}}{d_{2}} + \frac{1}{2} \frac{d_{2}}{d_{2}} \frac{d_{2}}{d_{2}} + \frac{1}{2} \frac{d_{2}}{d_{2}} = \frac{1}{2} \frac{d_{2}}{d_{$

Garage Comment

164 1 C. 12 C. 13 C. 13 C. 13 C.

The transfer of the same of th

Marie San Trans

The Market of

He La

Maria Control

Harry Control

Wall Street

The state of the state of

And the second

-

45

764

LATIN AMERICA Buenos Aires: 41 40 31 (Dept. 312) Georgaquit: 431 943/431 Lime: 417 852 Panama: 64-4372 San Jose: 22-1055 Santiage: 69 61 555 Sao Paule: 852 1893

ace is 2 lines. No abbreviations accepted.

HEAD OFFICE

Paris: (For classified only)

Amsterdam: 26-36-15.

Brussels: 343-1899.

Lausanner 29-58-94.

Athena: 361-8397/360-2421.

Copenhopeur (01) 329440

Frankfurt: (069) 72-67-55.

Lisbon: 67-27-93/66-25-44.

Medrid: 455-2891/455-3306.

London: (01) 836-4802,

Miles (02) 7531445.

Norway: (03) 845545.

Sweden: 08 7569229.

Tel Aviv: 03-455 559.

Vicana: Contact Frankfurt

UNITED STATES

New York: (212) 752-3890.

West Coast: (415) 362-8339.

SERVICES

RANKRURT. Young lady compa English, French, German spaker. to travel. 069/44 77 75.

Rome: 679-3437.

747-46-00.

Bahrein: 246303. Jordan: 25214. Kuwait: 5614485 Leberger: 3014403. Leberger: 416535. Soud: Archie: Jeddoh: 667-1500. U.A.E.: Dubai 224161. FAR EAST

MIDDLE EAST

Bangkok: 390-06-57. Hong Kong: 5-213671. Manika: 817 07 49. Seoul: 725 87 73. Singapore: 222-2725. Faiwan: 752 44 25/9.

AUSTRALIA Sydney: 929 56 39. Melbourne: 690 8233.

> Maria de la companya the state of the s Peek Court F

Scuttled

del de la comita del la comita de la comita del la comita de la comita del la e willed to 3 - Trees an

Alora the the cross of some state of the sound of the sou

Supply Services of the service reministration by LOFT CLEMENT Participant of the participant o here servenced to te their airsence. Iy Souce the Sa-pas been consider Anton Reidel, who is malin Rocierdan. aded those of its Arabitan or oil sales The prosecution been bought to thing keyers and been duke alleged on...

-